

"Rum Row" Along Coast Doomed

PLANNING BOARD WOULD BRIDGE CONCORD RIVER TO RELIEVE TRAFFIC CONGESTION

ANGLO-AMERICAN TREATY TO CURB RUM-RUNNING ALONG THE ATLANTIC COAST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—There is every expectation here that the arrangement to curb rum-running as worked out in London on the basis of suggestions made by Secretary Hughes will meet with the approval of the Washington government and that similar agreements will be made later with the other maritime powers. Lacking advice regarding the exact terms of the treaty draft as it has been modified during the London discussions, officials are withholding formal comment although they appear to believe on the basis of news dispatches that Mr. Hughes' proposals virtually have been accepted without any change in principle.

As a result of the Anglo-American treaty and others of a similar character which the administration hopes to have ready for senate approval at the coming session of congress, "Rum Row" along the Atlantic coast is believed certain to disappear or at least to be pushed back to a distance that will make communication with the shore very difficult. The other maritime nations were approached on the subject at the same time that the proposal went forward to Great Britain and there have been intimations that most of them would follow the course of action decided on at London.

MEN CHARGED WITH SETTING FIRE IN WHICH SIX PERISHED INDICTED FOR FIRST DEGREE MURDER

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—First degree murder indictments were returned by a grand jury in Brooklyn today, charging William Ford and Raymond Anderson with having set a fire on Oct. 15 in which six men and women perished, including Ford's father-in-law, George Keim, a playwright. Two indictments, both charging first degree murder, were returned against both men. In one they were charged with slaying Keim. In the other, they were accused of killing Marjorie Andrews, 14 years old, daughter of Mrs. Irma Andrews, owner of the burned building. Ford and Anderson pleaded not guilty.

NO ADVANCE HERE IN THE PRICE OF MILK

The winter price of pasteurized milk in greater Lowell—milk now retailed and delivered for 14 cents per quart—will not be advanced for at least two weeks to come, and perhaps not even then.

All bets are off on prophesied higher-priced milk for Lowell consumers starting tomorrow, Nov. 1. That does not mean that the "marketing committee" maintaining retail prices in Lowell and vicinity for the time being, will not eventually advance prices, but it will take more enthusiasm to put it over than was evident at last night's meeting of the committee, whose members went home and to bed at a late hour without any agreement on future prices and the situation remaining just so-so for the time being.

A member of the Lowell "marketing committee" said this morning that he expected another meeting of the "Big Ten" in about two weeks—along about Nov. 15—and then there might be a price advance—perhaps a small one, but at least a higher retail price for the winter months. The wholesale milk price is 12 cents per quart at the big wholesale stations.

FISHERMEN'S RACE IS AGAIN POSTPONED

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 31.—The second race for the international fishermen's trophy was called off today when with the defender Blunose and challenger Columbia 16 miles from the finish, it was evident that the race could not be finished within the time limit of six hours. The Columbia had led for the greater part of the distance in a light wind.

AND THE BOY DID NOT TESTIFY

During the trial of a liquor case in district court this morning, counsel for the defendant introduced as a material witness, a seven-year-old youth.

Before taking the witness stand, Judge Enright called the boy to his side and asked him if he goes to Sunday school.

"Yes sir," replied the boy.

"Then you know what happens to little boys who tell lies, don't you?" asked the judge.

There was a few moments' silence. The boy hesitated, but did not answer. Instead he burst into tears.

He did not testify.

Affidavits Bordering on the Sensational Promised at Atlanta, Ga., Today

Receivership for the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan Sought

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 31.—Affidavits bording on the sensational are promised in today's hearing of the case of David M. Rittenhouse of Philadelphia and others seeking a receivership for the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. No statement as to what the affidavits contain was available before court reconvened, but it was understood internal strife in the Klan would be bared.

The plaintiffs intimate they expect a strong counter-attack from the present

MARY AND DOUG TO SUE MOVIE MAGAZINE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—A court battle to stop alleged malicious and unfounded stories about men and women in the motion picture industry is expected to be started in New York today as the result of instructions Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks last night announced they had telegraphed to attorneys in that city.

Their eastern attorneys, they said, were ordered to begin suit immediately against a film magazine which is alleged to have published a report that Evelyn Brent, Mr. Fairbanks' former leading lady, had caused the estrangement of Miss Pickford and her husband.

CITY SOLICITOR PREPARING FOR HEARING ON INCREASED PRICE OF COMMUTATION TICKETS

City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds is gathering data to aid him in appearing for the city before the department of public utilities next Monday at a hearing on the proposal of the Boston & Maine to increase the rate of commutation tickets for students and business men. For the city he will oppose the proposition.

In preparation he has written all Boston schools asking for the number

MR. CAMERON WILL NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

Donald M. Cameron, councillor from ward 2, announced today he will not seek re-election this fall. For this week or more this question, he now settles by his own declaration, has been the subject of much conjecture in political circles, for he was practically sure of re-election in his ward if he cared to enter the field.

His withdrawal opens the field to a number of potential candidates in that district who held off pending the councillor's decision. Two or three prominently mentioned are Edward Appleton, councillor-at-large in 1922, David Ziskind and Louis J. Lord and their announcements are momentarily expected. Louis W. Richards and Elliott Katz already are in the fight in that ward and have filed their nomination papers.

In announcing his withdrawal from the contest Councillor Cameron offered no reason and was not willing to make any statement regarding a possibility of becoming a mayoralty candidate one year hence. Asked point blank if he entertains mayoralty aspirations, his reply was:

"Next year is a long way off and I haven't any idea what my feelings will be at that time."

This Councillor Cameron's second year in the council, having first served in 1922 under the special form of charter.

Louis J. Lord entered the ward 2 fight this noon and with him appeared another candidate from that district, Charles P. Flanagan, 50 Cambridge street.

The fifth school committee candidate also appeared today in the person of John de la Parra, dentist, of 805 Broadway. Nomination papers filed today include those of William F. Shea, ward 4, and Frank J. Hubin, ward 1.

Mystery Surrounding the Morehouse Parish Kidnaping Cases is Deepened

Pathologist Says Mutilated Bodies of Daniel and Richard in Water But 48 Hours

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—Mystery surrounding the Morehouse parish kidnaping cases is deepened by a story published today in the Times-Picayune in which Dr. Charles W. Duval, pathologist, who conducted autopsies on the mutilated bodies taken from Lake Lafourche last December and identified as those of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard, who were kidnapped by a hooded band on Aug. 24, 1922, was declared to have told the newspaper last night that the bodies could not have been in the water more than 48 hours, if that long.

FISHERMAN SWEEPED TO HIS DEATH

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 31.—The loss of one fisherman, swept overboard by a heavy sea, another accident in a day, and the rescue of two others, who had been shut off by fog from their vessel, were reported today by fishing schooners caught in the storm late yesterday off Jeffries' Ledge, about 30 miles outside Portland Lightship. Raymond Bouche, 24, one of three brothers from Nova Scotia on the New Dawn, lost his life while assisting his brother Edgar at the wheel. His hands were torn from the spokes by a mass of water which swept the deck, but his wrist was grasped by his brother, who clung to the wheel with his other hand. Another strong sea loosened his grasp and he saw Raymond carried over the side.

DISPOSITION OF THE NESMITH FUND CASE

A hearing upon the final disposition of the Nesmith fund case will be held before a single justice of the supreme court on Tuesday, November 6, at which time, it is expected, a final decree will issue providing for the re-establishment of the principal of the fund, amounting to $25,000 and the paying of interest by the city at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent. from March, 1918, to the date of restoration.

LICENSE COMMISSION

The regular weekly meeting of the license commission was held last night in its rooms in the police station building. The license of Eva Cote to conduct a lodging house at 21-23 Kirk street was suspended for one month on a complaint from the police and after she had been granted a hearing. The license of Charles Slinhos to conduct a coffee house at 51 Summer street was revoked following the receipt of a complaint from the police. It was alleged that a number of persons had been arrested there for gambling although the proprietor was not among those arrested. Hearings on several other licenses where the police had lodged complaints were called but were postponed until the next meeting either on request of counsel for the licensees or of the police department.

ADD FUEL TO FLAMES

Bill to Make Philippines Permanent and Integral Part of United States

MANILA, Oct. 31. (By the Associated Press.)—Additional fuel has been added to the political flames here by a cablegram received from Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, by the publisher of the Manila Times, predicting that a bill would be introduced at the next session of congress making the Philippines a permanent and integral part of the United States.

Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate and an active exponent of independence, in commenting on Senator Walsh's cablegram, said he did not believe the American administration would sponsor or approve such a bill. The contemplated measure, he declared, would obviously enslave the promised aid by congress of set forth in the Jones law, pledging ultimate independence for the Philippines.

SUMMARY OF EARLY MORNING A. P. NEWS

Governor Pinchot describes Secretary Mellon's defense of federal prohibition system as "a defense of things as they are," and says what is needed is not a defense of present wrongs but the determination to stop such wrongs.

New Orleans Times-Picayune quotes pathologists as declaring it is their belief that mutilated bodies found in lake and identified as Watt, Daniel and T. P. Richard, were not in the water more than 48 hours, but that pathologists had no doubt that bodies were those of Daniel and Richard.

Lloyd George tells Philadelphians that independence Hall recalls to men of his land memories that are not wholly pleasant, but that it is good to be reminded of these incidents.

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford announce at Los Angeles that they have ordered suit against Eastern Motion Picture Magazine, which recently printed report that they had quarrelled because of another woman.

New York organizations join in protest against methods employed in submission of tickets for Lloyd George's farewell address at Metropolitan Opera House.

Superintendent of Pittsburgh schools denies statement of children's service bureau official, that spooning and petting parties in Pittsburgh high schools have reached "scandalous proportions."

Dempsey's profits from Firpo bout have given him and Jack Kearns full title to large Los Angeles apartment house, building firm that handled the deal declares.

Head of Associated Dress Industries at Chicago says Paris may have knee length skirts but that American women of good taste will avoid them.

Yellow Cab issues shrink in value $8,450,000 on Chicago stock exchange yesterday.

C. W. Hockenberger, Rochester, N. Y. lumberman, former All-American football tackle, dies at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Berlin government views political situation growing out of Saxony conflict as improved, but Bavarian outlook is more involved, late despatches indicate.

King George praises Mr. Bonar Law as capable counsellor and devoted friend.

Portuguese cabinet, headed by Antonio Silva as premier, resigns.

TOTAL OF $13,468.02 IN Y. W. C. A. DRIVE

The Y.W.C.A. fund drive ended with a supper for team workers in Kilton hall last night presided over by Mrs. S. H. Thompson. A total of $13,468.02 was reported raised with several prospective donors yet to be heard from. The prize for best attendance during the week was awarded the team headed by Mrs. Walter Moxey with the team of Mrs. David Dwyer, a close second. Mr. George M. Ward was the speaker of the evening and congratulated the workers on the results obtained through their efforts.

WOULD DEFEAT PURPOSE OF TRANSPORTATION ACT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The limitation of railroad security holders to a return of 6 per cent. Alvin W. Kreech, chairman of the board of the Equitable Trust Co. of New York, told the Investment Bankers' Association of America, last night, "will, in my opinion, if unchanged, defeat the primary purpose of the transportation act."

"In view of the hazards to which capital invested in the railroads is subjected," he said, "this limitation, if unchanged, will, in my opinion, check and ultimately prevent the flow of new capital into railroads, except at the expense of the existing investment in those properties. An opportunity to retain for its own use not more than 6 per cent. does not, under conditions as they now exist, or as they are likely to exist for some period to come, justify us in selling to the public shares of stock in existing railroad enterprises he sold at par on a 6 per cent. basis."

FUNERALS

BEGIN—The funeral of Benjamin J. Begin took place yesterday afternoon. The procession, headed by an automobile filled with beautiful flowers, left the home, 477 Moody street, and proceeded to St. Jean Baptiste church, where a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. J. A. Graton, O.M.I., as deacon and by Rev. Alphonse Archambault, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. The church was filled with mourning friends and relatives. An augmented choir under the direction of Rodolphe R. Pepin, the organist, sang "Miserere" and the mass being sustained by Dr. C. G. Gosselin, Arthur J. Levesque, William J. Levesque, Mrs. H. A. Archambault, Mrs. Maria Jacques and Mr. Pepin. The bearers were Charles Berin, Omer Descheneaux, Arthur Giroux and Daniel Polier. Attending the funeral from out-of-town were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Berin, Charles Berin, Joseph Berin, all of Lewiston, Me.; Mrs. Desire Roy of Lambton, P. Q.; Mrs. Louis Aude of St. Cecile, P. Q.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerrold of Bristol, N. H.; Alex. Landolf of Portland, Me.; Edward Germain, Mrs. Alphonse Hebert and Miss Lauretta Hebert of Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Labrecque, Albert Labrecque, Mrs. Germain, Mrs. August Labrecque, Mrs. H. A. Labrecque, Miss Alice Labrecque, of Ashua, N. H., and Miss Anna Poiroux of Cambridge. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the prayers were read by Rev. MURDOCK—The funeral of Mrs. Mary (Duffy) Murdock, widow of David Murdock, took place this morning at 9 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. John J. Dillon, 154 Grand street, and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where, at 9:30 o'clock, a funeral high mass was sung by Rev. John Monahan. The choir, under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly, rendered the Gregorian chant, the solo being sustained by Miss Mary Ryne and Mr. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quigley presiding at the organ, where, during the offertory, floral tributes and spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Daniel Murdock, Joseph Dillon, Bertram Dillon and George Daniel. At the grave, Rev. Father Monahan read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James E. O'Donnell & Sons.

KIERCE—The funeral of the late Patrick J. Kierce took place this morning at 10 o'clock from 14 Hildland street, and proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 10:30 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Daniel J. Heenan. The choir, under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly, rendered the Gregorian mass, the solo being sustained by Miss Mary Ryne and Mr. James Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quigley presiding at the organ. There were several floral and spiritual offerings. The bearers were John Kuhn, John Morrison of Manchester, N. H., Patrick J. Murphy, Frank Riley

SEVERE RAIN STORM HITS HONG KONG

HONG KONG, Oct. 31 (by the Associated Press).—One of the heaviest rain storms in the history of Hong Kong—11 inches falling between 11 o'clock yesterday morning and 5:30 this morning—has caused considerable damage. The force of the water lifted up large portions of macadamized roadways and large quantities of earth and sand were washed down from the hillsides and deposited on the pavements. The ground floors of many city offices were flooded. Minor landslides have been reported from various parts of the island. The vault of the International bank was flooded.

DEATHS

DESCOUEUX—Mrs. Elmiro Parent Descoqueux, wife of the late Alexander Descoqueux, died Sunday night at Somerville at the age of 80 years, 8 months and 27 days. She leaves to mourn her loss, three daughters, Mrs. Henry Chandonnet, Mrs. Omer Duhamme, Mrs. Harris Bacon; two sisters, Mrs. Xavier Descoqueux of Fitchburg, Mass. and Miss Josephine Parent of Three Rivers, Canada; and also one stepson Xavier Descoqueux, 25 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

HICKEY—Mrs. Ellen Hickey, a well known and highly respected member of St. Patrick's parish, died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Powers, 271 Fletcher street, at the age of 80 years. She was a native of St. Patrick's church, being an attendant since she came to this country over 40 years ago. She leaves several nieces and nephews, and grandchildren and great grandchildren. She was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis.

ARMSTRONG—Bedros Artinian, a former resident of this city, died Monday in Worcester, aged 27 years, 8 months and 20 days. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Artinian, and a son, John, of 51 John street, this city. The body was brought to this city for services and burial.

LYONS—The body of Thomas Lyons, who died in Detroit last Saturday, the report of whose death was given in The Sun Monday evening, arrived in Lowell last night and was taken to the home of his wife, Mrs. Lyons, 30 Clara street, by Undertakers Charles H. Mulloy & Sons.

and William Craig. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery where the final prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Linehan. The arrangements were under the direction of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

DESCOUEUX—The funeral of the late Elmiro Parent Descoqueux took place this morning from the home of the funeral director Joseph Albert High funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. Louis Graton, O.M.I. The choir, under the direction of Rodolphe R. Pepin, sang the Gregorian mass, the solo being sustained by Miss Mary Ryne and Mr. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quigley presiding at the organ. There were several floral and spiritual offerings. The bearers were John Kuhn, John Morrison of Manchester, N. H., Patrick J. Murphy, Frank Riley

MULLANE—The funeral of the late Jeremiah Mullane took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock from his late home, 10 Linden street, and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 10 o'clock a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Francis L. Shea. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, the solo being sustained by Miss Mary Ryne and Mr. James Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quigley presiding at the organ. The mass was largely attended by many friends. The following delegation from the Matthews Temperance Institute attended the funeral: John O'Brien, John Roach, John Lynch, William Riley, Herbert Nugent and Walter Quinn. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the final prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Shea, assisted by Rev. Fr. Linehan. The arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

THAT the bodies were taken from a St. Louis medical school to Morehouse and placed in the lake, has been charged by Captain J. K. Skidwith, exalted cyclone of the parish. Dr. Duval made his statement when he was asked by the newspaper regarding the testimony given yesterday in Atlanta in the Ku Klux Klan re-employment suit that an investigator who visited Morehouse parish had said that the bodies identified as those of Richard and Daniel had been "spread-eagled" on a log wagon and their heads thus crushed off. Dr. Duval said such a procedure might lead to the bodies identified as those have crushed the victims' heads or mangled off their feet, but could not have been the method by which their bones from head to foot had been symmetrically broken at about four inch intervals.

GARY MAKES DENIAL

No Desire to Be Discourteous at Any Time, Especially to a Woman

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, today emphatically but courteously denied any implied discourtesy to a young woman who, last Monday, accented him in Wall street and tried to hand him a pamphlet in which financial leaders' salaries were compared with those of their clerks.

The young woman, who represented the union of bookkeepers, stenographers and accountants, which is seeking to unionize the "white collar workers" of the financial district, had complained that Mr. Gary had unceremoniously brushed her aside.

"I hadn't the slightest idea of what the young woman wanted," Mr. Gary explained. "She startled me and I put up my hand to ward her off. Had I known she wanted to hand me a pamphlet, I certainly would have taken it and I would have read it with interest, too. I have no desire to be discourteous at any time, especially to a woman."

FUNERAL NOTICES

CAMPBELL—The funeral of William Campbell will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from 5 Beech street at 2 o'clock. At St. Michael's church services will be read at 3 o'clock. On Friday morning a high mass of requiem will be celebrated at 9:15 o'clock, for the repose of his soul. Friends invited. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery, in charge of Undertaker William A. Mack.

HICKEY—The funeral of Ellen Hickey, a well known member of St. Patrick's parish, will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Powers, 271 Fletcher street. A funeral high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Funeral arrangements in charge of Charles H. Mulloy & Sons.

LYONS—The funeral of Thomas Lyons, a World War veteran, who died in Detroit, will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of his wife, Mrs. Lyons, 30 Clara street. A funeral high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Funeral arrangements will be in charge of Charles H. Mulloy & Sons.

PERIN—Died Oct. 29 at the home of his parents, 151 Princeton street, Mary Perin, beloved daughter of John E. and Nora A. (McDonnelly) Perin. The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the home, and the burial will be in Calvary cemetery, Ponape, N. H., under the direction of Undertakers James E. O'Donnell & Sons.

Bodies in Water But 48 Hours

stated, had been corroborated by Dr. John A. Lanford, pathologist of Tulane university, who assisted Dr. Duval with the autopsies. The newspaper quoted both pathologists as saying that in their opinions, the bodies were those of the kidnapped men.

Governor Parker of Louisiana reportedly has stated that the Morehouse parish Ku Klux Klan was responsible for the kidnapping and alleged murder of Daniel and Richard, while members of the Morehouse Klan organization have charged that the bodies found in the lake were not those of the Morehouse men, but that they were "planted" there shortly before discovered in order to fasten the crime upon the Klan.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Gorham Street Store Keeper Fined and Sentenced for Illegal Keeping

There was a small variety of cases in district court this morning, the usual long list of auto cases being conspicuous by their absence.

Stanislaus Kapala, already on probation for non-support, appeared on a charge of drunkenness, and was continued until June 12 on condition that he stop drinking and contribute to the support of his wife and family.

Santa Faro of 327 Merrimack street, Lawrence, charged with operating an automobile in a manner to endanger the lives of the public, was continued until Nov. 7. He was the operator of a machine which struck and slightly injured Officer James B. Garrity at the corner of Appleton and South streets last night. The officer was forced to give up his work on account of injuries to his legs.

Joseph Roditaille was fined $10 for unlawfully having a pheasant in his possession.

Leo Donnelly was continued in $400 until next Friday on charges of unlawfully using an automobile belonging to Amodeo Caron and another one belonging to the city of Lowell.

Agent Sullivan in Town Again

A search of a Gorham street fruit store yesterday afternoon by Officers Leavie, Liston, Maloney and Federal Agent Sullivan, the latter recently returned from a federal duty in New Jersey, resulted in the seizure of several Caracaras for illegal keeping. About 50 pint bottles and several quart bottles of alleged moonshine, were seized on the premises and taken as evidence. To await analysis of the seized liquor, the case was continued until Nov. 10.

Frank Silva, pleaded not guilty to illegal keeping of a gun, and the goods found in his Gorham street store were left there by a seven-year-old boy a few minutes before Officers Winn, Conney and Moore of the liquor squad arrived. Witnesses stated that the boy found the bottles in an adjoining alley and took them to Silva's store with the intention of selling them.

"It's surprising the schemes these people get up," commented Judge Barlett in remarking on the story of the boy. He forthwith found defendant guilty and ordered him, in view of a previous offense of the same nature, to pay a fine of $150 and be committed to the house of correction for three months. On appeal, bonds were fixed at $300 for Silva's appearance in superior court.

CALEY GOES TO NEW HAVEN FOR FORGERY

Frank S. Caley, the youth who appropriated a contribution box belonging to the Lowell guild during a recently conducted tag day in this city, and who was subsequently found guilty of larceny in district court, was turned over to the New Haven authorities this morning, as he is wanted in that city for forgery.

Bare Internal Strife in Klan

Klan administration when the defendants side is heard.

A description of how Walter Daniel and T. P. Richard, Mer Rouge, La. citizens, the state of Louisiana charged, were killed by a hooded band, met their fate of a Ku Klux Klan educational campaign in Oklahoma and of activities of the Klan in connection with the experts hearing, investigating the death of Daniel and Richard at Bastrop, La., were read yesterday from depositions signed by former Klan investigators and Dr. H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan. Dr. Evans told of the Oklahoma incident.

Another development was publication of a letter written by E. S. Clarke, imperial giant of the Klan, and formerly imperial wizard pro tem, pending the elections of Dr. Evans, Clarke charged his life was threatened and "his reputation at stake," in declining to call a meeting of an important Klan committee of which he is chairman. He further alleged a national conspiracy within the Klan to defame him.

Dr. Evans declared that the Klan believed an anti-fleeing law should be passed in Oklahoma, and said it was the desire of the officials of the Klan to stamp out that sort of lawlessness, which he said had been a campaign planned in Oklahoma. The imperial wizard said it was to have been a speaking campaign. He said there was to have been no campaign against Gov. Walton in connection with Dr. Evans, denied knowledge of money furnished the Klan in Oklahoma but said it "helped" it, it probably was furnished them in such amounts as were necessary.

WHEN BACK HURTS FLUSH OUT KIDNEYS

Drink Lots of Good Water All Day, Also Take Salts Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood, in 24 hours the strain from it 500 grains of acid waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. If the kidneys are inactive, you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, does not injure, makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and a free flow. This also keeps on the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. It all can change your mind against your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

ARRIVAL OF THE SISTINE CHAPEL CHOIR

The choir from the Sistine Chapel, Mer. Antonio Rella, conductor, arrived in Lowell shortly before 10 o'clock this morning in special Pullmans. They were met at the depot by a delegation from Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus, headed by Grand Knight, and Frank A. Graves. Other members of the choir went immediately to St. Patrick's church, where they said mass. Breakfast was served in the Richardson hotel. The Knights of Columbus rooms were thrown open to the visitors for the day and time for the choir will go to Portland, Me., thence to Montreal, Quebec, and Toronto.

The choir assembled at the Audinton for a rehearsal this noon under Monsignor Rella. There are 53 voices, ranging in age from 10 to 53 years. The choir will give ten numbers tonight, the same program as given last night in Providence. Monsignor Rella stated this noon that the choir was warmly received in Providence and obliged to encure three numbers several times.

FELL FROM WAGON—A Mrs. Kokette of Trull road, North Tewksbury, fell from a wagon on which she was riding at 12:30 o'clock today and injured her leg. A passing automobilist brought her to St. John's hospital, where it was found that her injuries were of a minor nature.

Big Year for Backfield Stars

BY BILLY EVANS

In a season that already has produced much sensational football and promises more, a goodly number of backfield stars have been uncovered. The open game calls for much more from the backfield men and the coaches are evidently dwelling on this feature of play.

In playing up the sensational performance of the backfield stars, the work of the forwards is often entirely overlooked. The man carrying the ball always gets the big job of glory. However, with a weak line, the fastest set of backfield men are helpless. As Coach Kipke of the Notre Dame points it, a great team must have the line as well as the backs.

TALK ON PREPARATION FOR HIGH SCHOOL

"Preparation for High School" will be the topic discussed by Henry H. Harris, headmaster of the high school, who will address the Parent-Teacher association of the Greenhale school on Thursday afternoon of this week at 3.30 o'clock.

An interesting program including musical numbers by Horatio B. Leggat, and a pupil of Mrs. Ella Reilly Toys will be given. Refreshments are to be served by the social committee. On Thursday, Dec. 6, Burr Jones will speak on "Problems and Progress of Education," and on January 4, Carl S. Schrader, supervisor of physical education for Massachusetts, will address the association. The Greenhale Parent-Teacher association cordially invites the public to these lectures.

ANNUAL REUNION OF ST. COLUMBA'S PARISH

Tentative plans for the annual reunion of St. Columba's parish were formulated at an enthusiastic meeting held in the parish hall last night. The reunion will take place some time in January.

Andrew Molloy was named chairman and general manager of the committee to supervise arrangements and William Flannery was chosen as secretary. A number of sub-committees, the membership of many of which will later be augmented, were also chosen in connection with the plans for the reunion.

A second meeting to consider plans for the reunion will take place at the parish hall on next Monday evening and at this session the first definite plans of procedure will be decided upon.

MAINE MAN TALKS ON AIMS OF KU KLUX KLAN

It is reported that a few less than 100 men attended a meeting in Odd Fellows hall last night, addressed by an out-of-town speaker, said to be from Maine. Admission was by ticket only and the speaker gave his views as to the aims and purposes of the Ku Klux Klan. Many questions were asked him but it is understood that no definite answers or explanations were forthcoming and no definite organization is believed to have been formed at the meeting.

The fact that such a meeting was to be held was kept a secret by those in back of it and few folks except those receiving cards knew of the meeting at all.

Two years ago is certain to be selected as a member of the American Olympic team to go to Paris.

Bowman has already shown his heels to several Syracuse rivals. In the game with Hiram he ran for 65 yards for a touchdown. On the very first play of the William and Mary game he grabbed the kickoff while standing directly under the Syracuse goal and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. Not an opposing player came even close to touching him.

Run Length of Field

The report is that a football fan who is a great admirer of Bowman held a stopwatch on him as he made the length of the field run against the William and Mary eleven. He covered the distance in 11 seconds flat, which is remarkable when you take into consideration that he wore heavy football togs and cleated shoes.

Bowman can do other things than merely run. He excels at tossing forward passes and is a fine punter. When Zimmerman, the star Syracuse punter, is on the sidelines, Bowman is called upon to do the toe work.

In the open game of football, more is demanded of a backfield star. To win a place as one of the outstanding figures in the football world, a backfield player must be a "triple-threat" man, able to run, kick and pass.

Wilson Real Star

Notre Dame boasts two remarkable halfbacks in Don Miller and Crowley. Michigan has Kipke. Harvard has Cheek and Hammond. Penn State has Wilson and so on down the line. Practically every big eleven has one or more backfield stars.

Skin trouble costs many a man his job

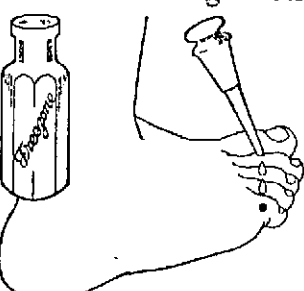

No matter how efficient a man may be, if he has an ugly skin-eruption, there are positions in which he cannot be tolerated. He may know that it is not in the least contagious, but other people are afraid and avoid him, and he must make way for a man with a clear, healthy skin. Why run this risk, when

Sensational Developments Expected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The purchase of the site for a proposed tuberculosis hospital at Livermore, Cal., formed the subject matter of inquiry today by the senate committee investigating the Veterans' Bureau. Charges of a rather startling character regarding this transaction already have been made before the committee but even more sensational developments are forecast.

Man of 91 Weds Spinster of 88

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Robert Broom, 91, and a widow and Elizabeth Bolt, 88, and a spinster, were married yesterday at Forest Gate, East London. Both were so feeble that they were obliged to sit during the ceremony, which was curtailed in consideration of their weakness. They signed the register with trembling hands.

Law to Be Buried in Westminster Abbey

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press) The body of Andrew Bonar Law, the former prime minister, will be buried in Westminster Abbey at noon next Monday.

Women are Different

Woman's sensibilities are finer, her enthusiasms deeper, than man's. She overworks, overplays, "lives on her nerves," is nearly always constipated—and suffers! Women need Beecham's Pills. They bring roses to cheeks, sparkle to eyes, quiet to nerves, by stimulating healthy digestion and regular, complete elimination. (See Booklet.)

CITY COUNCIL MEETS TO DRAW JURORS

The city council met in special session last night for the purpose of drawing jurors for the present session of the superior civil court now sitting in this city. Routine petitions before the body also were disposed of and the docks were cleared for action so as to allow plenty of time for the several hearings scheduled for that time.

Councillor Hennessey drew the following names for jury duty:

Horace H. Kittredge, 34 Third avenue.
Michael A. Lee, 64 Bartlett street.
Martin Ruck, 15 Shaffer street.
Joseph N. Gosselin, 54 Moody st.
John J. King, 329 Concord street.
James E. McLaughlin, 338 Central street.

Among favorable reports from the board of public service acted upon was the passage of an order covering the installation of six lights in Lundberg st. in the vicinity of the new bridge. Orders recommending the installation of spot lights for traffic posts and additional lights in the rear of the police station, both of which were proposed by Councillor Lambert were passed.

A petition was received requesting that no restrictions be placed upon Nesmith street. It was filed inasmuch as no petition has been received to restrict traffic in that street. Lowell Post, American Legion, requested the renaming of squares and street intersections in honor of Lowell soldiers who died in France as follows: Eugene A. Tannay square, junction of East Tremont, Alder and Nesmith streets; Raymond E. Chappell square, junction of Nesmith and Rogers streets; Richard Corbett square, junction of Pond and Pleasant streets. Referred to board of public service.

Councillor Lambert brought up the question of the maintenance of a temporary sidewalk in front of construction now going on in Middlesex st. opposite Odd Fellows building and on his motion the clerk was authorized to write the board of public service to this effect. Adjourned 9.55 o'clock.

NOTRE DAME ALUMNAE EXECUTIVE BOARD

The executive board of the Lowell Notre Dame Alumnae held a meeting at the Academy of Notre Dame yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Mrs. Alice Saunders, president, in the chair. Several routine matters were disposed of. Among the affairs up for discussion were the advisability of holding various social events during the year and also the holding of a grand top concert New Year eve. Although it is not officially known whether the Memorial Auditorium will be available on the above-mentioned date, it was deemed advisable to hold the concert there if arrangements can be made. The following committee was appointed to visit the Auditorium and ascertain the adaptability of the Auditorium for the occasion: Mrs. Alice Saunders, Mrs. Marie O'Donnell, Miss Georgiana Paquette, Miss Carmen Rediker, Miss Annie Devine, Miss Elizabeth O'Brien and Miss Annie Louveau.

ADDRESS AT ALL SOULS' PARISH HOUSE

Dr. A. Warren Stearns, of Billerica, consulting expert at the Psychopathic hospital in Boston, addressed about 50 members of the All Souls' Alliance at the All Souls' parish house yesterday afternoon on "Potentiating Factors in Conduct."

Dr. Stearns touched upon the theories that these factors are claimed by some to be hereditary and by others to be results of environment. He would not say which he thought were the cause, but did draw illustrations substantiating both claims. He also touched upon the Darwinian theory and showed how the human expressions are consistent in many instances with those of wild beasts.

Dr. Stearns was given a vote of thanks at the conclusion of his address, which was warmly appreciated. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Adele Staples.

Keeping Millions Free From Colds and La GrippeW. H. HILL'S LIFE WORK

Colds cause more illness than any other human ailment. Realizing this 50 years ago, W. H. Hill determined to develop a quick-acting scientifically correct cold and la grippe remedy.

Years of research brought success. Mr. Hill discovered a most remarkable formula. He backed it with energy, faith, integrity and a name that meant "satisfaction or money back."

Today more than 4,000,000 families—one-fifth of America's population—use and recommend Hill's Cascade Bromide Quinine.

The formula has never been changed in a quarter century. What Hill has done for millions, it can do for you. Demand red box bearing Mr. Hill's portrait. All druggists, 30 cents.

Don't Be Weak, Tired, Worn Out Before the Day's Work is Done!

No matter how much brains you have, you can't do your best unless you feel your best—every minute of the day. And you can't feel your best when sleep, hunger, fatigue, and you get up for work feeling dull and tired—so worn out by the middle of the afternoon that you are nervous and feel like dropping down on a bed, often your digestion isn't like it used to be and you don't get the full nourishment from your meals. You are using up more strength and energy than you are replacing and unless you take better care of yourself a break-down is almost sure to follow.

Thinner's after the next few meals and notice the quick difference in the way you eat, sleep, look and feel. Let this wholesome, vegetable tonic help you win back a hearty appetite, to improve digestion, to tone the tired and overtaxed nerves, to gently correct constipation and send pure, healthier blood coursing through the veins and restore strength, energy and vigor.

Go to battle in the way you normally fight! Unless you are completely satisfied druggists are authorized to refund the small cost. Dr. Thinner's is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store, Frye & Crawford Drug Co., A. W. Brown & Co., Noonan the druggist and at leading druggists in every town and city.—Adv.

BROKE COLLAR BONE IN AUTO CRASH

The heavy rainfall last evening was the probable cause of a rear-end crash on State street in Wilmington between two auto trucks owned by the Prior Transportation Co. of Boston, as a result of which John Falvey, a chauffeur on one of the trucks, was removed to St. John's hospital suffering from a broken collar bone.

Both trucks were proceeding towards Lowell, Falvey driving his as a trailer. Falvey failed to notice the leading truck slow down and crashed into it. He said that the heavy rain made it impossible for him to have a clear vision.

Ex-Crown Prince to Return to Germany

DOORN, Holland, Oct. 31.—Former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Prussia, it is learned authoritatively, has asked permission of the Dutch government to return to Germany. Holland does not object, but would not allow the prince to return again to this country. According to reliable sources Friedrich Wilhelm has conferred with the German minister at The Hague in regard to his return.

OUT OUR WAY

FOR SOME REASON OR OTHER, THE OLD CROSSING WATCHMAN HAS DECIDED TO TAKE HIS SHANTY HOME WITH HIM TONIGHT.

HELD SUCCESSFUL WHIST AND MUSICALS

The Ladies' Sodality of the Notre Dame de Lourdes parish gave a most successful whist and musicale Monday evening in the Notre Dame de Lourdes parish house in East Pine street.

The hall had been tastefully decorated for the occasion with Halloween decorations, a few witches here and there, along with the green eyed cat to give it color. Many of the young people of the parish who attended the affair came garbed in original Halloween attire and added greatly to the success of the affair.

After a set of lifts had been played in the game of whist by the hundreds present, the floor was cleared and the final drawing for the statue of the death of St. Joseph was held with Paul Lambert of 37 Grand street being the winner.

A fine musical program was then carried out including solos and dance numbers by the members of the parish. Recitations and several classical and popular selections were given by the Dion sisters. The program closed with a farce impersonation by Philippe Mella. Games were also played which proved to be as much fun for the participants as for the on-lookers.

The chairman of the various committees in charge of the affair were as follows: Ticket committee, Loretta Michaud; decorating and entertainment committee, Sadie McInnes; refreshment committee, Mary Perron.

BATTERY B TO OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice day will be celebrated in a military manner this year by Battery B, 102nd Field Artillery, as it was last year, with the 2nd Annual Field Day, on Saturday, Nov. 19 from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The city has granted them the South common for this purpose and will have it properly wired off in order that the various maneuvers may be gone through without interference or danger to the crowds of people who will flock there to witness the event.

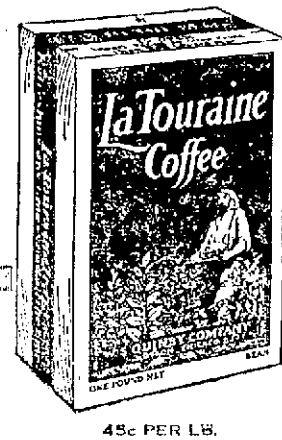

Plans as at present decided upon call for a brilliant flourish in the opening, by having the battery come galloping down the slope on the side of the common, and upon arrival at the bottom of the hill will proceed to unlimber and go into action. Two volleys will be fired at this time, to lend a realistic effect to the maneuvers. There will be machine guns and 75's in the equipment of the battery on this day.

Other plans call for sham battles, with plenty of star shells and signal rockets of the type used "over there." A great deal of exhibition horsemanship is included in the program, with rough and trick riding, hurdling races on horseback, Roman riding in which the members of the battery will ride on 2, 3 and 4 horses at once in a standing position.

A girl who is the graduate of a famous riding school has volunteered her services in a feature to be called the "Race for a Bride." She will in all probability ride the famous horse Teddy, the idea being for 25 or 30 members of the battery to chase her, and the one who catches her must sling her up on his own arm and carry her back in safety to the judges' stand.

The Organized Reserve corps headed by Major Francis J. Toohy, has promised to put on an exhibition novelty in the course of the afternoon. The city is standing the expense of hiring the Reserve corps band for the afternoon, and it has already been signed up.

Invitations have been issued to the following military organizations throughout the city: American Legion, Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Grand Army of the Republic, Disabled Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Co. B and C of the 152nd Infantry.

"It's the Bean"

This Little World

WASHINGTON

BY HARRY B. HUNT,

N.E.A. Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Washington is perking up. Congress will soon be home again. Then things will begin to move; business will improve; social affairs will increase, the old town's wheels will hum.

The coming winter probably will set a new high mark in the number and variety of interests maintaining special organizations in Washington to "keep an eye on legislation." But they're not here simply to watch passively, the way things are moving with the special situations in which they are interested. They're to help the course, so far as may be done, by persuading members to see the signals through their own specially focused binoculars.

In addition to the purely legislative interests which will bring a gathering of the clans when congress yells together again, there will be the extra attraction this winter of the maneuvering for the presidential handicap of 1924. Conferences and conferences, conventions and confabulations, soirees and teas, balls and receptions will unite in making or unmaking legislation, candidacies, reputations and history.

Small wonder, then that the old town perks up as the date for convening congress approaches, that tradesmen are refurbishing and restocking their stores, that hotel-keepers are recounting their tariffs, that caterers and florists, modistes and manicurists are looking ahead to better, busier days!

One of the last rites marking the retirement of Mrs. Warren G. Harding from public life was the delivery, last week, to the Smithsonian Institution of one of the gowns she wore as first lady.

This gown, on a figure representing Mrs. Harding, will be preserved in the historical costume exhibit of the National Museum, where gowns worn by all first ladies, from Martha Washington down, are on display.

WRETCHEDLY NERVOUS WOMAN

Was Depressed and Irritable—Now Well and Always Cheerful

"Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I became so weak, fretful, irritable and excitable that the least thing made my heart flutter and my limbs tremble as though I had a chill. I was utterly unable to control my emotions and a clap of thunder would make me shriek from terror. I finally became so depressed, fidgety and debilitated that I sometimes felt actually ashamed of myself."

I began taking Vincarnis and after a very short time the improvement in my whole condition was really startling. Everyone commented on it. Today my appetite is excellent, I sleep soundly, I am cheerful all the time and have an abundance of energy. I do wish that every nervous or run-down woman could know what a wonderful tonic and restorative Vincarnis is."

SEE RENEWAL OF SMITH-HEARST FIRED IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Politicians today saw a renewal of the feud between Gov. Smith and William Randolph Hearst, in the governor's Tammany Hall speech last night, when he declared that the "editor-politician" was venting his personal spleen against the democratic party because it had refused to countenance his "personal aspirations for high office."

The governor referred to Hearst's support of the republican judiciary ticket in this city. Tammany leaders said that the governor's speech meant a widening of the gulf between Hearst and Tammany.

"Monumental fakery, political or otherwise, have a great time for a little while," said the governor. "When the lights burn for them, they burn very brightly. When the band plays it blares very loudly. While the cheering lasts it is very encouraging."

"But the day of reckoning comes with the cold gray dawn of the morning after the evening. The people realize they have been the victim of a bunco game intended to promote somebody's political and personal ambitions."

"The editor-politician is running true to form, and is venting his personal spleen against the democratic party because it saw fit to throw cold water over his personal aspirations for high political office."

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face. Cull eyes with a sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substance for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by tuning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.—Adv.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI BANQUET

Plans have been completed for the annual banquet to be given by the members of St. Joseph's College Alumni at the college hall on Sunday evening next at 8 o'clock. Already a number of tickets have been sold for the affair and indications point to one of the largest reunions ever held in the college hall.

Mr. Arthur Giroux, president of the association, will preside at the banquet assisted by Joseph Montminy, toastmaster.

Among the prominent men, both in religious and social circles who will address the members are: Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I., Rev. Brother Francis, S.M., director of the college, Rev. J. B. Labossiere, Rev. Leon Lamotho, O.M.I., Mr. Wilfred Calise, Jr., first president of the alumni, and Xavier A. Delisle, postmaster of Lowell. The banquet dinner will be served by Lydon caterers.

The various committees on the affair are as follows: Banquet committee: Messrs. J. A. N. Chretien, Emile Lemire, J. B. Blaissonette, J. B. Richards, H. J. Ducharme, Rev. Lucien Brassard, O.M.I., and Rev. Bro. Francis, S.M.

Checking committee: Messrs. Geo. Marchand, Albert Roux, Raymond Barry and Arthur Lemeroux.

Entertainment committee: Arthur H. Giroux.

Reception committee: Adelaud Lachin, Louis Parent and Arthur Gaudette.

The Massachusetts orchestra will furnish music during the course of the evening.

SEARCH HOSPITALS FOR NASHUA MAN

Lowell hospitals were searched yesterday by relatives of Henry L. Reynolds, 34, of 36 East Pearl street, Nashua, who disappeared from his home Saturday when all preparations had been made for his wedding in Manchester Monday to Miss Alice McDermott. The search proved fruitless.

It is stated that the missing man had about $1000 in his possession when he left home, as he planned on a honeymoon trip to Canada. As there is no cause of explanation to be given for his mysterious absence, foul play is feared.

Reynolds is a well-known ball player in Nashua. He was also a member of the Worcester Eastern league team at one time.

When last seen he wore a blue serge single-breasted suit, a light gray cap and high black shoes. His upper teeth are filled with gold. His arms are tattooed.

During the World war, Reynolds served in the navy, and during service he sustained a severe bump on the head, due to a fall. As he has been troubled with headaches, his relatives think he may have been taken ill Saturday and wandered away.

CORNS

Stop their pain in one minute!

For quick lasting relief from corns, Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads stop the pain in one minute by removing the cause—friction and pressure.

Zino-pads are thin, safe, antiseptic, healing, waterproof and cannot produce infection or any bad after-effects. Three sizes—for corns, callouses and bunions. Cost but a trifle. Get a box today at your druggist's or shoe dealer's.

PAVLOWA IS DANCING BETTER THAN BEFORE

It was Ponce de Leon who sought for the spring of eternal youth, but it appears to be Anna Pavlova who has discovered it. Having stayed away from America all last season, she came back and appeared at the Manhattan Opera House in New York on Monday, Oct. 8, looking lovelier and dancing better than ever before.

"There was the same tremendous outburst of welcome for her as ever," says one critic.

Pavlova and her company of stars will appear in Lowell on Wednesday, Nov. 7th, at the Memorial Auditorium. Her program will be the most attractive one ever offered to a Lowell public.

She will present "Amarilla," a Gypsy ballet, and "The Magic Flute" with five or six diversissements, in two of which Pavlova herself will appear.

Her dances are the interpretations of myths and traditions of the national life of countries she has visited and studied. She interprets stories of heart appeal in a way that is unmistakable and at the same time remarkable for being told in the movements of the dance alone.

Pavlova needs no eulogy. She has led her profession as Napoleon led the generals of the world. The tributes of her American audiences, which have jammed every house in which she has appeared, are an acknowledgment of her peerage, that needs no further praise, that needs no further justification.

Her coming to Lowell promises to be the gem of the concert schedule for the present season, and the demand for tickets is tremendous.

LEGION AUXILIARY INVITED
The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion Post 110, of North Billerica have been most cordially invited to attend the afternoon session of Middlesex North Pomona Grange No. 18 on Friday of this week at 2 o'clock in Odd Fellows hall. This session will be devoted to the work of the American Legion with Commander Stephen Garrity speaker of the afternoon. A fine musical program has been arranged by the local grange and the event promises to be well attended.

Welter Cochrane of San Francisco played good billiards yesterday afternoon when he turned back Roger Conti of France, 500 to 457, after a hard struggle.

Julius Schaefer of Chicago last night won the slowest game played in the history of 15.2 ball league championship tournament when he defeated Edouard Horens of Belgium, 500 to 451. The 15 minutes lasted 4 hours and 5 minutes.

THREE AMERICANS WIN BILLIARD MATCHES

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The three American contestants in the world's 15.2 ball league championship tournament swept through the first three matches without a defeat, each American gaining victory at the expense of an invader from Europe.

Today, however, will bring defeat to one American in the Horens-Cochran match this evening and a victory will be gained by one of the invaders in the Hugenlacher-Conti contest this afternoon.

Ghosts, Games, Apples and Pumpkin Pie

Atmosphere in Decorations

By SISTER MARY

Let the table decorations for your Halloween party be as "rustic" as possible. A large pumpkin, used bowl filled with autumn leaves and nuts and grapes, has the merit of being as inexpensive as it is artistic. If a floral centerpiece is preferred, the same pumpkin bowl will be charming filled with autumn leaves and vines. Light the table with candles and use carefully pressed and lettered oak or maple leaves for place cards.

The candle holders offer a chance for quite a bit of originality. Carrots, turnips, apples, potatoes and cabbages can be carved or hollowed out in the center to form holders for candles. Orange shells can be used for tiny Jack-o'-lanterns. A large jar of golden field corn can be broken in half and the cob cut away at one end to hold a candle.

Little Cost

Bowls of asters, wild ones, and goldenrod with feathery wild elematis, branches of autumn leaves and stalks of corn can be used effectively throughout the house.

Halloween party was held last night in the vestry of the Lawrence Street P. M. church by the Christian Endeavor society, with more than 100 in attendance. The vestry was prettily decorated for the occasion, with autumn foliage and the orange and black.

Halloween games were played and the usual "tricks" were indulged in, with some new features added. The fun commenced when the gathering

Decorations of this sort could be used for almost any sort of a Halloween party. But if you have in mind a party of ghosts and spooks and witches, decorations of black cats and old women of broomsticks will lend an eerie and suggestive touch.

These silhouettes can be purchased at a five and ten-cent store or made at home. Black cardboard paper and a pair of sharp scissors with a paper pattern are the necessary utensils.

Orange and black crepe paper can be fringed and used for shades over the lights, or attractive "transparencies" can be found in the stores. Bats and owls are effective, cut from black paper and used as shields for side lights. The eyes of the owl can be cut out, to let the light shine through, and the wings of the bat's outspread wings and a thin line to mark the shape of his body can be removed with a sharp knife.

Three tiny owls can be pasted to either to form individual holders for nuts or candies.

The broom of an old witch can bear the name of a guest for a place card.

A black cat with a bumped back and a waving tail can conceal a tiny fortune in a bow or red or yellow ribbon tied around his cardboard neck.

Black Cat

If there's a member of the family who is clever with a saw, inveigle him into sawing out some rampant black cats from as strong pieces of wood as he can use. Drive a nail in the very tip of pussy's tail and force a big plumber's candle over the nail. The cats of course should have several coats of glossy black paint. The angle of the legs, the hump of the back and the "wave" of the tail can be made most expressive.

To go back to the table decorations, the luncheon or supper itself can be made so decorative that aside from place cards and a centerpiece, additional favors are unnecessary.

Bright red apple cups filled with candy are most attractive. Golden oranges filled with dessert rival the most expensive molded ice. Jolly little round pumpkin-yellow cakes with a surprise in the center are vastly more fun than the most elaborate of "crack-ers."

surprised last evening when about 25 of her friends tendered her a shower at the home of Mrs. Hugo P. Dick, 564 Wilder street. The house was tastefully arranged in Halloween colors and decorations. Miss Watson was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts and although taken by surprise she responded fittingly. An enjoyable musical program was given by those present followed by a buffet luncheon served by the hostess, Mrs. Hugo P. Dick. Miss Watson is to be the November bride of Mr. Henry Hartman, formerly of Lowell, and now of Thompsonville, Conn.

LOWELL HAS MANY HALLOWEEN PARTIES

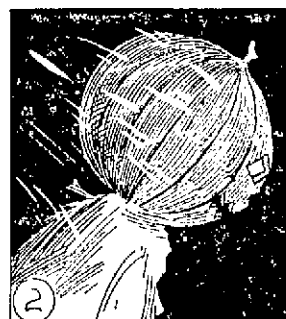

With any number of events for tonight, and almost an equal number having been held last night, Halloween in Lowell seems to have resolved itself into a two-day celebration.

Last night the girls of Page's made merry with their male friends, at Dracut. The Men's club and the De Square combined in a fine time at the Y.M.C.A. The Dracut Grange hall and the Boathouse, Associate and the C.C.A. hall on Middle street all were the scene of gay activities by folk fond of dancing and general merriment.

Tonight Bishop Delany assembly, Fourth Degree, K. of C. will have a fine Halloween party and dance in K. of C. hall, Dutton street. Henry F. Sullivan, Lowell's champion swimmer, will be standard-bearer as the C.Y.M.C. party at Associate; and the firemen will go big in Dracut Grange hall. There are innumerable private parties as there were last night.

And mischievous young America will take over the ruction-raising part of the Halloween program as has been the custom since time immemorial.

TAKEN FROM LIFE

TRYING TO IDENTIFY UNKNOWN WOMAN

William A. Brynn, M.D., superintendent of the Worcester State hospital has sent a letter to the police with photograph enclosed, of a woman of 45 years now being detained at the Worcester institution suffering from a mental illness. She was picked up on the streets of Boston on Sept. 1, is very refined looking and calls herself "Mother." The local police will appreciate any information that might possibly lead to her identification.

Here's No End of Fun for the Evening

THE PHOTO ABOVE ALSO SUGGESTS COSTUMES FOR HALLOWEEN

By SISTER MARY

Halloween usually reveals the "Petter Pan" in all of us. For the old-fashioned games of our ancestors continue to charm and interest.

Apple hobbing, apple paring, nut naming and innumerable simple old tricks are hours of fun and require no great outlay of money.

To bob apples fill a tub or shallow pail with clear water. The tub should not be more than two-thirds full of water. Curve the initials of the girls on fine red apples and place in tub. The men "bob" for the apples, capturing them with their teeth. The initials are those of their future wives.

The apple paring game is played by both men and girls. Each person pares an apple, making the paring as long as possible. This is swung over the head three times and then dropped over the right shoulder. If the paring remains unbroken and forms an initial, the initial is that of the thrower's fate.

Naming nuts is fun when a wood fire burns in a fireplace. Each girl is given three chestnuts. These she names for her three "best buds," so to speak, and as the nuts burn or "pop" so will the lover declare his regard. Some nuts gently burst open with a lovely little pop. This means that the gentleman "will pop the question" in the most approved manner.

Oracles

The Delphic Oracle provides much amusement. Some member of the party should be stationed in a dark corner. Let him stand on a box to increase his height, shroud him in a sheet and let him hold a Jack-o'-lantern on his head. The oracle can answer only yes or no to questions asked her, but the vehemence with which she nods or shakes her head can be very expressive. One of the tin pumpkin lanterns is easier to handle than a real pumpkin.

A gypsy fortune teller in a shock of corn can tell the future by reading palms or cards. She provides a very decorative touch as well as much fun.

And speaking of the decorative touch, there is nothing more effective than cornstalks and autumn leaves and vines simply arranged. Pumpkins and vegetables of all sorts can be used for candle sticks. And as far as possible let the lights be candles.

Ghosts

Ghost stories are always in order for Halloween. These should be told before an open fire if possible, with a cleverly arranged banging shutter or door in some distant part of the house for an eerie accompaniment. If an open fire is out of the question, try this:

Fill a shallow pan two-thirds full of salt. Pour over as much alcohol as the salt will absorb. Light and place in the center of a square of asbestos. Put on the floor or on a table, the guests forming a ring around the blaze.

More Spooks

More than likely the small boys of the neighborhood will quite unconsciously add to the spookiness of the party by tick-tacking the windows and throwing corn at irregular intervals.

A sheet and pillow case party is always fun and most appropriate for Halloween. When everyone is masked the same it's much harder to guess who's who than when the choice of the costume itself often proclaims the masquerader.

The very atmosphere of autumn speaks success for a Halloween party and, with nuts and apples and pumpkin pie and cider during the evening, 10 or 20 young men and girls are sure to have a jolly time in playing informal games.

HALLOWEEN STUFF

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Middlesex Hall in Palmer street, was the scene of a merry gathering this afternoon when about 200 grade school children, belonging to the various clubs affiliated with the Girl Reserve clubs of the international institute, were tendered a Halloween party by the executive board of the institute. Various games were played and a general good time was enjoyed by all present. This evening a party will be given the girls of the young women's divisions of the club. General dancing will be enjoyed following the entertainment program.

ANNUAL HALLOWEEN PARTY

The annual Halloween party of Bishop Delany Assembly, Fourth degree, K. of C. will be held in K. of C. hall, Dutton street, tonight. The event will mark the opening of the fall and winter season of the assembly and bids fair to be a most enjoyable one. Patrons of the party tonight will find a fantastically decorated hall, plenty of favors and the best dance music obtainable. The committee, published in a recent issue of The Sun, has left nothing undone to make the affair successful.

HELD HALLOWEEN SOCIAL

The Sunday school members of the Westminster Presbyterian church held a Halloween social and old fashioned box party in the vestry of the church last night. Albert Johnson auctioned off the lunch boxes and Halloween games were played. Halloween decorations in the vestry lent a captivating atmosphere to the party. The committee in charge of the affair were as follows: Stewart Buchanan, Daniel McDonald, Francis Wright, Emma Fulton, Esther Foss and Eleanor McDonald.

COMMUNITY BAZAAR

The community bazaar being conducted by the parishioners of the Matthews Memorial church in Gorham street, opened last night with an attendance that ran well into the hundreds and proved itself a tremendous success. At 7:30 o'clock the bazaar was opened with a short speech by Mayor John J. Donovan, in which he made clear the purpose of the bazaar and its benefits to the community.

FORWARD—NOT BACKWARD

Textile industries of New England are coming out strongly in favor of going back to the 64-hour week as a means of enabling them to cope with southern competition. They are putting out copious statistics, the purpose of which is to show that unless they can run their factories on the same schedule in force in the south, they will be unable to compete. Arguments in support of this contention are being put out in newspapers and magazines with damaging effect to New England. Their demand is, that we return to conditions similar to those of the south which we left behind thirty years ago. Rather is it necessary to bring the south up to the New England standard with regard to working hours and the abolition of child labor so common in the factories of the south.

Here is one of the statements offered by Kenneth Miller, a textile expert in the employ of Lockwood Greene & Co. of Boston.

In the north today a certain class of cotton goods costs to manufacture 61 cents per pound. The same goods can be manufactured in the south for 52 cents per pound. The market price on these goods is 53 cents per pound. Cotton is high and the market is poor. A 700,000 spindle mill in Massachusetts manufacturing these goods, would lose $275,000 a year. A southern mill on the same goods would earn $75,000 a year. The replacement cost of such a mill would be $6,000,000.

Such a statement as that is a serious detriment to New England. Even if it is true in a special case, it is not applicable to the general lines of goods. Mr. Miller has not pointed out that the American Federation of Labor is already at work organizing the mill operatives of the south, nor has he mentioned the movement for a constitutional amendment that will prohibit child labor and help to equalize the hours of labor. This is the solution to be sought; it is what is demanded by the industrial progress of the time rather than a retrograde movement that would turn back the wheels of progress and relinquish the industrial reforms won after long years of struggle.

A DESPERATE REMEDY

One of the greatest problems hanging like a menacing cloud over old England today, is discussed passionately at some length almost daily in the British press. Many suggestions for relieving the crisis of unemployment, which is reaching the acute stage, have been offered. The situation is widely discussed in other channels of the British dominions. Prompt action on the part of the government is urged by most of the English daily newspapers, and the government's special committee appointed to consider the question is spending many hours in private debate, investigating diverse plans, but thus far no definite conclusion has been reached.

The central labor executives and other labor organizations throughout the country, maintain constant pressure on this special committee in speeches and resolutions. Their impatience is now said to be spurring the committee to hasten its inquiry, which up to the present time has been very tedious.

The Westminster Gazette, which professes to have a semi-government backing, declares that an influential commercial organization is about to press forward demands calling for currency inflation as a desperate remedy for a desperate condition. The Gazette adds that the government special committee has already "considered this plan, which has been presented to it by economists. Inflation in this instance means, it is said, an increase in the banking deposits accompanied by rising commodity prices, but does not mean the creation of paper money."

It is difficult to see just how currency can be inflated in value without some "come-back" at the end of the fictitious increase of values. Germany's ride through the haze of artificial financial values has been about as spectacular as anything that has occurred in modern history. Inflating the values of English currency to provide temporary prosperity and a false business activity, will prove as unhealthy for Great Britain as it has for the conquered country of the Hun.

DAN O'LEARY'S CHALLENGE

Dan is certainly ambitious for his race walker. He is now 32 years old, but he challenges all comers regardless of age to walk 500 miles for a wager of $1000 to $5000. Dan is well known in Lowell as he was an advertisement for the O'Sullivan rubber boots some years ago, during which he made his headquarters here. He was then a frequent visitor at the Sun office.

Dan's certainly ambitious for his years. He has, of course, lived the life of a professional athlete, nevertheless his excellent condition in old age proves that most of us allow ourselves to become prematurely old by not keeping our bodies in proper physical training. At 32, the average man dreams walking farther than Dan does.

O'Leary's greatest stunt, years ago, was walking 1000 miles in 1000 hours. Doctors had declared that such a feat was impossible, that no human body could stand the strain. Dan did it because he had the "nothing is impossible" attitude. So, in fact, all people who accomplish great things, are mentally attitude toward an obstacle, when we hear it is apt to hold us back more than the obstacle itself.

All told, Dan O'Leary has walked more than 125,000 miles in contests. And 25,000 of these miles have been covered since 1905 when he passed his sixty-seventh birthday. You will travel a long way to find a more interesting character or one finishing more food for thought. Old age comes to all of us, nearly always sooner than it should. We cannot all be Dan O'Learys, but we can keep our bodies in good physical trim by getting plenty of outside exercise and fresh air and living safely. That is the only Fountain of Youth—sensible living.

NEW STREET SUGGESTED

Mayor Donovan recommends a new one-way street running south from East Merrimack street to Warren by building a bridge over the canal from East Merrimack street and using a passageway between the Strand theatre and the Middlesex mill. This would offer a means of egress from East Merrimack street without passing through the square and would thus help in reducing the congestion at that point. It would offer some relief for the frequent blockades in and around the square, but not a full or final solution. Moreover, it will be a quite expensive undertaking.

The time will come even though this street be opened, when another thoroughfare will be necessary from East Merrimack to Warren or Church street, and the sooner such a street is constructed, the less expensive it will be.

For many years there has been speculation regarding a public street formed by the extension of Palmer street to Jackson street or Middlesex street. This would be a very expensive proposition on account of the buildings through which the street would run.

Nearly everybody in the downtown district has some theory for the relief of congestion at the square so that in time, it is quite probable that a fairly satisfactory solution will be found.

THE BLUE SKY LAW AGAIN

Steps are being taken to modify the blue sky law so as to give the fullest possible protection of the federal government to investors and to meet the requirements of legitimate concerns dealing in securities. It is alleged that the matter is to be pressed in the early days of the incoming congress.

The most active proponents of the Dennison bill law, which failed to pass the last congress, have just ended a long series of important conferences with financial and other organizations which opposed the bill as first prepared. It is reported that they are now ready to give their full support to the new measure.

Anything that will strengthen the protective power of legally constituted authority over the land, will be welcomed by all good citizens who are amazed at the increasing number of "paper corporations" and the spread of wild-cat securities of the fake variety.

Anything that will strengthen the law against fake securities so as to protect legitimate business and punish swindlers of every description will be welcomed by the people. In spite of every effort to stop such swindles by blue sky laws, the number of paper corporations and wildcat securities of the fake variety are amazingly numerous.

As the first Dennison bill was drawn, the investment bankers' association of America opposed its passage on the ground that it would hinder legitimate business and interfere with the free financing of established industries, but in the new form it is expected they will welcome its passage.

HALLOWEEN

Tonight is Halloween, an occasion when there seems to be a sort of witchery in the air and when the young folks put on false faces and other disguises to scare their seniors and make merry in the various tricks and customs of the observance. It is a time when effrontery is brought to the fore—least wherever the children abide and great is their joy thereat.

True it is, that many of the old customs are dying out as few young lovers are found trying to discover what the future holds in store for them by consulting the fairies after the prescribed formulae.

Scenes of tricks with this end in view were formerly tried with reverential awe. Now, however, all are given up to pranks, and boys and girls assume the roles of hobgoblins and carry their glee far into the night. Let them have their fun, provided it does not lapse into mischief or injury to person or property. Such occasions help to remove the gloom which makes life's path so dull and dreary.

THE MAYFIELD CASE

When congress assembled in December, the committee on elections will have to deal with a case of corruption somewhat resembling that of Newberry in Michigan. Senator Mayfield of Texas is charged with having secured election by the lavish use of money. It is further charged that in addition to the use of money the voters were intimidated by the Ku Klux Klan which controlled the election machinery in certain counties. Mayfield is a democrat and the trial of his case may bring the Klan into the open in his and their defense.

GET REGISTERED

Those who do not get registered by next Tuesday night will not be eligible to vote at the primaries. It is understood that many women interested in the coming election would like to vote. They should see the election commission to find whether their names are enrolled on the voting list.

Lover of Birds

Evidently a lover of birds, Councilman Six Gann of Philadelphia introduced an ordinance naming several proposed new streets in Manayunk after birds. The streets which will be placed on the city plan are Flamingo, Oriole, Meadowlark, Mavis, Nightingale, Albatross and Bobolink.

Just the Thing

At the back door a large and healthy looking individual had asked for "a little something to eat" and had been told that he might have it if he would work a while at the woodpile. He shook his head mournfully. "I've got the ague," he explained, "and my head is so unsteady that I couldn't hit more'n one stick in seven." "All right," exclaimed the mistress of the house, "then you might try your hand beating this carpet."—Wayside Tales.

And That's Out

The sheriff started to empanel the jury, but Zeke Jones, though new in courtroom work, had his own ideas. He rose and declared vehemently that under no circumstances would he consent to serve. "Mr. Jones," inquired the sheriff, "why is it that you object so strongly to being empaneled on this jury?" "Well," explained Zeke, "I may not have much education, but I got an inkling what this here word 'empanel' means, and I'm here to tell you right now that I ain't goin' to serve on no jury that ain't goin' to be framed in any way, shape nor manner."—American Legion Weekly.

"Speaking of dumb-bells," said a recently returned traveler from the nation's capital, "there was one that picked me out to be her sheik in a diplomatic dinner. If Cleopatra had dressed like her she needn't have got that snake to sting her to death—she'd have died of pneumonia first. And she thought the Lincoln family was Jewish because they named their son Abe!"

Tough Jokes

Senator La Follette was holding a hearing at Washington the other day to learn if possible why the farmers had to pay so much for gasoline. He seemed to be in fine fettle and uttered a lot of facetious little asides as the testimony came out. After one he considered particularly good he turned to the stenographer and said: "Oh, excuse you will not put those little jokes of mine in the record?" "But, senator," inquired the pathos hand, "how am I to know which the jokes are?"

Speed Explained

"Hang it, boy," exclaimed the tenderfoot from the east as the bellboy for a Texas hotel came bounding in on him without knocking. "Haven't you got any manners about you? 'Didn't you ring?' you say. 'Of course I rang.' 'Didn't you ring three times?' 'It may have been three, as I was in a hurry for ice water, but that doesn't excuse you for bursting in the door.' 'Beg pardon,' replied the boy, as he backed out, 'but you ought to read the card. It's one ring for the porter, two for the bellboy, and three for a gun, and when a guest rings for a gun in this hotel the orders are to get it to him before the other fellow can beg his pardon.'"

A Moral Man

A moral man was Andrew King. As pure as you could find. He would not let the slightest thing contaminate his mind.

At dinner when you asked for "bread" and the chap brought it, he would say: "The chairs and tables all were dressed with trousers on each leg."

What vulgar folk might call an "arm," a "member" was to him. A "leg" would fill him with alarm; He spoke of it as "limb."

At salad he was always shocked. Without some dressing there; He always kept his cupboard stocked—He blushed to see it bare.

His spectacles had lenses blue; He said, "I'd almost die if ever I should have to view 'Things with a naked eye.'"

To watch folks swimming in the sea (Who had his soul with wrath; It hurt his sense of modesty To see them take a bath.

Once in a store he changed to see Some gloves marked, "Undressed kid." "This shock will kill me, sure!" said he. And sure enough, it did.

WE WONDER

We've sold a lot of those Ever Ready and Gem Safety Razors at the special price of 99c, but honestly we thought they'd all be gone long ago.

True, 864 razors in two weeks would have been some business, yet the value is so unusual that we wonder if they have been displayed to the best advantage. So yesterday we made a complete change in our window display and are looking forward to pleasant results.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The bootleggers have been making so much money that they now can afford to employ agents whose sole duty is to keep track of the federal prohibition agents, hang around the courts where liquor cases are being tried and to keep close watch on the federal office in Boston. Their duty is to get descriptions of the agents, and to keep a sharp lookout for any new agents.

Last Monday when several liquor cases were brought before U. S. Commissioner Walsh at the Boston street court, a stranger who entered the building was overheard to remark that he came "just to get a peek" at this Sullivan. And when someone told Federal Agent Sullivan of this, he merely smiled, and said: "Why they're doing that all the time, sending spotters into the courts to get a line on us. But still we fool them. Why, Agent Hall and myself have gone out and purchased liquor from men who purposely came to a courtroom one day to get a line on us. In the court room they see us all dolled up with white collars, but if we make a change in clothing they're lost. Only the other day Agent Hall and myself went into a saloon in Lowell and asked for a drink of liquor, and it was served us. I engaged the clerk in conversation and asked him if the officers ever bothered him, and he replied in the negative. Then when I asked him if Sullivan, the federal agent, ever visited the place, his reply was something like this: 'No, I know Sully well. He couldn't come here and get away with anything. Why I met him at one of the beaches and he's a regular guy. Sully's wise enough not to come in here and ask for liquor because he knows I know him too well, and he couldn't get away with it.' This line of talk went along for several minutes, then when I told the fellow that I was a federal officer, that he was under arrest for violation of the liquor law, his face dropped. And when I explained to him that I was the Sullivan he knew so well, the fellow was dumfounded."

The local branch of the Disabled Veterans of the World war has been in connection with the annual Me-Not day, which is to be nationally observed on Nov. 10. The objects of the organization.

To assist all wounded or disabled American veterans of the World war, regardless of their affiliation or non-affiliation with veterans' organizations.

Help national legislation, better hospitalization facilities, equitable rehabilitation, definite employment programs upon completion of vocational training, and handling of claims for all disabled men.

Through maintenance of national headquarters at Cincinnati, Ohio; national legislative committee at Washington, D. The Disabled American Veterans of the World war serve many hundreds of thousands of disabled and wounded veterans in every possible manner, protects their interests and secures legislative and administrative action for them.

The national organization, through its information and investigation service, endeavors to protect the public from fraudulent solicitation for money in the name of the disabled veteran, and annually saves the American people many thousands of dollars that would otherwise be obtained by swindlers, who would use the name of the disabled man for private exploitation.

The Disabled American Veterans of the World war assist the disabled men to establish clubhouse quarters, summer camps and such other conveniences and comforts to which they are rightfully entitled, through their willing sacrifice of health in the loyal service of their country.

Harry Cole of Cole's Inn was called upon by the management of the Sistine Choir to furnish that organization with its meals while in this city. Harry was glad to get the contract and immediately hired the dining room of the Richardson hotel, which is not being used at the present time, as it is located near the railroad station and handy for the choristers. Among the specifications in the contract were the following: Apples must be served at two meals at least; an Italian chef must supervise the cooking; and four meals must be served, one in the morning, lunch at noon, light luncheon at 6 o'clock, and a course dinner shortly after 10 o'clock. Harry secured an Italian chef from Boston, and everything is ready as required.

Chief Atkinson has issued his annual warning concerning Halloween rowdiness and youngsters will do well to take things easy tonight. Parents, too, can aid in decreasing law violations by cautioning their children against misdeeds.

It is stated on good authority that President John J. Mahoney of the C.Y.M.L. is one of the most energetic members of this popular organization to occupy the chief executive's chair in years. This is saying a great deal when one takes into consideration that the long list of officers of the C.Y.M.L. have brought honor to the Lyceum in the past. Since assuming his official duties, President Mahoney has been constantly on the jump and doing everything in his power to make the organization bigger and better than ever before. With such a man at the helm, it is safe to predict that the future of the well-known Acre institution is assured.

The other day one of our big advertisers was anxious to get in a special announcement for a Saturday sale. He was late in getting in his copy and our columns were already filled. But when he told that it was a physical impossibility to handle his advertising at that late hour, he said he realized he was late, but he begged to get it in, saying it meant so much to him. "I know," he said, "it doesn't amount to much to you in dollars and cents, but to our store it would mean the loss of several hundred dollars if you leave it out." Advertisers who use The Sun regularly appreciate its value as an advertising medium.

John Quigley, the former newsboy tender, says that no attraction at the Auditorium should cost three dollars. The managers will make more if the prices are scaled down within reach of the people, say from 50 cents to a dollar and up to two dollars. That, I believe, is high enough for Lowell. John Steel, who sings here next Sunday, sings every night of the week in the Music Box Revue, New York city, where the prices are four dollars, but here in Lowell he would not think of asking even two dollars, feeling that it is better to have a large audience at a moderate price than a small audience at a high price.

A BOOST

It's quite the proper thing of late To knock, belabor and berate Our country for its backward state In ways artistic.

To say that dollars are our goal And all we think of is "a roll," And that our people have a soul Commercialistic.

I'm fed up on that sort of stuff, We like the shekels well enough; And so, in spite of all their bluff, Do other nations.

Rut for the poet's singing line, For music, painting and design We, too, possess some very fine Appreciations.

Commerce? That we can't deny. And that, undoubtedly, is why These uncommercial peoples vie To tap our coffer;

And artists, singers, actors come From everywhere in Christendom Because we'll pay the largest sum For what they offer!

I'm sick of supercilious cliques, Who with the masses never mix, And yet who will presume to fix Our state artistic.

Get down beneath the surface, find The soul of us, the heart and mind. You've got a bunch, fair, generous, kind, Idealistic!

So though to knock is quite the style, I choose to waive the flag awhile! (Copyright, 1923, The Lowell Sun)

SISTINE CHAPEL CHOIR HALLOWEEN CHARACTER PARTY AT THE AUDITORIUM

The Sistine Chapel choir, the choir of Pope Pius XI, bringing the special gift of his holiness and the approbation of His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, under whose patronage it is touring New England, will sing to Lowell people tonight.

"Hear ye! hear ye!" cried the old town crier, heralding the important announcements of the day. What he would have cried if he were patrolling Lowell streets today would be something like this:

"A foreign choir will sing tonight in ye Memorial Auditorium. A foreign choir has crossed from Italy. It is the Sistine Chapel choir, the choir of the Vatican, the choir of the pope. Hear ye! hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye!"

In the days of the town crier, however, the thought of the Sistine Chapel choir, the greatest and oldest choir in the world, traveling to Lowell, was simply unthinkable. But in our time it has come to pass, and tonight the unique event will be realized as the velvet curtains of the Auditorium

A Halloween character party will be held in the Kasino tonight and a big time is assured for those who attend. Favors will be distributed and all the incidents appertaining to such an occasion will be present. The hall has been decorated with Halloween colors, set off with special electrical effects.

Tonight's affair will get under way about 8 o'clock and continue uninterruptedly until midnight. Campbell's orchestra will supply the music.

sweep aside and the rich music of the choir's 54 voices saturates the air.

The Catholics of Lowell will be generously represented at the concert tonight. It is a rare treat to have the fountainhead of music in the church transplanted to this city, so distant from Rome. But the musical appeal of Maestro Rella's pupils has been felt generally throughout the city.

Paderewski once sagely remarked that music does not allow of nationality, race or creed. Its appeal is instinctive and the appeal of great music like the music of the Sistine choir will draw music lovers from every corner of the city.

The choir that appears in Lowell tonight is the original Sistine Chapel choir; it is not a choir of substitutes. Mgr. Rella, before leaving the Vatican in Rome, trained a substitute choir to take the place of the permanent organization while the latter is touring America.

The choir of the Sistine chapel is ordinarily composed of 32 voices, at Vatican functions, but this was augmented for the tour by the addition of members of the choir who have trained with it for years and who are regular members of that body.

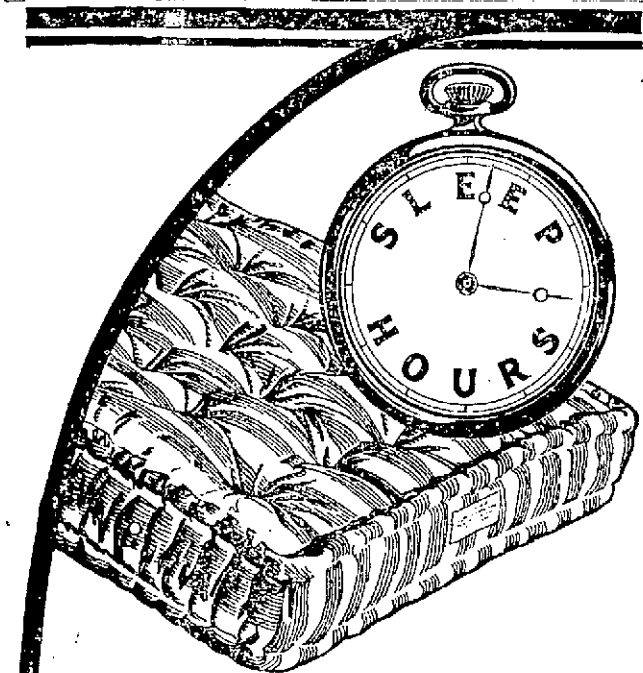

Reduce Your Fat

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—these friends tell others. They eat substantial food, live as they like and still reduce steadily and easily without going through long stages of tireless exercise and starvation diet. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists the world over at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can order direct from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.—Adv.

Instant Relief? Don't stay stuffed feverishness, sneezing. The second and up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Take third doses usually end all cold and "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken. The first dose opens closed-up nostrils, relieves passages of head, stops nose running; relieves headache, dizziness, no quinine. Tastes nice.—Adv.

Measure it in sleep hours

When old Father Time pulls out his yardstick, the mattress manufacturer who cuts corners, builds his mattress to look good but neglects this, that, or the other means to make it "be" good, hunts about for a hole to hide in!

Your Derry-Made Mattress on the other hand is a layer-on-layer-built mattress, so designed that not one single stitch needed to make it a sturdily built, strongly built, time-resisting mattress, is left out of its make-up.

Hundreds of cobweb-thin sheets of cotton, built in layer-wise, insure its elastic buoyancy. A generous number of deep double-locked tufts make it certain to retain its "comfortableness" for years. Hand roll edges and strongly built corners finish this job of building Derry-Mades to forget the fatigue of hard service.

Old age has no terrors for it.

If you want this kind of mattress which can be measured by a many-years-long stretch of comforting sleep-hours, call on the dealer who can show you a selection of genuine Derry-Made Mattresses.

What Mrs. Charles H. Taft, Jr. Thinks About Mazola

Corn Products Refining Company,
17 Battery Place, New York City

Dear Sirs:—

YES indeed I make mayonnaise at home. Mazola is splendid in that minute mayonnaise recipe, better than any other oil I have ever used. I divide the quantity into two jars and the last of the second jar is just as good as the first spoonful. It keeps wonderfully—just as long as the family will let it.

French dressing, too, is so good with Mazola. Sometimes for variety I add a slice of onion or a clove of garlic to the bottle of dressing in the ice box a couple of hours before serving. This is easier than rubbing the salad bowl, and the flavor of the salad and the dressing is greatly improved.

Mazola is so adaptable. I've told all my friends about my success with the cake recipe you published some time last Fall—the one with cold water. I can make a dozen cup cakes in twenty minutes—start to finish—with that rule, and I've been complimented on them, too. When I take them to a spread or picnic people always ask for the recipe.

You see, I am one of your enthusiastic users of Mazola

I always grease my waffle iron with Mazola and all pans for muffins and cakes as well. But here's one use I never heard anyone else speak of.

Sometime ago I began substituting Mazola for the "melted shortening" so many recipes mention. Any egg mixture ought to have a cool shortening added to it because hot fat toughens the butter, and it is such a help to lift the can of Mazola and pour out the required spoonfuls instead of melting the shortening, waiting for it to cool, measuring it and then wasting all those extra utensils.

You see, I do all my own work, not only my own cooking. And I am just as keen about saving dish washing as the next one. And Mazola helps.

Yours truly,

GREEN AND RED ELEVENS MEET IN ANNUAL GRID BATTLE SATURDAY

DARTMOUTH AND CORNELL READY TO DEDICATE NEW STADIUM AT HANOVER, N. H.

Green Representatives Have Had Wide Experience in Dedicating Stadia—First Venture Came in 1903 When it Sent Mighty Eleven to Cambridge and Came Away With an 11 to 0 Victory

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A Dartmouth football eleven will act a new part on Saturday afternoon when the Green clad warriors, who so soundly trounced Harvard last week, engage the big Red team from Cornell in their annual gridiron battle.

The game is to dedicate the new Memorial Stadium at Hanover, N. H., and Dartmouth, who annually dedicate a new stadium, has had wide experience in dedicating stadia, and has itself for the first time as the defending college.

The Green's first venture in stadium dedicating, came in 1903, when it sent a mighty eleven to Cambridge to play the opening game at the Harvard stadium and came away with an 11 to 0 victory.

Dartmouth served in the same capacity when the Palmer Memorial stadium was dedicated at Princeton, and just before the war, Dartmouth was called to Haverhill, where it met Georgetown in the dedicatory game at Haverhill's municipal stadium.

The Green's most recent venture in opening a new stadium, came in 1922, when it took place out on the Pacific coast, and established a record that never before has been approached. On the last Saturday in November, 1922, Dartmouth played and defeated Brown University at Haverhill, Mass., and exactly one week later, the self same Dartmouth eleven soundly trounced University of Washington in a game which dedicated the University of Washington stadium, thereby winning a game on either coast in the space of eight days.

Whether Dartmouth will be so successful in dedicating its own stadium remains for the future to disclose.

The tactical schemes to be employed by Dartmouth and Cornell is of much concern to football students, however. Coach Doherty of Cornell has relied much upon his celebrated offensive sweep in which he swings line-men into a double rank of interference for the runner. This season, Doherty has employed that play but has added to the Cornell attack some excellent forward passing, and Dartmouth's problem of checking the Ithaca's has become somewhat more complicated than was generally expected.

JOE WAGNER IN TOWN, BIG FOOTBALL BATTLE

Boxing Manager Here With His Wife Who is Playing at Local Theatre

Joe Wagner, manager of Jack Sharkey, Harry Gordon and other prominent boxers, and himself a great fighter in days gone by, is in Lowell this week, and while here hopes to land some money.

Wagner came to Lowell with his wife, Margie Coale, the "Queen of Syncopeation," who is performing and going big at the theatre every afternoon and evening.

Wagner when in the ring was one of the greatest fighters of his class. He fought Al Belmont a half dozen or more times. He also met Johnny Condon, and in fact all the notable little men of that time. He was in his prime at the time Stanley Ketchel was in the middleweight division, and he worked out with that famous fighter.

Being a remarkably clever fellow and a terrific hitter for his weight he proved popular wherever he performed and had little difficulty in keeping busy.

When he retired from the ring he was sought by embryo boxers and he took Jack Sharkey from obscurity and placed him up the ladder of fame. He fought his way into a match with Jimmy Wilde, when the classy little Brit-Slayer paid his first visit to America. Sharkey met Wilde shortly after the latter landed here and created a pugilistic sensation when he won the decision in a slashing 15-round battle. This fight made Sharkey and Coale that time up to the present he has been adding to his fame and fortune. Wagner brought Sharkey to Lowell a few years ago and the conqueror of Wilde had little difficulty in disposing of his opponent in one round.

In Harry Gordon Wagner believes he has the coming bantamweight champion. Only recently Gordon, bantamweight champion, was defeated by the widely heralded Carl Trentham in a ten round bout.

Gordon is a born and bred Philadelphia, winner of the bantamweight championship there in 1918 after which he fought a few preliminary bouts around only to become disgusted at his failure to climb higher.

He enlisted in the U. S. navy and served three years. During his sea service he won the bantamweight championship of his division several times, carrying it off by winning the first championship in New York in 1921.

Following his discharge from the navy, Gordon took up his residence in New York and after a few months under the management of Wagner, rapidly developed into a star bantamweight.

His duty at first was playing the substitute role when other fighters failed to appear or were ill. His first chance came when he substituted for "Irish Johnny" Curtin against Frankie Jerome, one of the best bantamweights in the game. Jerome won the decision, but Gordon was "made." He next went on for Sammy Nabile against Danny Lee and outclassed the latter in a ten round battle.

A short while later Gordon went on against Danny Edwards, the flashy colored bantamweight from California, taking the place of Jack Sharkey, and Gordon landed the front by knocking Edwards out in the 11th round.

Since then, Gordon has had several good fights. He is after Lynch, but if he can't get the champion, he wants to take on Bobby Woodcock at 115 pounds.

What's in a name? Gipp says it is, easy to headline and hard to live. The sporting pages of the country, Mahard and Gaskin, easily pronounced, were repeated without prejudice, whenever their performance demanded it.

Last year Crowley, Miller and Layden were Notre Dame backfield men of promise. Crowley, a new player, was the fourth backfield star, regarded by many as the greatest man of the team.

A short while later Gordon went on against Danny Edwards, the flashy colored bantamweight from California, taking the place of Jack Sharkey, and Gordon landed the front by knocking Edwards out in the 11th round.

Since then, Gordon has had several good fights. He is after Lynch, but if he can't get the champion, he wants to take on Bobby Woodcock at 115 pounds.

What's in a name? Gipp says it is, easy to headline and hard to live. The sporting pages of the country, Mahard and Gaskin, easily pronounced, were repeated without prejudice, whenever their performance demanded it.

Last year Crowley, Miller and Layden were Notre Dame backfield men of promise. Crowley, a new player, was the fourth backfield star, regarded by many as the greatest man of the team.

Gordon is a born and bred Philadelphia, winner of the bantamweight championship there in 1918 after which he fought a few preliminary bouts around only to become disgusted at his failure to climb higher.

He enlisted in the U. S. navy and served three years. During his sea service he won the bantamweight championship of his division several times, carrying it off by winning the first championship in New York in 1921.

Following his discharge from the navy, Gordon took up his residence in New York and after a few months under the management of Wagner, rapidly developed into a star bantamweight.

His duty at first was playing the substitute role when other fighters failed to appear or were ill. His first chance came when he substituted for "Irish Johnny" Curtin against Frankie Jerome, one of the best bantamweights in the game. Jerome won the decision, but Gordon was "made." He next went on for Sammy Nabile against Danny Lee and outclassed the latter in a ten round battle.

FRISCH, BASEBALL'S GREATEST STAR

MR. FRISCH, HIMSELF, BATTING, FIELDING AND "LOOKING PRETTY"

BY BILLY EVANS

With Ty Cobb having passed the peak of his game and the future of George Sisler uncertain, Frankie Frisch of the New York Giants looks up as baseball's greatest all-around star.

For years Ty Cobb has reigned supreme in baseball. Experts regard him as the greatest player of all time. A few years back Father Time started to get in his work and Ty Cobb's great began to slip a trifle. That was the end of his career. He was too old, only human and couldn't go on forever.

Enter George Sisler as the logical successor for Cobb's crown. The great first sacker of the St. Louis Browns had earned the right to the title of the game's greatest star, when an attention of the one cut short his career. Sisler did not play a single game last season. His career as a player is still shrouded in uncertainty.

It is impossible for the opposition to play for Frisch. He is a place hitter, driving the balls to all fields according to the style of the pitch and the position of the opposing outfield. His style is far more graceful as a left hander than right. Batting right-handed he assumes a rather peculiar crouch position.

Unquestionably Frisch is the fastest man in the National league if not both leagues. His only rival in this respect is Arvidsson of the Chicago White Sox. There is little to choose between the two.

In the field his work is uncanny. He goes to his right or left with equal ease and his great speed enables him to cover a wide range of territory. It takes a mighty fast hit ball to elude his grasp.

Since the very first time I saw Frisch in action I marvelled at his all-around ability. After watching him for six games in the recent world series, I am convinced that he is the greatest all-around performer in the game. He doesn't seem to have a single weakness.

Players of the Cobb, Sisler and Frisch type are a decided rarity.

A Trio of Navy Stalwarts

Mathews

This is a Navy year. You judge so by reports, optimistic and encouraging, which emanate from the Annapolis campus. Last year the Navy lost a heart-breaking game to its traditional rival, the Army, when Smith, quarterback, in the closing moments, returned a punt to the 10-yard line.

Barclay

and followed with a forward pass that ended the game. This year the Navy is said to be stronger in several important respects and in Mathews, center; McGee, quarterback; and Barclay, full-back, Coach Bob McWells has three bright gridiron stars.

AVILA TRAINING WITH BEST TEAM IN LEAGUE AS UMPIRE SEES IT

JOHNNY CLINTON

Word from Chick Hayer, prominent trainer and handler of boxers, who is training Johnny Avila, local welterweight, for his bout here tomorrow night with Young Tansey, the Roxbury sensation, says the Lowell boy is rounding into great form.

Avila worked out in Hayes' gymnasium every day before with such easy performance as Johnny Clinton and Newport Johnny Brown. Hayes says Avila and Clinton put in a fine battle. Clinton is fast and lithe and employs Tansey's style in all the workouts.

Avila entered the gymnasium last week about over weight, but he is gradually reducing his weight and expects to be down to his best fighting mark when he winds up his professional career.

Tansey is training with Tommy Leahy, Willie Corbett and other members of Jack Williams' stable, as well as the S. J. W. heavyweight champion, Eddie Shelton. Tansey is a fighting cat and he will come to the ring prepared to duplicate the success he scored against Brown's other welterweight, Martin Phiberty.

The feud that between Johnny Leahy and Benny O'Neil, "a repeat" is expected to be a hummer. Leahy, fighting on, who was scheduled to appear in one of the preliminaries has a rich reason for an injury while training.

George Schell of Roxbury and Tony Bartol of Boston will meet in a six-rounder and Ray Bancourt and Frankie Cyne, both of Lawrence, will meet in the other.

INTERESTING STORY OF TRIP TO CANADA

The Educational club listened to an interesting talk at the Y.W.C.A. building yesterday, by Mrs. Wallace Butterfield of Tyngsboro, who described a recent trip taken to the province of Alberta, in Canada.

Proceeding the meeting a short business session was held at which routine business was transacted. Mrs. Elizabeth Leggat, president, and the secretary's report was read by Mrs. Walter Jessup. The music for the singing was played by Mrs. H. J. Maguire. In her talk, Mrs. Butterfield, described at some length the natural beauties which abound in Canada. With the serene lakes, rugged mountains and unlimited stretches of virgin forest. Some of the cities are very young and yet in point of the conveniences of modern life, they are up-to-date in all respects with light, water, etc. In one of the Canadian cities she visited, the approach to the town had been beautified by the planting of poppies alongside the railroad tracks for a mile on either side of the station. The roads are still in a rather precarious condition in the more mountainous sections of the country and it is with difficulty that an automobile can negotiate them.

The industrial and mining sections of the country were vividly described by Mrs. Butterfield in the course of her talk, and also the remnants of Indian life which still appears once a year in the region of Regina, formerly headquarters of the Royal Northwest Mounted police, where there is a sundance ceremonial held more for the edification of tourists than any other reason, by what remains of the first inhabitants.

In conclusion she stated that although she saw many beautiful spots in her trip she saw none that could excel Lowell and vicinity.

REAR ADMIRAL U. S. N.
THANKS THE SUN

The following letter of appreciation from Rear Admiral De Steiguer, U.S.N., Navy Yard, Boston, is self explanatory: District Staff Headquarters, Navy Yard, Boston.

October 30, 1923.

Editor Sun, Dear Sir:

Allow me to express my interest in and appreciation of the editorials and news articles and pictures published in the Lowell Sun on Navy day activities, which appear to have been particularly successful in Lowell.

It is greatly encouraging to Navy personnel to know that the press is so generally favorable to the Navy and to the maintenance of an efficient Navy.

Lowell is to be congratulated on her observance of Navy Day.

Sincerely yours,

L. R. DE STEIGUER,

Rear Admiral, U.S.N.

PARISH SUPPER AT ALL SOULS' CHURCH

The monthly parish supper of All Souls' church was held last evening in the parish house adjoining the church, followed by an entertainment program of music and games arranged by the entertainment committee, Miss Edith Brakine, chairman. The singing was led by Edward H. Brigham, who is the possessor of an unusually charming tenor voice, and at the conclusion of the supper, stunts and games were taken part in by the whole parish. The program was concluded with dancing, with the church orchestra furnishing the music for the various steps.

The supper committee, headed by Mrs. Harry Boardman, provided a meal for about 200 parishioners in the banquet hall, and then all repaired to the assembly hall upstairs for the rest of the program.

Police reserves were called, the station was closed and the door opened with a crowbar and axe.

FIGHT TO PREVENT ILLEGAL OPERATIONS

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 30.—Judge Ben R. Lindsey, asked the Denver city council last night for $146,000 with which to conduct his fight to prevent illegal operations, which he recently declared had cut the city's birth rate in half.

He repeated his recommendations made in a communication to the Denver county grand jury urging that the investigating body recommend an appropriation for the maternity fund, for the protection of unborn babies and for the mothers' compensation fund to care for destitute mothers.

He also urged the establishment of a workhouse, as provided by law, for husbands and fathers, who fail to support their families.

SAYS GERMAN WORKERS MUST FIGHT

MOSCOW, Oct. 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The opinion of the Russian Communist leaders as expressed through their official newspapers is that the ultimatum served upon the Communist-Socialist government of Saxony by the central German government and the former's refusal leaves no way for a retreat, and "the German workers must fight."

The Pravda says: "Only one road is open to them and that is forward to the economic struggle. The hour of conflict is at hand; the rifles are already cocked."

To Form New Saxony Cabinet

DRESDEN, Saxony, Oct. 30.—(By the Associated Press) The Saxon Diet met at two o'clock this afternoon, the Reichswehr troops previously evacuating the parliament building and was addressed by Dr. Carl Heinze, the new commissioner of the Reich, who declared that his mission consisted in forming a new cabinet to replace that under Dr. Zeigner, which was deposed by the central government. The commissioner said that as soon as this task had been accomplished, he would leave Dresden. After hearing the statement the Diet adjourned until 6 p. m., Dr. Heinze expressing desire to get in touch with the various party leaders.

ROTARIANS HEAR MAN FROM FALL RIVER

Harry Dodge, secretary of the Fall River Rotary club, addressed the Lowell Rotary club at its noonday luncheon at the Boys' club yesterday on the meaning, aims, ideals and purposes of Rotary.

Dr. H. E. Davis, president of the club, wielded the gavel throughout the session. A report from the Safety Week committee recommended a Safety Week for Lowell some time during next April and was approved and ordered filed.

A committee was appointed to represent the Lowell club at the Boys' club benefit dance to be given in Lawrence on Nov. 13. The delegation was named at the invitation of the Lawrence Rotary club. Secretary George L. Nelson of the Lawrence club was a visitor at today's luncheon.

An invitation to members of Lowell Rotary to attend a lecture on the Girl Scout movement, to be given in the hall of the Middlesex Women's club on Nov. 5, was read and filed.

Mr. Dodge in his speech before the members took occasion to praise the meritorious work among the boys of Lowell which Rotary is backing to the limit. His talk was of great interest to the members and several constructive suggestions, in the way of stories of what the Fall River club has done, were received in the course of the talk.

Dr. Davis put over an innovation in calling the Rotary roll at today's luncheon. Instead of each member introducing his neighbor every sixth man introduced the five next to him. This made a strong hit and few mistakes were recorded.

SALESMANSHIP CLASS TO START FRIDAY

Salemanship is the subject of the course which the division of university extension, Massachusetts department of education has scheduled to open at the Lowell Electric Light Co., 19 Market street on Friday, November 2, at 7:30 o'clock. The course will consist of ten lessons and is open at a nominal charge to all residents of Lowell and vicinity.

John J. Morgan of Boston, who has conducted many successful classes in this subject, will be the instructor. The object of the course, Mr. Morgan states, is to analyze and help solve the present problems facing business men and women of today. Practical demonstrations of methods of selling will be given throughout the course. Applications for membership will be received at the first meeting.

CLARENCE J. "BIG TIM" TIMMONS

EX-GRID STAR BUSIEST COP

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 31.—Back in his youth, Clarence J. "Big Tim" Timmons here was a crack luminary on the college gridiron.

Today his star no longer twinkles in the athletic heavens, but there's another on his breast just as bright.

For which, if any explanation is needed, let it be known that "Big Tim" is a cop.

However, he's of the super variety. And his said hereabouts that they broke the mold after pouring "Tim" out.

No longer does he buck the line in pursuit of the elusive pluck.

But his football training comes in mighty handy.

For Tim Timmons directs traffic at a street intersection forming Fitts' burgh's busiest corner, and likewise the most traveled spot in the country, according to statistical sharps.

During the past 10 years his whistle has shrieked "come ahead" and "stop" blasts to an ever lengthening line of vehicles.

Once he had a semaphore to assist him in his work. But the contrivance took up too much room in the needed space where every inch counts.

Passing motorists hail him by the score. They know Tim stands for law and order, which his commanding presence does little to belie.

By goes the snaky, winding line, and from out of it comes repeated shouts of greeting.

"Hello, Tim! How are you?" And so on and so forth.

You can take it from police department heads that it takes a real man to handle Tim's corner and not get fussed.

And in the cheerful veteran all concur that a police gem—because Tim's just that they say—has been found.

The other day Tim celebrated his 30th birthday on the force.

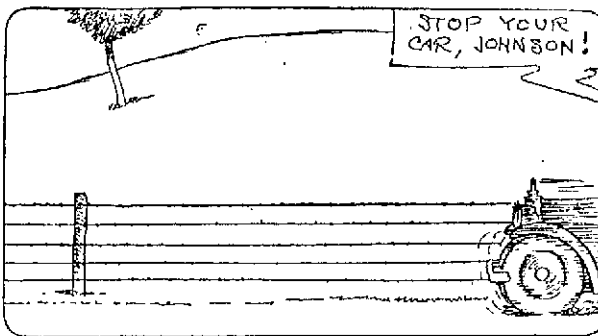

He's been a cop 15 years now and likes it.

DANCE HALL CASE STILL ON IN SUPERIOR COURT

While Charles E. Alway, a contractor, was testifying in superior court this morning in the case of Bechard et al. vs. Morin, an action growing out of the collapse of the dance hall on the Pawtucket boulevard, Attorney Albert S. Howard for the defense, raised a question of law which resulted in a long conference between counsel and the court. The jury was temporarily excused and for almost two hours the point at issue was discussed.

Mr. Alway made an examination of the ruins after the collapse of the building and he testified as to conditions he found. Just before the collapse was called to the stand, Mr. Gilbert is an architect and he also upon record. He testified that he examined the ruins after the collapse. The suit is for $20,000, the plaintiffs claiming that the dance hall collapsed because of faulty construction and because durable materials were not used.

TAKES EXCEPTION TO STATEMENT

John J. Flaherty, clerk of the license commission, today stated that the recent assertions attributed to members of the vice squad of the police department to the effect that the majority of lodging-houses conducted by foreigners in this city are operated illegally, is untrue. The clerk refuted the allegations that licensees to conduct such houses are granted to unnaturalized persons, saying that one of the essentials for procuring a license is the presentation of first citizenship papers to the board.

The usual method of procedure is rigidly adhered to at all times. First, application for the license must be made to the board. An officer of the law is then appointed to investigate the premises to be licensed and if the conditions warrant, the license is then granted. But the petitioner must have taken out first citizenship papers. Revocations follow if the person thus licensed violates the regulations.

WERE CHARGED WITH THREATENING

As the result of a wordy altercation and alleged threat of bodily injury on the part of Timothy Hayes and George Shattuck against Howard Wilson, all of North Billerica, Hayes and Shattuck appeared in district court this morning, charged with threatening. Both were found guilty and placed under bonds of $100 each to keep the peace for six months.

The incident occurred in North Billerica last Sunday, Wilson, a varnisher, claiming that the two men hurled vile epithets at him and attempted to "beat him up" for being a strike-breaker.

NEED STRENGTH?

Vim, Vigor, Vitality Follow

If You Take This Advice:

Utica, N. Y.—"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's medicine, especially the Favorite Prescription, and the Golden Medical Good Results. I have taken these medicines as a tonic on many occasions to build up my system and give me strength when I was all run down physically, and I have found them very helpful each and every time. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Good Results are exceptionally good medicines."—Mrs. Lou Thomas, 221 Lafayette street.

First Woman Lord Mayor of England

NORWICH, England, Oct. 31.—This city has the honor of naming the first woman lord mayor of England. Several small towns have had women mayors, but no city aspiring to the importance of being governed by a lord mayor has hitherto chosen a woman for the post. The dignity has now been bestowed upon Miss Ethel Colman, daughter of the late J. J. Colman, M. P., a member of the world famous mustard-making firm. The city authorities further surprised male office seekers by appointing a Miss MacGregor to be town clerk, an office usually given to a local lawyer. Miss MacGregor was chosen over the heads of many male applicants.

Reinforcements for Island of Mindanao

MANILA, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press) One hundred additional Philippine constabulary troops left today for the island of Mindanao aboard the coast guard cutter Mindoro. While no recent word had been received from Gov. General Wood, who is at Parang, Mindanao, investigating the recent Moro uprisings, the sending of reinforcements is believed to indicate that the situation is more serious than he at first thought. The most recent Moro outbreak occurred Sunday, Oct. 14, in the Luno district of Mindanao when a constabulary detachment of 10 men and three teachers were massacred.

Stresemann's Hand Strengthened

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Chancellor Stresemann's hand is believed to have been strengthened as regards his policy toward Saxony by the decision of the united socialists to postpone until today, a decisive vote on the party's attitude toward the government's measures in that state. Whereas yesterday the withdrawal of the three socialist ministers in the cabinet was threatened, thereby menacing the tenure of the ministry, the political situation late last night so shaped itself that early this morning the government appeared stronger.

For Resumption of Work in the Ruhr

DUESSELDORF, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press) Hope for the ultimate success of the present negotiations for the resumption of work in the Ruhr valley, in progress between the Hugo Stinnes group of industrialists and the French authorities, is seen in the very protracted nature of the conversations have assumed. It was announced this morning that the conference had been divided into a number of sub-committees, each charged with certain technical details.

Dr. Fellisch Premier of Saxony Cabinet

DRESDEN, Saxony, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press) The Saxon Diet early today elected Dr. A. Fellisch, as premier by a vote of 46 to 13. After the election the house adjourned until Nov. 6. Dr. Fellisch, a socialist, was minister of economics before the recently deposed socialist-Communist government was established.

Doctors Secured Licenses Through Fraud

WATERBURY, Conn., Oct. 31.—Governor Templeton last night asked prosecuting authorities to institute immediate investigation into charges that 142 doctors in this state had secured their licenses through fraud and perjury, many of them through purchasing fake medical diplomas and if warranted, that action be taken against them at once.

Former Cabinet Minister Assassinated

SOFIA, Oct. 31.—Nikolaj Guenadiev, a former cabinet minister, was assassinated at his own doorstep last night, and M. Gueshoff, former Bulgarian minister at Constantinople who was with him was seriously wounded. The police ascribe the crime to private vengeance. M. Guenadiev was chief and founder of the national liberal party.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 20

"Oh," shouted Jack, "I think it is terrible for the king to shoot all those animals." "Well," replied Jingo, "if you feel so bad about it, just play a little tune on this magic flute." And he handed Jack a long black flute. The little adventurer immediately started to play.

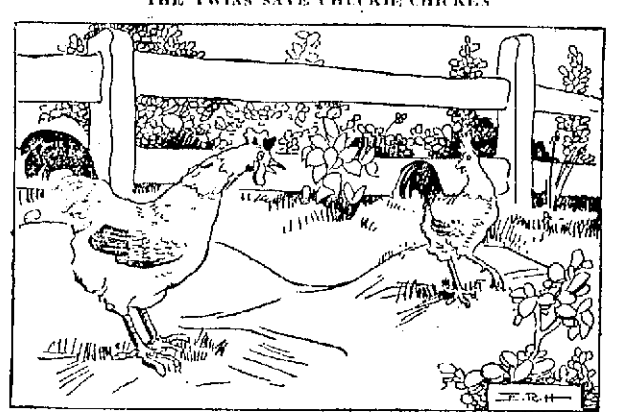

You can imagine his surprise when Jack had played but a few moments and then saw that there was a great scramble on the flat earth on which all the king's animals and birds had been brought in. All of the bears, deer, rabbits and birds were coming to life.

Jack was so startled that he stopped playing. "That's all right," shouted Jingo. "You have played just long enough. That flute makes everything come back to life." And sure enough, by this time, the deer and bears were racing to get out of the gates. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

"JUST LIKES TO PREACH SO HE DOES," HE SNIFFED. Suppose you'd get away over there in the backwheel field some time, and old Hunter Hawk would make a swoop down and grab you—there wouldn't be anybody near to lift a finger to save you. You'd better stay 'round where the there are."

When Mr. Cockadoodle Rooster told him that the big brown bird cackling around so gracefully in the sky right over Squeaky-Moo Land was a chicken-hawk, waiting for a chance to pounce down and carry off a nice fat young chicken for his dinner—Chuckie just went on picking up bugs with his beak as though he didn't hear him at all.

"Just likes to preach so he does," he sniffed when Mister Rooster had gone. "As though I didn't know how to take care of myself!"

"What's that you're muttering about?" asked a voice right beside him. Chuckie jumped as though he'd heard a gun. "Wh—who is it?" he gasped.

Mister Dodger, the good fairy of Squeaky-Moo Land, laughed. "I was just telling my friends, Nancy and Nick here, that you weren't really as brave as you pretended to be," said he. "And you aren't, either, or you wouldn't have jumped so just now. I heard what Mister Rooster said to you and if you're a wise fellow you'll take his advice and not wander away so far off by yourself."

AMENDMENTS TO RULES ADOPTED BY SCHOOL BOARD—THREE MEMBERS OPPOSED

Despite the opposition of three members of the school committee, the mayor, Mr. Riley and Mrs. Pearson, the school committee at its regular meeting last night adopted the three remaining amendments to the rules that were laid on the table at the previous meeting. As one of the three amendments acted upon was the one headed, "Selection and Duties of the Secretary," Supt. Hugh J. Molloy of the school department asked permission to address the meeting and, after receiving permission from the chair and regardless of numberless calls of "question" from members, gave a short talk in which he stated that the reason for this amendment was well known to him and that it was due to the fact that at one time he allowed certain of the records to go out of his hands and had never since been able to recover them, although he had made many requests for their return. Mr. Molloy was interrupted several times by Mr. Delaney, but was allowed to continue by the mayor.

The committee also voted to grant kindergarten principals an increase of $100 per year over their present pay, the same to go into effect next January.

The meeting was called to order at 8:25 o'clock with all members present.

The committee voted to place the name of Patrick Winn on the regular list of high school juniors as he has completed the probationary term. It was voted to put the name of Theodore Townor, junior of the Morrill school, on the six-room schedule of pay because of an increase in his duties.

The committee instructed Headmaster Henry H. Harris to provide transportation for the football squad to and from Alumni field by regular electric car at a cost of 65 cents per fare. On the question of medical attendance at the field, Mr. Molloy stated that two school doctors had said such attendance was not necessary.

The girl scouts were granted permission to use a room in the Butler school for meeting purposes.

It was voted to close the schools on Dec. 12 so that the Teachers' organization might hold their annual institute at the State Normal school on that day.

On recommendation of Dr. Finegan, director of several hygiene, it was voted unanimously to give permission for 50 students to attend open-air classes at the Pawtucket school.

Dana Palmer was granted a first grade certificate by unanimous vote.

Election of Miss Ryan.

The resignation of Mrs. Bertha C. Huse, piano player for the physical education classes at the high school, was read and accepted. Mr. Molloy then recommended that Miss Marion Ryan be named a teacher as assistant in both physical and music education.

Mr. Delaney was on his feet before the superintendent had completed his recommendation and said he would vote for Miss Ryan as a music teacher, but would not approve of getting around it that way to pay a political debt. He further added that it seemed strange that one week the committee was told that there were enough physical education teachers and the next week the superintendent brought forth another recommendation for this work.

Mr. Molloy stated that he had made the recommendation after talking with Miss Ryan and that she had voiced her approval of the position. A motion to elect a teacher as assistant in the music and physical education departments was carried. Dr. Slaughter and Mr. Delaney voting no. On roll call Miss Ryan was unanimously elected to this position.

New High School

Mr. Molloy reported that the chairman of the high school commission had told him that the commission was not ready to turn the school over to the department as yet and could not say when it would be ready to do so. As the delay in the turning over of the school is holding up some telephone and wood work, the committee instructed the business agent to get permission from the commission to go ahead with this work.

Mr. Molloy read a report by William Thornton, the number of boys and girls of school age in what is known as the Greek district. He also reported that of 19 found of age to attend school and not attending, 17 had since been registered and two were unfit to attend school.

Mr. Riley moved that the matter be laid on the table as in the mind there was a question of legal difficulty if it is passed, and requested that the city solicitor be asked for an opinion.

Supt. Molloy then asked for and was granted permission to speak. Before he started Mr. Brin stated that the superintendent was entitled to the custody of the records, but not necessarily their possession at all times.

Mr. Brin's Statement

Mr. Molloy said: "I don't think that the superintendent should be forced to spend money to provide protection for himself in the courts. I don't know the difference between custody and possession. The records are the property of the school and it is evident that he knows why this movement has been entered into to change his duties as secretary of the school committee. (Mr. Delaney strenuously objected, but was overruled by the mayor.) The superintendent of schools allowed to go out of his custody certain papers which belong to the school department and which the school committee gave him custody of, and that they have never been returned, although the superintendent has requested their return on several occasions. The superintendent has good reasons for believing that someone else will have charge of the records. (Mr. Delaney again objected and was again overruled.) The superintendent has simply said that the rules of the school department gave him custody of certain papers which he gave out and which he has tried repeatedly to regain possession of. I think that the school committee should go on record that there is no question of the propriety of the superintendent in keeping the records. I also say that I am able to prove and prove positively that the superintendent of schools lost from his possession certain records and that these records have been kept in the possession of the person who took them from his possession."

Mr. Brin's Statement

Mr. Brin stated that he did not know what the superintendent was talking about. The superintendent told him to inquire and he would be told.

Mr. Brin stated that his reasons for favoring this amendment was that the superintendent had continually butted in to meetings and had caused endless wranglings, and favored them only to expedite the meetings of the school committee. He wanted the amendment to stand as a warning to the superintendent or whoever might be elected secretary that the committee could, at any time, elect another secretary.

The amendment was accepted with the same vote as on the first amendment. Mr. Brin then moved the adoption of the amendment to read: "These amendments to the rules shall take effect upon their acceptance by the committee." This was also accepted on the same vote and Mr. Brin said, to no one in particular, "That's pretty quick work, only 25 minutes to put through the three amendments."

Edison School Survey

On motion of Mr. Delaney the committee voted to appropriate $300 to secure the services of Mr. Patterson of the Boston schools commission to make a survey of the Edison school proposition. Mr. Molloy stated that the motion should be made broader, but his suggestion was unheeded. Dr. Slaughter suggested that the survey be made to report to the committee at the next meeting of the sub-committee on the Edison school and the city council, scheduled for next Tuesday evening.

The committee instructed Mr. Molloy and the director of the girls' vocational schools to investigate the necessity of opening classes in cooking, etc., at various schools throughout the city.

The principal of the Girls' Vocational school was instructed to employ Miss Elizabeth Goodell as a substitute if necessary.

High School Substitutes

Mr. Molloy then named Miss Elizabeth Harrigan as a permanent substitute at the high school, in accordance with the committee's request at a prior meeting. He stated that Miss Harrigan had done substitute work for several years and did not desire a regular appointment.

Mr. Brin moved that two permanent substitutes be named, to give him an opportunity to vote for Miss Josephine Dunneley, who is qualified for the work, but is a regular junior high school teacher and does not desire substitute work. The motion was lost, Mr. Mullin, Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Riley and Mayor Donovan voting no.

Miss Harrigan was then elected a permanent substitute.

A motion from Mr. Luttininger, manager of the Lowell Opera House, that his theatre conduct a benefit night for the high school athletic fund, was decided with thanks.

It was voted on recommendation of Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school that the public service be held from the completion of the smooth paving of Kirk street.

Miss Julia M. Sullivan was elected clerk in the Evening Vocational school, Miss Mary E. Black receiving the votes of Mr. Mullin and Mrs. Pearson, and Miss Sullivan all others.

Amendments to Rules

Mr. Brin moved that the committee consider the proposed amendments to the rules.

The mayor objected and said if he had expected to stay all night he would have made preparations.

The motion was carried. Mr. Riley, Mrs. Pearson and the mayor voted against it.

The mayor then said, "Why don't we three go home? Why should we stay here? The thing's all out and dried."

Mr. Brin then moved the adoption of section 4, chapter 1, "Four members shall constitute a quorum to transact business and a majority of those present and voting shall be sufficient to pass any vote, order or resolution; motions need not be seconded."

Mr. Riley moved that it be amended to read that five members constitute a quorum. This was defeated on roll call and the original amendment was accepted. Mr. Riley, Mrs. Pearson and the mayor voting in the negative.

Mr. Brin then moved the adoption of the amended chapter 2, the amendment reading as follows: "The committee shall elect a secretary by a majority vote of the entire committee, who shall serve at the discretion of the committee, and who shall give notice of all meetings in writing to each member of the committee, such notice to be given so as to be received at the residence or place of business of such member 24 hours, at least, before the time set for the meeting. Section 2—That the secretary transmit the orders and rulings of the committee to the persons affected thereby and furnish the members with a typewritten copy of the proceedings of every meeting with ten days after it is held. Section 2—That the secretary shall confine himself to the keeping of the records and minutes during each meeting and shall not perform any other duties of the committee shall direct and shall upon request furnish any member of the committee with any information pertaining to the department which such member may desire, and shall read at the meeting following its receipt all correspondence pertaining to the school department."

Mr. Delaney moved that Miss Margaret Enright be named a permanent substitute also but after Mr. Molloy objected to the committee taking from his hands the naming of such teacher, changed his motion to read that the superintendent compile a list of emergency substitutes that may be called upon. The superintendent agreed to do this without a vote.

Other Business

Mrs. Pearson moved that the track season of the high school be extended from Jan. 15 to March 1 to Jan. 1 to March 1, and that outdoor track practice be continued until the close of the school with the present coach, Mr. Haggerty, in charge. This was unanimously accepted.

Mr. Mullin moved that as Mr. Haggerty would be employed next year that his pay be decided upon by next year's committee. Later, learning that Mr. Haggerty would have to work during the month of December, he moved that he be paid $400 for his entire duties. This was also unanimously accepted.

Dr. Slaughter then moved the matter of an increase of pay for primary principals. After a discussion he substituted a motion granting an increase of $100 and this was accepted to go into effect Jan. 1.

Mr. Delaney then brought up the matter of a no-school signal, money for which was appropriated long ago. Mr. Molloy stated that he approved of the no-school rule, but he was beginning to lose faith in it because he is expected by many to ring the no-school signal whenever it suits him. He suggested that the committee either abolish the no-school signal or have a signal that can be heard all over the city so that the fire department and he would not have to answer calls for information concerning the ringing of the bells.

Mr. Delaney then moved that the business agent investigate the price of an electric whistle. This was accepted by the committee.

Several other minor matters were talked over but no action was taken. The meeting adjourned at midnight.

Mr. Mullin's Statement

Mr. Molloy said: "I don't think that the superintendent should be forced to spend money to provide protection for himself in the courts. I don't know the difference between custody and possession. The records are the property of the school and it is evident that he knows why this movement has been entered into to change his duties as secretary of the school committee. BACK FROM HUNTING TRIP TO CANADA

Mr. Edmund Traversy of 5 Dalton street has returned from a three months' hunting trip in Alberta, Canada. The Lowell huntsman spent a few weeks on the shores of Lake St. Pierre in the province of Quebec, but he reports that his luck with the shotgun was not as good as in previous years.

For the past ten or fifteen years Mr. Traversy always spent the early part of the fall season in Canada hunting game and owing to his skill with the gun he has always been very fortunate and on many occasions has given the members of the Centralville Social club a feast of Canadian game.

Mr. Traversy left Lowell in the early part of August and went directly to Thorburn, Alberta, Saskatchewan, where he was the guest of an old Lowell friend, Albert Boucher, a former resident of West Centralville, where for a number of years he was in the confectionery business. The Lowell hunter reports that Mr. Boucher is well established on a large farm and is doing well.

The two men entered the woods shortly after Mr. Traversy's arrival to try their luck for big game, but owing to weather conditions, they met with very poor success.

At Lake St. Pierre, where as a rule he generally bags numerous wild ducks, Mr. Traversy reports the sport was practically at a standstill. He said the temperature there was as mild as in this city, and in fact warmer with the result that the ducks remained under cover. He spent two weeks on the shores of the Great Lake and while there he erected a hunter's cabin, which he will utilize in future years.

Mr. Traversy reports a very pleasant trip despite the fact that the game was not as abundant as expected.

BITTEN BY DOG

It has been reported to the board of health that Fred Lawton, 131 Fletcher street, was bitten by a dog owned by a Mr. Fitzgerald, 13 Willie street. Dr. Sherman will investigate.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Daniel Healey and Miss Elizabeth Minery were united in marriage Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the rectory of St. Patrick's church. They were attended by Mr. Daniel Healey, a nephew of the bridegroom and Miss Winifred Ready, a niece of the bride. The bride wore a gown of white and the bridegroom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas J. McDonough. The bride was a beautiful young woman with a band of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Miss Mary Corby, the bridesmaid, wore a gown of blue and carried a bouquet of white roses. Mr. Joseph Quinn, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 20 Phillips street. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a string of pearls, while the bride received a pair of green gold cuff links from the bridegroom. Music at the reception was furnished by Dunfee's orchestra. The ushers were Mr. Charles Wood of Brockton and Mr. Charles McCarty of New York city. Present at the reception were guests from Providence, R. I., New York city, Lawrence, Mass., and Brockton, Mr. and Mrs. Quinn will be at home to friends at 20 Phillips street after Nov. 15.

Monette-Patenaude

Mr. Harry G. Monette and Miss Neta Mae Patenaude were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, 28 Greenfield avenue at 8:30 o'clock last evening by Rev. Arthur G. Lyon, formerly pastor of the Pawtucket Congregational church, who performed the double ring ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Ruth Patenaude, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, wore a gown of green and carried a bouquet of white roses. Mr. Lester Monette, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Miss Grace Monette acted as flower girl and Master Gordon Patenaude acted as ring bearer. Mr. J. Goodhue played the wedding march. A reception was tendered the bridal couple after the ceremony followed by a buffet luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Monette left on an extended wedding trip and upon their return will reside at 237 Branch street.

Turgeon-Hurley

Miss Katherine Hurley, R. N., for several years a resident of this city, and later of Auburn, Me., was married in the latter city on Monday morning to Mr. Joseph Turgeon of Grovelton, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. Turgeon who are on their honeymoon trip, visited relatives and friends in Lowell yesterday, returning to Portland, Me. This morning where they will visit Mr. Turgeon's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Turgeon will reside in Grovelton, N. H., where Mr. Turgeon is a prominent business man.

WILL PAY DIVIDEND

The Ipswich mills will tomorrow pay a dividend of 1 3/4 per cent on the preferred stock through the office of the Old Colony Trust Co., as transfer agent, according to Treasurer Russell H. Leonard. Stockholders of record Oct. 25 last, are entitled to share in the payment.

MAYOR CONGRATULATED

Mayor John J. Donovan today received a letter of congratulation and appreciation from Rear Admiral L. B. de Steiguer, commandant of the first naval district, thanking him for his interest and co-operation in making the Lowell observance of Navy day a success. "It was due to no small measure to your interest and co-operation," the letter stated.

LOWELL MAN MEMBER OF FORGET-ME-NOT DAY BIG AIRSHIP CREW

There is, in Lowell at the present time, spending a few days at his home at 8 Hale street, the only Massachusetts man in the crew of the huge navy rigid airship, the ZR-1. He is Bartholomew B. O'Sullivan, on duty at the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J. Mrs. O'Sullivan recently has returned from Lakehurst, where she witnessed all of the test flights of the big ship made to date and had the pleasure and distinction of being one of the first women in the country to inspect the airship inside the hull.

With Forget-Me-Not Day scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 10, the local branch of the Disabled War Veterans of the World War are making extensive preparations for the observance of the day in this city. The following poem, entitled "Get in Line—Give a Dime," by Thomas J. Traversy of Lowell, explains the motive which prompted the Forget-Me-Not Day.

Remember when the boys were leaving,
Leaving to fight overseas,
As they marched proud, strong, and healthy,
Marching out to the breeze.
Then you cheered the marching line,
Cheer again now, give a dime.

Give a dime, you'll never miss it,
And you'll know it's working here
Turning shadows into sunshine,
Bringing hope where was despair.
You may need a friend sometime,
Dwell on that, and give a dime.

Give a dime, you have plenty,
It may mean a lot you know
To someone with pockets empty.
As you'll not just as you saw,
Happiness brings peace of mind,
Know contentment, give a dime.

Say a dime will never break you,
Do not hesitate at all,
Dig right down, and reach your pocket.
Only prudes and pikers stall,
And I know you're not that kind,
Get it up, bud, give a dime.

Know the joy of cheerful giving
For it makes for happiness,
Selfishness your soul will sour,
With the thought of self obsessed,
Help the D. A. V., that's the line,
Step right up, and drop your dime.

MASTER ROBERT RYAN IN ROLE OF HOST

Master Robert Ryan tendered a reception to about 25 of his little friends on Monday afternoon at his home, 97 Henry street on the occasion of his tenth birthday. Games and other amusements together with piano selections by Robert Dunkley were enjoyed during the course of the afternoon. The house was prettily decorated in Halloween colors and novelties. Refreshments were served following the entertainment. Master Ryan was the recipient of many beautiful remembrances.

ANGLO-AMERICAN TREATY TO CURB RUM-RUNNING ALONG THE ATLANTIC COAST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—There is every expectation here that the arrangement to curb rum-running as worked out in London on the basis of suggestions made by Secretary Hughes will meet with the approval of the Washington government and that similar agreements will be made later with the other maritime powers. Lacking advice regarding the exact terms of the treaty draft as it has been modified during the London discussions, officials are withholding formal comment although they appear to believe on the basis of news dispatches, that Mr. Hughes' proposals virtually have been accepted without any change in principle.

As a result of the Anglo-American treaty and others of a similar character which the administration hopes to have ready for senate approval at the coming session of congress, "rum row" along the Atlantic coast is believed certain to disappear or at least to be pushed back to a distance that will make communication with the shore very difficult. The other maritime nations were approached on the subject at the same time that the proposal went forward to Great Britain and there have been intimations that most of them would follow the course of action decided on at London.

Terms for Treaty
LONDON, Oct. 31. (By the Associated Press).—The final terms which will form the basis for an Anglo-American treaty to curb rum-running along the Atlantic coast were announced today.

CITY SOLICITOR PREPARING FOR HEARING ON INCREASED PRICE OF COMMUTATION TICKETS

City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds is gathering data to aid him in appearing for the city before the department of public utilities next Monday at a hearing on the proposal of the Boston & Maine to increase the rate of commutation tickets for students and business men. For the city he will oppose the proposition. In preparation he has written all Boston schools asking for the number of Lowell young men and women who attend them and through the chamber of commerce, he is ascertaining the number of daily business commuters. These facts he will present to the public utilities officials as arguments against the justification of an increase at this time. The hearing is scheduled to be held at the state house next Monday forenoon.

NO ADVANCE HERE IN THE PRICE OF MILK

The winter price of pasteurized milk in greater Lowell—milk now retailed and delivered for 14 cents per quart—will not be advanced for at least two weeks to come, and perhaps not even then.

All bets are off on prophesied higher-priced milk for Lowell consumers starting tomorrow, Nov. 1. That does not mean that the "marketing committee" maintaining retail prices in Lowell and vicinity for the time being, will not eventually advance prices, but it will take more enthusiasm to put it over than was evident at last night's meeting of the committee, whose members went home and to bed at a late hour without any agreement on future prices and the situation remaining just so-so for the time being.

A member of the Lowell "marketing committee" said this morning that he expected another meeting of the "Big Ten" in about two weeks—along about Nov. 15—and then there might be a price advance—perhaps a small one, but at least a higher retail price for the winter months. The wholesale milk price is 12 cents per quart at the big wholesale stations.

L. T. Brown Gives Graphic Story of Being Locked 36 Hours in Wrecked "Sub" On Bottom of the Ocean

BARE INTERNAL STRIFE IN KLAN

Affidavits Bordering on the Sensational Promised at Atlanta, Ga., Today

Receivership for the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan Sought

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 31.—Affidavits bording on the sensational are promised in today's hearing of the case of David M. Rittenhouse of Philadelphia, and others seeking a receivership for the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. No statement as to what the affidavits contain was available before court reconvened, but it was understood internal strife in the Klan would be bared. The plaintiffs intimate they expect a strong counter-attack from the present

MR. CAMERON WILL NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

Donald M. Cameron, councillor from ward 3, announced today he will not seek re-election this fall. For the past week or more this question, he now settles by his own declaration, has been the subject of much conjecture in political circles, for he was practically sure of re-election in his ward if he cared to enter the fight.

His withdrawal opens the field to a number of potential candidates in that district who held off pending the councillor's decision. Two or three prominently mentioned are Edward Appleton, councillor-at-large in 1922, David

SHARP EARTHQUAKE
MADRID, Oct. 31.—A sharp earthquake occurred Monday at the village of Madrid, near Logrono. Deep cracks opened in the roads and it was necessary to stop work in the stone quarries because of the sulphurous fumes that issued therefrom.

AND THE BOY DID NOT TESTIFY

During the trial of a liquor case in district court this morning, counsel for the defendant introduced as a material witness, a seven-year-old youth.

Before taking the witness stand, Judge Ewright called the boy to his side and asked him if he goes to Sunday school.

"Yes sir," replied the boy. "Then you know what happens to little boys who tell lies, don't you?" asked the judge.

There was a few moments' silence. The boy hesitated, but did not answer. Instead he burst into tears.

He did not testify.

BODIES IN WATER BUT 48 HOURS

Mystery Surrounding the Morehouse Parish Kidnaping Cases is Deepened

Pathologist Says Mutilated Bodies of Daniel and Richard in Water But 48 Hours

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—Mystery surrounding the Morehouse parish kidnaping cases is deepened by a story published today in the Times-Picayune in which Dr. Charles W. Duval, pathologist, who conducted autopsies on the mutilated bodies taken from Lake Lafourche last December and identified as those of Walt Daniel and T. F. Richard, who were kidnapped by hooded band on Aug. 21, 1922, was declared to have told the newspaper last night that the bodies could not have been in the water more than 15 hours, if that long.

Dr. Duval's statement, the newspaper

PAYS TRIBUTE TO COMPANION

Lowell Boy Says Henry Breault, Torpedo Despatcher, Hero of Grim Adventure

Went Down in 30 Seconds and Settled in About 40 Feet of Water

Had No Food and No Water and Only Light of Flashlight

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Graphic stories of the experiences of two men locked 36 hours in the wrecked American submarine O-5 on the bottom of the ocean are told in a copyrighted despatch from Balboa to the Evening World today.

The story was related by Lawrence T. Brown of Lowell, Mass., chief electrician's mate, one of the men rescued from the submarine which was sunk in a collision with the steamship Abangarez, off Panama, Sunday.

"The first hour was the hardest," he said. "We didn't know just what had happened, or what might happen next. After three hours we knew they were working on the boat and we quit worrying. But it wasn't very pleasant at that."

Henry Breault Hero
Henry Breault, 15, of White Plains, N. Y., a torpedo despatcher, was the hero of the grim adventure. Brown was warm in praise of the boy and his sentiments were echoed by officers and others of the crew of the O-5. Breault was on the submarine deck and saw

PLANNING BOARD IS CONSIDERING NEW STREET PROPOSITION FOR TRAFFIC RELIEF

Board May Act on Recommendation for Bridge Across Concord River to Provide New Street From Davidson to Hurd Street—Brown Street Door to Auditorium is an Exit and Not a Public Entrance

The Lowell planning board has under serious consideration the recommendation of the construction of a new street from Davidson street, across the Concord river, by a bridge, to the junction of Hurd, Warren and George streets, for the purpose of relieving traffic congestion in the East Merrimack and Kearney square areas.

Patrick O'Hearn, chairman of the board, said today he did not care to commit either himself or his board on the question, but admitted the above outlined proposition has met with preliminary approval and action is expected at the next meeting.

As a means of further relief, the board is inclined to look with some favor upon the construction of a bridge across the canal at the foot of Dutton street to connect Dutton and French streets.

The planning board intends to give all possible attention to the traffic problem and while it realizes a solution cannot be secured without expense, it is believed the question is serious enough to call for drastic action. A new thoroughfare across the Concord river from Davidson to the junction of Warren, Hurd and George streets would create an artery of travel approximately parallel to Central street and would have the effect of lightening the burden of traffic now carried by the square and adjacent streets.

Brown Street Entrance
Considerable discussion has arisen concerning the use of the Brown street entrance to the Memorial Auditorium as an entrance for the general public and a word of explanation will show why this is hardly possible.

That entrance or doorway was constructed as a means of exit only, this being a stipulation of the state fire marshal, although it could be used as an entrance by entertaining companies and visiting artists. Through some misunderstanding, however, it has not been used as an exit, but hereafter beginning tonight, it will be so used. This will allow persons who park automobiles in Brown street to go directly from the Auditorium without passing through East Merrimack street or along the river bank esplanade and also will make for quicker and more comfortable exit for everyone.

ADD FUEL TO FLAMES

Bill to Make Philippines Permanent and Integral Part of United States

MANTILA, Oct. 31. (By the Associated Press.)—Additional fuel has been added to the political flames here by a cablegram received from Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, by the publisher of the Manila Times, predicting that a bill would be introduced at the next session of congress making the Philippines a permanent and integral part of the United States.

Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate and an active exponent of independence, in commenting on Senator Walsh's cablegram said he did not believe the American administration would sponsor or approve such a bill. The contemplated measure, he declared, would obviously contravene the promise given by congress as set forth in the Jones law pledging ultimate independence for the Philippines.

WOULD DEFEAT PURPOSE OF TRANSPORTATION ACT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The limitation of railroad security holders to a return of 6 per cent, Alvin W. Krech, chairman of the board of the Equitable Trust Co. of New York, told the Investment Bankers' Association of America last night. "With my opinion," he said, "I have no doubt that the purpose of the transportation act."

"In view of the hazards to which capital invested in the railroads is subjected," he said, "this limitation, if unchanged, will, in my opinion, check and ultimately prevent the flow of new capital into railroads, except at the expense of the existing investment in those properties. An opportunity is retained for the use of not more than 6 per cent, does not, under conditions as they now exist, or as they are likely to exist for some period to come, justify us in selling to the public shares of stock in existing railroad enterprises at a par on a 6 per cent basis."

"Unless economic conditions as they exist are recognized by our legislators, new capital cannot be recruited, and the act will fail of its purpose."

FUNERALS

BEGIN—The funeral of Benjamin J. Begin took place yesterday afternoon. The procession, headed by an automobile filled with beautiful flowers, left the home, 177 Moody street, and proceeded to St. Jean Baptiste church, where a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. J. A. Proulx, G.M. The church was filled with relatives and friends. An augmented choir under the direction of Rodolphe E. Pepin, the organist, sang "Pie Jesu" mass, the solos being sustained by Mr. and Mrs. Josephine Begin, Charles Begin, Joseph Buron, all of Lowell.

CHASSE—The funeral of Arthur Chasse, 177 Moody street, took place yesterday afternoon. The church was filled with relatives and friends. An augmented choir under the direction of Rodolphe E. Pepin, the organist, sang "Pie Jesu" mass, the solos being sustained by Mr. and Mrs. Josephine Begin, Charles Begin, Joseph Buron, all of Lowell.

LYONS—The body of Thomas Lyons, who died in Detroit last Saturday, the report of whose death was given in The Sun Monday evening, arrived in Lowell last night. The body was taken to the home of his aunt, Miss Julia Beardon, 30 Clark street, by Undertakers Charles H. Molloy & Sons.

DESCOTEAUX—The funeral of Mrs. Elmore Descoeteaux, who died in Lowell last night, took place this morning from the rooms of Funeral Director Joseph Albert. High funeral mass was celebrated in St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock, by Rev. Eugene J. Vincent. The choir, under the direction of Oliver J. David, sang the Gregorian chant. Mrs. Amanda David was the soloist and Miss Ida Mongrain was the organist. The bearers were Raymond Chandonnet, Benjamin Parent, Napoleon Landry and Henri Chandonnet. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

MURDOCK—The funeral of Mrs. Mary (Duffy) Murdock, who died at 8:30 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. John J. Dillon, 134 Grand street, and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where, at 9:15 o'clock, a funeral high mass was sung by Rev. John Manion. The choir, under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly, rendered the Gregorian chant. The solos being sustained by Miss Mary Rynne and Mr. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quilley presided at the organ. The bearers were Daniel Murdock, Joseph Dillon, Bertram Dillon and George J. Quilley. At the grave, Rev. Father Manion read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

MULLANE—The funeral of the late Jeremiah Mullane took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from his late home, 40 Linden street, and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where, at 9 o'clock, a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Francis L. Shea. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Mary Rynne and Mr. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quilley presided at the organ. The bearers were Daniel Murdock, Joseph Dillon, Bertram Dillon and George J. Quilley. At the grave, Rev. Father Manion read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

KIRKENDALL—The funeral of the late Patrick J. Kirkendall took place this morning at 10 o'clock from 14 Highland street, and proceeded to St. Peter's church where, at 10:30 o'clock, a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Daniel J. Hoffman. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Mary Rynne and Mr. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quilley presided at the organ. The bearers were Daniel Murdock, Joseph Dillon, Bertram Dillon and George J. Quilley. At the grave, Rev. Father Manion read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

SEVERE RAIN STORM HITS HONG KONG

HONG KONG, Oct. 31 (by the Associated Press).—One of the heaviest rain storms in the history of Hong Kong—11 inches falling between 11 o'clock yesterday morning and 8:30 this morning—has caused considerable damage. The force of the water lifted up large portions of macadamized roadways and large quantities of earth and sand were washed down from the hillsides and deposited on the pavements. The ground floors of many city offices were flooded. Minor landslides have been reported from various parts of the island. The vault of the International bank was flooded.

DEATHS

DESCOTEAUX—Mrs. Elmore Parent Descoeteaux, wife of the late Alexander Descoeteaux, died Sunday night at Somerville at the age of 89 years, 8 months and 27 days. She leaves to mourn her loss, three daughters, Mrs. Henry Chandonnet, Mrs. Omer DuCharme, Mrs. Maria Baeon, two sisters, Mrs. Xavier Descoeteaux of Pittsburgh, Mass. and Miss Josephine Parent of Three Rivers, Canada and also one niece and nephew. 25 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

HICKEY—Mrs. Ellen Hickey, a well known and highly respected member of St. Patrick's parish, died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maria Powers, 274 Fletcher street. She was one of the oldest members of St. Patrick's church, being an attendant since she came to this country over 40 years ago. She leaves several nieces and nephews and grandchildren and great grandchildren. She was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis.

ARTINIAN—Bedro Artinian, a former resident of this city, died Monday in Worcester, aged 77 years, 5 months and 20 days. He leaves two sons, Missak and Ohnias Katibian of 31 John street, this city. The body was brought to this city for services and burial.

LYONS—The body of Thomas Lyons, who died in Detroit last Saturday, the report of whose death was given in The Sun Monday evening, arrived in Lowell last night. The body was taken to the home of his aunt, Miss Julia Beardon, 30 Clark street, by Undertakers Charles H. Molloy & Sons.

MULLANE—The funeral of the late Jeremiah Mullane took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from his late home, 40 Linden street, and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where, at 9 o'clock, a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Francis L. Shea. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Mary Rynne and Mr. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quilley presided at the organ. The bearers were Daniel Murdock, Joseph Dillon, Bertram Dillon and George J. Quilley. At the grave, Rev. Father Manion read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

KIRKENDALL—The funeral of the late Patrick J. Kirkendall took place this morning at 10 o'clock from 14 Highland street, and proceeded to St. Peter's church where, at 10:30 o'clock, a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Daniel J. Hoffman. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Mary Rynne and Mr. Donnelly. Miss Gertrude Quilley presided at the organ. The bearers were Daniel Murdock, Joseph Dillon, Bertram Dillon and George J. Quilley. At the grave, Rev. Father Manion read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

GARY MAKES DENIAL

No Desire to Be Discourteous at Any Time, Especially to a Woman

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, today emphatically but courteously denied any implied discourtesy to a young woman who, last Monday, accepted him in Wall street and, in the process, handed him a pamphlet in which financial leaders' salaries were compared with those of their clerks.

"The young woman, who represented the union of bookkeepers, stenographers and accountants, which is seeking to unionize the 'white collar workers' of the financial district, had complained that Mr. Gary had unceremoniously brushed her aside."

"I hadn't the slightest idea of what this young woman wanted," Mr. Gary explained. "She startled me and I put up my hand to ward her off. Had I known she wanted to hand me a pamphlet, I certainly would have taken it, and I would have read it with interest, too. I have no desire to be discourteous at any time, especially to a woman."

FUNERAL NOTICES

CAMPBELL—The funeral of William Campbell will take place Thursday afternoon at the home, 10 Beech street at 2 o'clock. At St. Michael's church services will be read at 3 o'clock. On Friday morning a high mass of requiem will be celebrated at 8 o'clock, for the repose of his soul. Friends invited. Burial will take place in St. Patrick's cemetery, in charge of Undertaker William A. Mack.

HICKEY—The funeral of Ellen Hickey, a well known member of St. Patrick's parish, will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Powers, 274 Fletcher street. A high mass will be celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 8 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Funeral arrangements in charge of Charles H. Molloy & Sons.

LYONS—The funeral of Thomas Lyons, a World War veteran, who died in Detroit, will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of his aunt, Miss Julia Beardon, 30 Clark street. A funeral high mass will be celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 8 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Funeral arrangements will be in charge of Charles H. Molloy & Sons.

FERRIN—Died Oct. 29 at the home of her parents, 151 Princeton street, Mary Ferrin, beloved daughter of John E. and Nora A. (McElmott) Ferrin. The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of her mother, Mrs. John E. Ferrin, 151 Princeton street, in Calvary cemetery, Pennacook, N. H. under the direction of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

Bodies in Water But 48 Hours

stated, had been corroborated by Dr. John A. Lanford, pathologist of Tulane university, who assisted Dr. Duval with the autopsies. The newspaper quoted both pathologists as saying that in their opinions, the bodies were those of the kidnapped men.

Governor Parker of Louisiana repeatedly has stated that the Morehouse parish Ku Klux Klan was responsible for the kidnapping and alleged murder of Daniel and Richard, while members of the Morehouse Klan organization have charged that the bodies found in the lake were not those of the Mer Rouge men, but that they were "planted" there shortly before discovered in order to fasten the crime upon the Klan.

That the bodies were taken from a St. Louis medical school to the Morehouse and placed in the lake, has been charged by Captain J. K. Skipliff, ex-drilled cyclops of the parish Klan. Dr. Duval made his statement when he was asked by the newspaper regarding the testimony given yesterday in Atlanta in the Ku Klux Klan receivership suit that an investigator who visited Morehouse parish had said that the bodies identified as those of Richard and Daniel had been "spread-eagled" on a log wagon and their heads thus crushed off. Dr. Duval said such a procedure might indicate that the bodies identified as those have crushed the victims' heads or smashed off their feet, but could not have been the method by which their bones from head to foot had been symmetrically broken at about four inch intervals.

Many of those who have contended that the bodies identified as the missing men were "planted" in Lake Lafourche have expressed the belief that the bodies were taken to the lake in two huge boxes, shipped to Morehouse as part of the equipment of a diver who was employed to explore the bottom of the lake a few days before they were brought to the surface by a dynamite charge.

Others have advanced the theory that the bodies of the kidnapped victims were concealed and when the search became intensive they were thrown into the lake to prevent discovery.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Gorham Street Store Keeper Fined and Sentenced for Illegal Keeping

There was a small variety of cases in district court this morning. The usual long list of auto cases being conspicuous by their absence.

Stanislav Kapla, already on probation for non-support, appeared on a charge of drunkenness, and was continued until June 12 on condition that he keep drinking and contribute to the support of his wife and family.

Joseph Robitaille was fined $10 for unlawfully having a pheasant in his possession.

Leo Donnelly was continued in $400 until next Friday on charges of unlawfully using an automobile belonging to Amelion Caron and another one belonging to the city of Lowell.

Agent Sullivan in Town Again
A search of a Gorham street fruit store yesterday afternoon by Officers Leahy, Lister, Maloney and Federal Agent Sullivan, the latter recently returned from the federal duty in New Jersey, resulted in the arrest of Robert Caron for illegal keeping. About 40 pint bottles and several quart bottles of alleged moonshine, were seized on the premises and taken as evidence.

To await analysis of the seized liquor, the case was continued until Nov. 10. Frank Silva pleaded not guilty to illegal keeping on the grounds that the goods found in his Gorham street store were left there by a seven-year-old boy a few minutes before Officers Winn, Conboy and Moore of the liquor squad arrived. Witnesses stated that the boy found the bottles in an adjoining alley and took them to Silva's store with the intention of selling them.

"It's surprising the schemes these people get up," commented Judge Bartrigh in remarking on the story of the boy. He forthwith found defendant guilty and ordered him, in view of a previous offense of the same nature, to pay a fine of $150 and be committed to the house of correction for three months. On appeal, bonds were fixed at $300 for Silva's appearance in superior court.

CALEY GOES TO NEW HAVEN FOR FORGERY

Frank S. Caley, the youth who appropriated a contribution box belonging to the Lowell guild during his recent conduct tag day in this city and who was subsequently found guilty of larceny in district court, was turned over to the New Haven authorities this morning, as he is wanted in that city for forgery.

Bare Internal Strife in Klan

Klan administration when the defendants side is heard.

A description of how Watt Daniel and F. E. Richard, Mer Rouge, La. citizens, the state of Louisiana charged, were killed by a hooded band, met their fate of a Ku Klux Klan educational campaign in Oklahoma and of activities of the Klan in connection with the ex-parte hearing, investigating the death of Daniel and Richard at Bastrop, La., were read yesterday from depositions signed by former Klan investigators and Dr. H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan. Dr. Evans told of the Oklahoma incident.

Another development was publication of a letter written by E. Y. Clarke, imperial giant of the Klan and former imperial wizard pro tem, pending the elections of Dr. Evans. Clarke charged his life was threatened and "his reputation at stake" in declining to call a meeting of an important Klan committee of which he was chairman. He further alleged a "conspiracy" within the Klan to defame him.

Dr. Evans declared that the Klan believed an anti-flooding law should be passed in Oklahoma, and said it was the desire of the officials of the Klan to stamp out that sort of lawlessness. Asked what had been accomplished planned in Oklahoma, the imperial wizard said it was to have been a speaking campaign. He said there was to have been no campaign against Gov. Walton in connection with Dr. Evans, denied knowledge of money furnished the Klan in Oklahoma but said "if" the Klan had been properly furnished then in such amounts as were necessary."

WHEN BACK HURTS FLUSH OUT KIDNEYS

Drink Lots of Good Water All Day, Also Take Salts Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your blood clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urino-acids and stimulates them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 gallons of acid waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of good water every day. Drink too much, also eat from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jals Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder troubles.

Jals Salts is a non-toxic, non-irritant, makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and you don't wonder what became of your kidney trouble and bladder pain. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

ARRIVAL OF THE SISTINE CHAPEL CHOIR

The choir from the Sistine Chapel, Mer. Antonio Rella, conductor, arrived in Lowell shortly before 10 o'clock this morning in special Pullmans. They were met at the depot by a delegation from Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus, headed by Grand Knight Frank A. Groves. Other members of the Knights' committee were Lecturer E. F. Slattery, Jr., Charles P. Hunt, Albert D. O'Hell, Daniel Walker, John E. Adams and Richard O'Connell.

Accompanied by Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L., pastor of St. Patrick's church here, the priests accompanying the choir went immediately to St. Patrick's church, where they sang mass. Breakfast was served in the Richardson hotel. The Knights of Columbus rooms were thrown open to the visitors for the day and they will spend their time there until time for the concert tonight. From here the choir will go to Portland, Me., thence to Montreal, Quebec and Toronto.

The choir sang in infancy hall, Providence, last night.

The choir assembled at the Auditorium for a rehearsal this noon under Monsignor Rella. There are 53 voices, ranging in age from 10 to 63 years. The choir will give ten numbers tonight, the same program as given last night in Providence. Monsignor Rella stated this noon that the choir was warmly received in Providence and obliged to encure three numbers several times.

First Woman Lord Mayor of England

NORWICH, England, Oct. 31.—This city has the honor of naming the first woman lord mayor of England. Several small towns have had women mayors, but no city aspiring to the importance of being governed by a lord mayor has hitherto chosen a woman for the post. The dignity has now been bestowed upon Miss Ethel Colman, daughter of the late J. J. Colman, M. P., a member of the world famous mustard-making firm. The city authorities further surprised male office seekers by appointing a Miss MacGregor to be town clerk, an office usually given to a local lawyer. Miss MacGregor was chosen over the heads of many male applicants.

Reinforcements for Island of Mindanao

MANILA, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press) One hundred additional Philippine constabulary troops left today for the island of Mindanao aboard the coast guard cutter Mindoro. While no recent word had been received from Gov. General Wood, who is at Parang, Mindanao, investigating the recent Moro uprisings, the sending of reinforcements is believed to indicate that the situation is more serious than he at first thought. The most recent Moro outbreak occurred Sunday, Oct. 14, in the Lanna district of Mindanao when a constabulary detachment of 10 men and three teachers were massacred.

Stresemann's Hand Strengthened

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Chancellor Stresemann's hand is believed to have been strengthened as regards his policy toward Saxony by the decision of the united socialists to postpone until today, a decisive vote on the party's attitude toward the government's measures in that state. Whereas yesterday the withdrawal of the three socialist ministers in the cabinet was threatened, thereby menacing the tenure of the ministry, the political situation late last night so shaped itself that early this morning the government appeared stronger.

For Resumption of Work in the Ruhr

DUESSELDORF, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press) Hope for the ultimate success of the present negotiations for the resumption of work in the Ruhr valley, in progress between the Hugo Stinnes group of industrialists and the French authorities, is seen in the very protracted nature the conversations have assumed. It was announced this morning that the conference had been divided into a number of sub-committees, each charged with certain technical details.

Dr. Fellisch Premier of Saxony Cabinet

DRESDEN, Saxony, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press) The Saxon Diet early today elected Dr. A. Fellisch as premier by a vote of 46 to 18. After the election the house adjourned until Nov. 6. Dr. Fellisch, a socialist, was minister of economics before the recently deposed socialist-communist government was established.

Doctors Secured Licenses Through Fraud

WATERBURY, Conn., Oct. 31.—Governor Templeton last night asked prosecuting authorities to institute immediate investigation into charges that 142 doctors in this state had secured their licenses through fraud and perjury, many of them through purchasing fake medical diplomas and if warranted, that action be taken against them at once.

Former Cabinet Minister Assassinated

SOFIA, Oct. 31.—Nikolai Guenadiev, a former cabinet minister, was assassinated at his own doorstep last night, and M. Gueshoff, former Bulgarian minister at Constantinople who was with him was seriously wounded. The police ascribe the crime to private vengeance. M. Guenadiev was chief and founder of the national liberal party.

Gales and Heavy Rains Damage Crops

MADRID, Oct. 31.—Violent gales and heavy rains have caused enormous damage to the crops, especially oranges, in the provinces of Valencia and Alicante. Rivers are flooded.

DANCE HALL CASE STILL ON IN SUPERIOR COURT

While Charles E. Alway, a contractor, was testifying in superior court this morning in the case of Richard et al. vs. Morin, an action growing out of the collapse of the dance hall on the Pawtucket boulevard, Attorney S. Howard for the defense, raised a question of law which resulted in a long conference between counsel and the court. The jury was temporarily excused and for almost two hours the point at issue was discussed. Mr. Alway made an examination of the ruins after the collapse of the building and he testified as to conditions he found. Just before the collapse was called to the stand, Mr. Gilbert was an architect and he also made an examination. The court examined the ruins after the collapse. The suit is for $20,000, the plaintiff claiming that the dance hall collapsed because of faulty construction and because durable materials were not used.

TAKES EXCEPTION TO STATEMENT

John J. Maherty, clerk of the license commission, today stated that the recent assertions attributed to members of the vice squad of the police department to the effect that the majority of lodging-houses conducted by foreigners in this city are operated illegally, is untrue. These charges, the allegations that licenses to conduct such houses are granted to unqualified persons, saying that one of the essentials for procuring a license is the presentation of first citizenship papers to the board.

The usual method of procedure, in regard to the license, must be made to the board. An officer of the law is then appointed to investigate the premises to be licensed and if conditions warrant, the license is then granted. But the petitioner must have taken out first citizenship papers. Revisions follow if the person thus licensed violates the regulations.

WERE CHARGED WITH THREATENING

As the result of a wordy altercation and alleged threats of bodily injury on the part of Timothy Hayes and George Shattuck against Howard Wilson, all of North Billerica, Hayes and Shattuck appeared in district court this morning, charged with threatening. Both were found guilty and placed under bonds of $100 each to keep the peace for six months.

SECOND VICTIM OF MYSTERIOUS ACCIDENT

NEW BEDFORD, Oct. 31.—William H. Jackson of 209 Ray street, Fall River, died in the United States Marine hospital at Vineyard Haven at 10:30 this morning without recovering consciousness from the effects of a fall from a building. Jackson, along with Arthur W. White of Roxbury, was found about the motor launch Virese when she beached on the north shore of the Vineyard Sunday. White died yesterday and the mystery as to where the boat sailed from on the trip that proved fatal to both occupants remains unsolved.

SPEED BOAT RAMS STEAM FREIGHTER

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 31.—An unnamed speed boat carrying no lights, rammed the steam freighter Subarico of the Trans-Marine Co. line in Hudson territory off Highlands, N. J., early today, her master reported on making port today.

ANNUAL REUNION OF ST. COLUMBA'S PARISH

Tentative plans for the annual reunion of St. Columba's parish were formulated at an enthusiastic meeting held in the parish hall last night. The reunion will take place some time in January. Andrew Molloy was named chairman and general manager of the reunion. The reunion will be held on Monday evening and at this session the first definite plans of procedure will be decided upon.

MAINE MAN TALKS ON AIMS OF KU KLUX KLAN

It is reported that a few less than 100 men attended a meeting in Odd Fellows hall last night addressed by an out-of-town speaker, said to be from Maine. Admission was by ticket only and the speaker gave his views as to the aims and purposes of the Ku Klux Klan. Many questions were asked him but it is understood that no definite answers or explanations were forthcoming and no definite organization is believed to have been formed at the meeting.

The fact that such a meeting was held in the parish hall on next Monday evening and at this session the first definite plans of procedure will be decided upon.

Two years ago and is certain to be selected as a member of the American Olympic team in 1928. Bowman has already shown his heels to several Syracuse rivals. In the game with Hobart he twice ran 55 yards for a touchdown on the very first play of the game. Bowman and Mary game he crashed the kickoff while standing directly under the Syracuse goal and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. Not an opposing player came even close to touching him.

Notre Dame boasts two remarkable halfbacks in Don Miller and Crowley. Miller has 11 touchdowns and Crowley has 10. In the game with Hobart, Miller ran 55 yards for a touchdown on the very first play of the game. Bowman and Mary game he crashed the kickoff while standing directly under the Syracuse goal and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. Not an opposing player came even close to touching him.

Skin trouble costs many a man his job

No matter how efficient a man may be, if he has an ugly skin eruption, there are positions in which he cannot be tolerated. He may know that it is not in the least contagious, but other people are afraid and avoid him, and he must make way for a man with a clear, healthy skin. Why run this risk, when

Sensational Developments Expected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The purchase of the site for a proposed tuberculosis hospital at Livermore, Cal., formed the subject matter of inquiry today by the senate committee investigating the Veterans' Bureau. Charges of a rather startling character regarding this transaction already have been made before the committee but even more sensational developments are forecast.

Man of 91 Weds Spinster of 88

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Robert Broom, 91, and a widower and Elizabeth Bolt, 88, and a spinster, were married yesterday at Forest Gate, East London. Both were so feeble that they were obliged to sit during the ceremony, which was curtailed in consideration of their weakness. They signed the register with trembling hands.

Law to Be Buried in Westminster Abbey

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press) The body of Andrew Bonar Law, the former prime minister, will be buried in Westminster Abbey at noon next Monday.

Women are Different

Woman's sensibilities are finer, her enthusiasms deeper, than man's. She overworks, overplays, "lives on her nerves," is nearly always constipated—and suffers! Women need Beecham's Pills. They bring roses to cheeks, sparkle to eyes, quiet to nerves, by stimulating healthy digestion and regular, complete elimination. (See Booklet.)

CITY COUNCIL MEETS TO DRAW JURORS

The city council met in special session last night for the purpose of drawing jurors for the present session of the superior civil court now sitting in this city. Routine petitions before the body also were disposed of and the decks were cleared for action so as to allow plenty of time for the several hearings scheduled for that date.

Council members drew the following names for jury duty: Horace B. Kittredge, 34 Third avenue.

Michael A. Lee, 64 Bartlett street. Martin Rock, 18 Shaffer street. Joseph N. Gosselin, 64 Moody st. John J. King, 329 Concord street. James E. McLaughlin, 533 Central street.

Andrew Lavigne, 51 White street. Charles A. Asselin, 165 Dalton st.

Among favorable reports from the board of public service acted upon was the passage of an order covering the installation of six lights in Lundberg st. in the vicinity of the new bridge. Orders recommending the installation of spot lights for traffic posts and additional lights in the rear of the police station, both of which were proposed by Councilor Lambert were passed.

A petition was received requesting that no restrictions be placed upon Nevins street. It was filed inasmuch as no petition has been received to restrict traffic in that street. Lowell Post, American Legion, requested the removing of squares and street intersections in honor of Lowell soldiers who died in France as follows: Eugene and Tracy squares, junction of East Merrimack, Alder and Nevins streets; Raymond E. Chappell square, junction of Nevins and Rogers streets; Richard Corbett square, junction of Bond and Pleasant streets. Referred to board of public service.

Councilor Lambert brought up the question of the maintenance of a temporary sidewalk in front of construction now going on in Middlesex st. opposite Odd Fellows building and on his motion the clerk was authorized to write the board of public service to that effect.

Adjourned 9:05 o'clock.

NOTRE DAME ALUMNAE EXECUTIVE BOARD

The executive board of the Lowell Notre Dame Alumnae held a meeting at the Academy of Notre Dame yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Mrs. Alice Saunders, president, in the chair. Several routine matters were disposed of. Among the affairs up for discussion were the advisability of holding various sales throughout the year and also the holding of a grand top concert New Year eve. Although it is not officially known whether the Memorial Auditorium will be available on the above-mentioned date, it was deemed advisable to hold the concert there if arrangements can be made. The following committee was appointed to visit the Auditorium and ascertain the adaptability of the Auditorium for the occasion: Mrs. Alice Saunders, Miss Marie O'Donnell, Miss Georgiana Paquette, Miss Carmen Rediker, Miss Annie Devine, Miss Elizabeth O'Brien and Miss Annie Donovan.

ADDRESS AT ALL SOULS' PARISH HOUSE

Dr. A. Warren Stearns, of Billerica, consulting expert at the Psychopathic Hospital in Boston, addressed about 50 members of the All Souls alliance at the All Souls parish house yesterday afternoon on "Determining Factors in Conduct."

Dr. Stearns touched upon the theories that these factors are claimed by some to be heredity and by others to be results of environment. He would not say which he thought were the causes, but depicted illustrations substantiating both claims. He also touched upon the Darwinian theory and showed how the human expressions are consistent in many instances with those of wild beasts.

Dr. Stearns was given a vote of thanks at the conclusion of his address, which was warmly appreciated. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Adele Staples.

Keeping Millions Free From Colds and La GrippeW. H. HILL'S LIFE WORK

Colds cause more illness than any other human ailment. Realizing this 50 years ago, W. H. Hill determined to develop a quick-acting scientifically correct cold and la grippe remedy.

Years of research brought success. Mr. Hill discovered a most remarkable formula. He backed it with energy, faith, integrity and a name that meant "satisfaction or money back."

Today more than 4,000,000 families—one-fifth of America's population—use and recommend Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine.

The formula has never been changed in a quarter century. What Hill's has done for millions, it can do for you. Demand red box bearing Mr. Hill's portrait. All druggists, 30 cents.

A BETTER SHAMPOO

It contains considerably more coconut oil than the ordinary shampoos, making it not only a greater cleanser, but more economical as well.

GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL COCONUT OIL SHAMPOO

thoroughly removes all dust, dirt and dandruff from the hair, leaving a clean, healthy scalp. The brilliant, wavy appearance obtained is due to the scientific proportioning of coconut oil, which glosses the hair and stimulates the roots into greater activity. Gouraud's Oriental Coconut Oil Shampoo is so far superior that the difference is noticeable at once.

The name "Gouraud" is backed by over 80 years of public confidence. Gouraud's Oriental Cream, Gouraud's Medicated Soap, Gouraud's Oriental Cold Cream are products which have won world-wide fame through exceptional merit.

Don't Be Weak, Tired, Worn Out Before the Day's Work is Done!

No matter how much brains you have, you can't do your best unless you feel your best every minute of the day. And you can't feel your best when sleep no longer refreshes you and you get up for work feeling dull and tired—so worn out by the middle of the afternoon that you are nervous and feel like flopping down on a bed. Often your digestion isn't like it used to be and you don't get the full nourishment from your meals; you are using up more strength and energy than you are replacing and unless you take better care of yourself a break-down is almost sure to follow.

Build Yourself Up! Take a good tonic, as your doctor would advise. Try just a spoonful of it.

Thacker's after the next few months and notice the quick difference in the way you eat, sleep, look and feel. Let this wholesome, vegetable tonic help you to win back a hearty appetite. To improve digestion, to tone the liver and relaxed nerves—to gently correct constipation and send pure, healthful blood coursing through the veins and restore strength, energy and vigor. Get a bottle on the way home tonight! Unless you are completely satisfied, Thacker's are authorized to refund the small cost. BROKE COLLAR BONE IN AUTO CRASH

The heavy rainfall last evening was the probable cause of a rear-end crash on State street in Wilmington between two auto trucks owned by the Prior Transportation Co. of Boston, as a result of which John Falvey, a chauffeur on one of the trucks, was removed to St. John's hospital suffering from a broken collar bone.

Both trucks were proceeding towards Lowell, Falvey driving his as a trailer. Falvey failed to notice the leading truck slow down and crashed into it. He said that the heavy rain made it impossible for him to have a clear vision.

Ex-Crown Prince to Return to Germany

DOORN, Holland, Oct. 31.—Former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Prussia, it is learned authoritatively, has asked permission of the Dutch government to return to Germany. Holland does not object, but would not allow the prince to return again to this country. According to reliable sources Friedrich Wilhelm has conferred with the German minister at The Hague in regard to his return.

OUT OUR WAY

FOR SOME REASON OR OTHER, THE OLD CROSSING WATCHMAN HAS DECIDED TO TAKE HIS SHANTY HOME WITH HIM TONIGHT.

HELD SUCCESSFUL WHIST AND MUSICALS

The Ladies' Sodality of the Notre Dame de Lourdes parish gave a most successful whist and musicals Monday evening in the Notre Dame de Lourdes parish house in East Pine street.

The hall had been tastefully decorated for the occasion with Halloween colors, a few witches here and there, along with the green-eyed cat to give it color. Many of the young people of the parish who attended the affair came garbed in original Halloween attire and added greatly to the success of the affair.

After a set of hits had been played in the game of whist by the hundreds present, the floor was cleared and the final drawing for the statue of the death of St. Joseph was held with Paul Lambert of 31 Grand street being the winner.

A fine musical program was then carried out including solos and dance numbers by the members of the parish. Recitations and several classical and popular selections were given by the Dion sisters. The program closed with a farce impersonation by Philippe Malles. Games were also played which proved to be as much fun for the participants as for the on-lookers.

The chairman of the various committees in charge of the affair were as follows: Ticket committee, Lorecia Michael; decorating and entertainment committee, Sadie Melancon; refreshment committee, Mary Perron.

BATTERY B TO OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice day will be celebrated in a military manner this year by Battery B, 102nd Field Artillery, as it was last year, with the 2nd Annual Field Day, on Saturday, Nov. 10 from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The city has granted them the South common for this purpose and will have it properly wired off in order that the various maneuvers may be gone through without interference or danger to the crowds of people who will flock there to witness the event.

Plans as at present decided upon call for a brilliant flourish in the opening, by having the battery come galloping down the slope on the side of the common, and upon arrival at the bottom of the hill will proceed to unlimber and go into action. Two volleys will be fired at this time, to lend a realistic effect to the maneuvers. There will be machine guns and 75's in the equipment of the battery on this day. Other plans call for sham battles, with plenty of star shells and signal rockets of the type used "over there." A great deal of exhibition horsemanship is included in the program, with rough and trick riding, hurdling races on horseback, Roman riding in which the members of the battery will ride on 2, 3 and 4 horses at once in a standing position.

A girl who is the graduate of a famous riding school has volunteered her services in a feature to be called the "Race for a Bride." She will in all probability ride the famous horse Teddy, the idea being for 20 or 30 members of the battery to chase her, and the one who catches her must sling her up on his own mount and carry her back in safety to the judges' stand.

The Organized Reserve corps headed by Major Francis J. Tooley, has promised to put on an exhibition novelty in the course of the afternoon. The city is standing the expense of hiring the Reserve corps band for the afternoon, and it has already been signed up.

Invitations have been issued to the following military organizations throughout the city: American Legion, Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Volunteers, Grand Army of the Republic, Disabled Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, D. B. and C. of the 152nd Infantry.

try of Lowell, Combat train of the artillery and to all the officers of the city government and school boards.

A meeting of the committee heads will be held tonight at the armory at 8 o'clock and definite steps taken with regard to the program and incidentals connected therewith.

This Little World

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Washington is parking up. Congress will soon be home again. Then things will begin to move, business will improve, social affairs will increase, the old town's wheels will hum.

The coming winter probably will set a new high mark in the number and variety of interests maintaining special organizations in Washington to "keep an eye on legislation." But they're not here simply to watch passively, the way things are moving with the special situations in which they are interested. They're to help set the course, so far as may be done, by persuading members to see the signals through their own specially focussed bifocals.

In addition to the purely legislative interests which will bring a gathering of the clans when congress gets together again, there will be the extra attraction this winter of the maneuvering for the presidential handicap of 1924. Conferences and conferences, conventions and confabulations, soirees and teas, balls and receptions all will unite in making or unmaking legislation, candidacies, reputations and history.

Small wonder, then that the old town perks up as the date for convening congress approaches, that tradesmen are refurbishing and restocking their stores, that hotel-keepers are recasting their tariffs, that caterers and florists, modistes and martinetists are looking ahead to better, busier days!

One of the last rites marking the retirement of Mrs. Warren G. Harding from public life was the delivery, last week, to the Smithsonian Institution of one of the gowns she wore as first lady. This gown, on a figure representing Mrs. Harding, will be preserved in the historical costume exhibit of the National Museum, where gowns worn by all first ladies, from Martha Washington down, are on display.

WRETCHEDLY NERVOUS WOMAN

Was Depressed and Irritable—Now Well and Always Cheerful

"Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I became so weak, fretful, irritable and excitable that the least thing made my heart flutter and my limbs tremble as though I had a chill. I was utterly unable to control my emotions and a clap of thunder would make me shriek from terror. I finally became so depressed, fidgety and debilitated that I sometimes felt actually ashamed of myself. I began taking Vincarnis and after a very short time the improvement in my whole condition was really startling. Everyone commented on it. Today my appetite is excellent, I sleep soundly, am cheerful all the time and have an abundance of energy. I do wish that every nervous or run-down woman could know what a wonderful tonic and restorative Vincarnis is."

Ghosts, Games, Apples and Pumpkin Pie

Atmosphere in Decorations

By SISTER MARY

Let the table decorations for your Halloween party be as "rustle" as possible. A large pumpkin, used in bowl fashion, filled with rosy apples and nuts and grapes, has the merit of being as inexpensive as it is artistic.

If a floral centerpiece is preferred, the same pumpkin bowl will be charming filled with autumn leaves and vines. Light the table with candles and use carefully pressed and lettered oak or maple leaves for place cards.

The candle holders offer a chance for quite a bit of originality. Carrots, turnips, apples, potatoes and cabbages can be carved or hollowed out in the center to form holders for candles. Orange shells can be used for tiny Jack-o'-lanterns. A large ear of golden field corn can be broken in half and the cob cut away at one end to hold a candle.

Little Cost

Bowls of asters, wild ones, and goldenrod with feathery white elements, branches of autumn leaves and stalks of corn can be used effectively throughout the house.

Decorations of this sort could be used for almost any sort of a Halloween party. But if you have in mind a party of ghosts and spooks and witches, decorations of black cats and old women of broomsticks will lend an eerie and suggestive touch.

These silhouettes can be purchased at a five and ten-cent store or made at home. Black cardboard paper and a pair of sharp scissors with a paper pattern are the necessary utensils.

Orange and black crepe paper can be fringed and used for shades over the lights, or attractive "transparencies" can be found in the stores.

Bats and owls are effective, cut from black paper and used as shields for side lights. The eyes of the owl can be cut out to let the light shine through, and the veins of the bat's outspread wings and a thin line to mark the shape of his body can be removed with a sharp knife.

Three tiny owls can be pasted together to form individual holders for nuts or candies.

The broom of an old witch can bear the name of a guest for a place card. A black cat with a humped back and a waving tail can conceal a tiny fortune in a bow or red or yellow ribbon tied around his cardboard neck.

Black Cat

If there's a member of the family who is clever with a saw, inveigle him into sawing out some rampant black cats from as strong pieces of wood as he can use. Drive a nail in the very tip of pussy's tail and force a big plumber's candle over the nail. The ends of course should have several coats of glossy black paint. The angle of the head, the hump of the back and the "wave" of the tail can be made most expressive.

To go back to the table decorations, the luncheon or supper itself can be made so decorative that aside from place cards and a centerpiece, additional favors are unnecessary. Bright red apple cups filled with salad are most attractive. Golden oranges filled with dessert rival the most expensive molded ice. Jolly little round pumpkin-yellow cakes with a surprise in the centre are vastly more fun than the most elaborate of "crackers."

Three tiny owls can be pasted together to form individual holders for nuts or candies. The broom of an old witch can bear the name of a guest for a place card. A black cat with a humped back and

LOWELL HAS MANY HALLOWEEN PARTIES

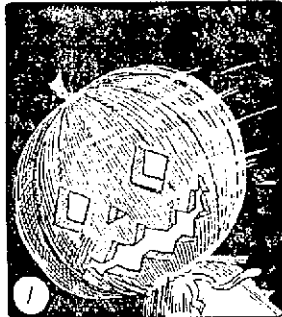

With any number of events for tonight, and almost an equal number having been held last night, Halloween in Lowell seems to have resolved itself into a two-day celebration.

Last night the girls of Page's made merry with their male friends at Dracut. The Men's club and the Re Square combined in a fine time at the Y.M.C.A. The Dracut Grange hall and the Bonhouse, Associate and the C.C.A. hall on Middle street all were the scene of gay activities by folk fond of dancing and general merriment.

Tonight Bishop Delany assembly, Fourth Deere, K. of C. will have a fine Halloween party and dance in K. of C. hall, Boston street. Henry F. Sullivan, Lowell's channel swimmer, will be standard-bearer at the C.Y.M.L. party at Associate, and the dream will go big in Dracut Grange hall. There are innumerable private parties as there were last night.

And mischievous young America will take over the ruction-raising part of the Halloween program as has been the custom since time immemorial.

TAKEN FROM LIFE

Here's No End of Fun for the Evening

THE PHOTO ABO VE ALSO SUGGESTS COSTUMES FOR HALLOWEEN

By SISTER MARY

Halloween usually reveals the "Petter Pan" in all of us. For the old-fashioned games of our ancestors continue to charm and interest.

Apple bobbing, apple paring, nut naming and innumerable simple old tricks are heaps of fun and require no great outlay of money.

To bob apples fill a tub or shallow pail with clear water. The tub should not be more than two-thirds full of water. Curve the initials of the girls on fine red apples and place in tub. The men "bob" for the apples, capturing them with their teeth. The initials are those of their future wives.

The apple paring game is played by both men and girls. Each person pares an apple, making the paring as long as possible. This is swung over the head three times and then dropped over the right shoulder. If the paring remains unbroken and forms an initial, the initial is that of the thrower's fate.

Naming nuts is fun when a wood fire burns in a fireplace. Each girl is given three chestnuts. These she names for her three "best dears," so to speak, and as the nuts burn or "pop" so will the lover declare his regard. Some nuts gently burst open with a lovely little pop. This means that the gentleman "will pop the question" in the most approved manner.

Oracles

The Delphic Oracle provides much amusement. Some member of the party should be stationed in a dark corner. Let him stand on a box to increase his height, shroud him in a sheet and let him hold a jack-o'-lantern on his head. The oracle can answer only yes or no to questions asked her, but the reluctance with which she nods or shakes her head can be very expressive. One of the tin pumpkin lanterns is easier to handle than a real pumpkin.

Aypsy fortune teller in a shock of corn can tell the future by reading palms or cards. She provides a very decorative touch as well as much fun.

And speaking of the decorative touch, there is nothing more effective than corn stalks and autumn leaves and vines simply arranged. Pumpkins and vegetables of all sorts can be used for candle sticks. And as far as possible let the lights be candles.

Ghosts

Ghost stories are always in order for Halloween. These should be told before an open fire if possible, with a cleverly arranged banging shutter or door in some distant part of the house for an eerie accompaniment. If an open fire is out of the question, try this:

Fill a shallow pan two-thirds full of salt. Pour over as much alcohol as the salt will absorb. Light and place in the centre of a square of asbestos. Put on the floor or on a table, the guests forming a ring around the blaze.

More Spooks

More than likely the small boys of the neighborhood will quite unconsciously add to the spookiness of the party by tick-tacking the windows and throwing corn at irregular intervals.

A sheet and pillow case party is always fun and most appropriate for Halloween. When everyone is masked the same it's much harder to guess who's who than when the choice of the costume itself often proclaims the masquerader.

The very atmosphere of autumn bespeaks success for a Halloween party and with nuts and apples and pumpkin pie and elder during the evening, 10 or 20 young men and girls are sure to have a jolly time in playing informal games.

HALLOWEEN STUFF

TRYING TO IDENTIFY UNKNOWN WOMAN

William A. Bryan, M.D., superintendent of the Worcester State hospital has sent a letter to the police with photograph enclosed of a woman of 65 years now being detained at the Worcester institution suffering from a mental illness. She was picked up in the streets of Boston on Sept. 15, very red-headed and calls herself "Mother". The local police will appreciate any information that might possibly lead to her identification.

Middlesex Hall in Palmer street, was the scene of a merry gathering this afternoon when about 200 grade school children, belonging to the various clubs affiliated with the Girl Reserve clubs of the International Institute, were tendered a Halloween party by the executive board of the institute. Various games were played and a general good time was enjoyed by all present. This evening a party will be given the girls of the young women's divisions of the club. General dancing will be enjoyed following the entertainment program.

The Sunday school members of the Westminster Presbyterian church held a Halloween social and old fashioned box party in the vestry of the church last night. Albert Johnson auctioned off the lunch boxes and Halloween games were played. Halloween decorations will be held in K. of C. hall, Boston street, tonight. The event will mark the opening of the fall and winter season of the assembly and bids fair to be a most enjoyable one. Patrons of the party tonight will find a fantastically decorated hall, plenty of favors and the best dance music obtainable. The committee, published in a recent issue of The Sun, has left nothing undone to make the affair successful.

A HELD HALLOWEEN SOCIAL. The Sunday school members of the Westminster Presbyterian church held a Halloween social and old fashioned box party in the vestry of the church last night. Albert Johnson auctioned off the lunch boxes and Halloween games were played. Halloween decorations tions in the vestry lent a captivating atmosphere to the party. The committee in charge of the affair were as follows: Stewart Buchanan, Daniel McDonald, Francis Wright, Emma Sutton, Esther Ross and Eleanor McDonald.

COMMUNITY BAZAAR. The community bazaar being conducted by the parishioners of the Matthews Memorial church in Gorham street, opened last night with an attendance that ran well into the hundreds and proved itself a tremendous success. At 1:30 o'clock the bazaar was opened with a short speech by Mayor John J. Donovan, in which he made clear the purpose of the bazaar and its benefits to the community.

FORWARD—NOT BACKWARD

Textile industries of New England are coming out strongly in favor of going back to the 84-hour week as a means of enabling them to cope with southern competition. They are putting out copious statistics, the purport of which is to show that unless they can run their factories on the same schedules in force in the south, they will be unable to compete. Arguments in support of this contention are being put out in newspapers and magazines with damaging effect to New England. Their demand is that we return to conditions similar to those of the south which we left behind thirty years ago. Rather is it necessary to bring the south up to the New England standards with regard to working hours and the abolition of child labor so common in the factories of the south.

Here is one of the statements offered by Kenneth Moller, a textile expert in the employ of Lockwood, Greene & Co. of Boston. In the north today a certain class of cotton goods costs to manufacture 61 cents per pound. The same goods can be manufactured in the south for 52 cents per pound. The market price on these goods is 53 1/2 cents per pound. Cotton is high and the market is poor. A 100,000 spindle mill in Massachusetts manufacturing these goods would lose $275,000 a year. A southern mill on the same goods would earn $75,000 a year. The replacement cost of such a mill would be $6,000,000.

Such a statement as that is a serious detriment to New England. Even if it is true in a special case, it is not applicable to the general class of goods. Mr. Moller has not pointed out that the American Federation of Labor is already at work organizing the mill operatives of the south, nor has he mentioned the movement for a constitutional amendment that will prohibit child labor and help to equalize the hours of labor. This is the solution to be sought. It is what is demanded by the industrial progress of the time rather than a retrograde movement that would turn back the wheels of progress and relinquish the industrial reforms won after long years of struggle.

A DESPERATE REMEDY

One of the greatest problems hanging like a menacing cloud over old England today, is discussed passionately at some length almost daily in the British press. Many suggestions for relieving the crisis of unemployment, which is reaching the acute stage, have been offered. The situation is widely discussed in other channels of the British dominions. Prompt action on the part of the government is urged by most of the English daily newspapers, and the government's special committee appointed to consider the question is spending many hours in private debate, investigating diverse plans, but thus far no definite conclusion has been reached. The central labor executives and other labor organizations throughout the country maintain constant pressure on this special committee in speeches and resolutions. Their impatience is now said to be spurring the committee to hasten its inquiry, which up to the present time has been very tedious.

The Westminster Gazette, which professes to have a semi-government backing, declares that an influential commercial organization is about to press forward demands, calling for currency inflation as a desperate remedy for a desperate condition. The Gazette adds that the government special committee has already considered this plan, which has been presented to it by economists. Inflation in this instance means, it is said, an increase in the banking deposits accompanied by rising commodity prices, "but does not mean the creation of paper money."

It is difficult to see just how currency can be inflated in value without some "come-back" at the end of the fictitious increase of values. Germany's ride through the haze of artificial financial values has been about as spectacular as anything that has occurred in modern history. Inflating the values of British currency to provide temporary prosperity and a false business activity, will prove as unhealthy for Great Britain as it has for the conquered country of the Hun.

DAN O'LEARY'S CHALLENGE

Dan is certainly ambitious for his time. He is now 82 years old, but he challenges all comers regardless of age to walk 500 miles for a wager of $1000 to $5000. Dan is well known in Lowell as he was an advertiser for the O'Sullivan rubber boots some years ago, during which he made his headquarters here. He was then a frequent visitor at The Sun office. Dan's certainly ambitious for his years. He has, of course, lived the life of a professional athlete, nevertheless his excellent condition in old age proves that most of us allow ourselves to become prematurely old by not keeping our bodies in proper physical training. At 82, the average man dreams walking farther than the comet.

O'Leary's great-aunt, years ago, was walking 1000 miles in 1000 hours. Doctors had claimed that such a feat was impossible, that no human body could stand the strain. Dan did it because he had the "nothing is impossible" attitude. So have all people who accomplish great things. Our mental attitude toward an obstacle, when we fear it, is apt to hold us back more than the obstacle itself.

All told, Dan O'Leary has walked more than 125,000 miles in contests. And 25,000 of these miles have been covered since 1905 when he passed his sixty-seventh birthday. You will travel a long way to find a more interesting character or one furnishing more food for thought. Old age comes to all of us, nearly always sooner than it should. We cannot all be Dan O'Learys. But we can keep our bodies

NEW STREET SUGGESTED

Major Dunne recommends a new one-way street running south from East Merrimack street to Warren by building a bridge over the canal from East Merrimack street and using a passageway between the Strand theatre and the Middlesex mill. This would offer a means of egress from East Merrimack street without passing through the square and would thus help in reducing the congestion at that point. It would offer some relief for the frequent blockades in and around the square, but not a full or final solution. Moreover, it will be a quite expensive undertaking.

The time will come even though this street be opened, when another thoroughfare will be necessary from East Merrimack to Warren or Church street, and the sooner such a street be constructed, the less expensive it will be.

For many years there has been speculation regarding a public street formed by the extension of Palmer street to Jackson street or Middlesex street. This would be a very expensive proposition on account of the buildings through which the street would run.

Nearly everybody in the downtown district has some theory for the relief of congestion at the square so that in time, it is quite probable that a fairly satisfactory solution will be found.

THE BLUE SKY LAW AGAIN

Steps are being taken to modify the blue sky law so as to give the fullest possible protection of the federal government to investors and to meet the requirements of legitimate concerns dealing in securities. It is alleged that the matter is to be pressed in the early days of the incoming congress.

The most active proponents of the Dennison bill law, which failed to pass the last congress, have just ended a long series of important conferences with financial and other organizations which opposed the bill as first proposed. It is reported that they are now ready to give their full support to the new measure.

Anything that will strengthen the protective power of legally constituted authority over the land, will be welcomed by all good citizens who are amazed at the increasing number of "paper corporations" and the spread of wild-cat securities of the fake variety. Anything that will strengthen the law against fake securities so as to protect legitimate business and punish swindlers of every description will be welcomed by the people. In spite of every effort to stop such swindlers by blue sky laws, the number of paper corporations and wildcat securities of the fake variety are amazingly numerous.

As the first Dennison bill was drawn, the investment bankers' association of America opposed its passage on the ground that it would hinder legitimate business and interfere with the free financing of established industries, but in the new form it is expected they will welcome its passage.

HALLOWEEN

Tonight is Halloween, an occasion when there seems to be a sort of witchery in the air and when the young folks put on false faces and other disguises to scare their seniors and make merry in the various tricks and customs of the observance. It is a time when effrontery is brought to the fore, at least wherever the children abide and great is their joy thereat.

True it is, that many of the old customs are dying out as few young lovers are found trying to discover what the future holds in store for them by consulting the fairies after the prescribed formulae.

Scores of tricks with this end in view were formerly tried with reverent awe. Now, however, all are given up to gaffs; and boys and girls assume the roles of hobgoblins and carry their gleeful into the night. Let them have their fun, provided it does not lapse into mischief or injury to person or property. Such professions help to remove the gloom which makes life's path so dull and dreary.

THE MAYFIELD CASE

When congress assembled in December, the committee on elections will have to deal with a case of corruption somewhat resembling that of Newberry in Michigan. Senator Mayfield of Texas is charged with having secured election by the lavish use of money. It is further charged that in addition to the use of money the voters were intimidated by the Ku Klux Klan which controlled the election machinery in certain counties. Mayfield is a democrat and the trial of his case may bring the Klan into the open in his and their defense.

GET REGISTERED

Those who do not get registered by next Tuesday night will not be eligible to vote at the primaries. It is understood that many women interested in the coming election would like to vote. They should see the election commission to find whether their names are enrolled on the voting list.

Henry Ford says he will support President Coolidge if the latter comes out strong for enforcement of the liquor law. Now it is in order for the president to say he will support Henry, who is strong for enforcement of prohibition.

With so much smoke hovering about the Forbes charges, it would indeed be surprising if there was no fire.

SEEN AND HEARD

While riches do not bring us happiness they do bring us coal.

Everybody is willing to share in your winnings and nobody wants to share in your losses.

If you don't want to associate with your enemies in the next world, do what's right in this one.

In sentencing a man for stealing a ham, a judge at Wadesboro, N. C., incorporated into the record that the prisoner should not be allowed to eat any ham for a period of 80 days.

Lover of Birds

Evidently a lover of birds, Councilman Sig Gans of Philadelphia introduced an ordinance naming seven proposed new streets in Manayunk after birds. The streets which will be placed on the city plan are Flamingo, Oriole, Meadowlark, Martin, Nightingale, Albemarle and Bobolink.

Just the Thing

At the back door a large and healthy looking individual had asked for "a little something to eat" and had been told that he might have it if he would work a while at the windmill. He shook his head mournfully, "I've got the cure," he explained, "and my hand is so sticky that I couldn't hit more'n one stick in seven." "All right!" exclaimed the mistress of the house, "then you might try your hand beating this carpet."—Wayside Tales.

And That's Our

The sheriff started to unpannel the jury, but Zeke Jones, though new in courtroom work, had his own ideas. He rose and declared confidently that under no circumstances would he consent to serve. "Mr. Jones," inquired the sheriff, "why is it that you object so strongly to being unpannelled on this jury?" "Well," explained Zeke, "I may not have much education, but I got an inkling what this here word 'unpannel' means, and I'm here to tell you right now that I ain't goin' to serve on no jury that's goin' to be framed in any way, shape or manner."—American Legion Weekly.

A Real Dumb-Bell

"Speaking of dumb bells," said a recently returned traveler from the nation's capital, "there was one that picked me out to be her sheik in a diplomatic dinner. Cleopatra had dressed like her the night we got that snake to sing her to death—she'd have died of pneumonia first. And she thought the Lincoln family was Jewish because they named their son Abe."

Touch Jokes

Senator La Follette was holding a hearing at Washington the other day to learn if possible why the farmers had to pay so much for gasoline. He seemed to be in fine fettle and uttered a lot of facetious little asides as the testimony came out. After one he considered particularly good he turned to the stenographer and said: "Of course, you did not put those little jokes of mine in the record?" "That, senator," inquired the stenographer, "how am I to know which the jokes are?"

Speed Explained

"Hang it, boy," exclaimed the tenderfoot from the east as the bellboy for a Texas hotel came bounding in on him without knocking, "haven't you got any manners about you?" "Didn't you ring?" asked the boy. "Of course I rang," "Didn't you ring three times?" "It may have been three, as I was in a hurry for ice water, but that doesn't excuse you for bursting in like this." "Beg pardon," replied the boy, as he backed out, "but you ought to read the bell card. It's one ring for the porter, two for the bellboy and three for a guest and when a guest rings for a girl in this hotel she comes and gets it to him before the other fellow can hear his pardon."

A Moral Man

A moral man was Andrew King. As pure as you could find; He would not let the slightest thing contaminate his mind.

At dinner when you asked for "bread," "These stop it," he would beg. His chair and table cloth were dressed With trousers on each leg.

What vulgar folk might call an "arm," A member of his high society said, "A leg would do him with alarm; He epohs of it as 'limb.'"

At salad he was always shocked Without some dressing there; He always kept his cupboard stocked— He blushed to see it bare.

His spectacles had lenses blue; He said, "I'd almost die If ever I should have to view Things with a naked eye."

To watch folks swimming in the sea Would fill his soul with wrath; It hurt his sense of modesty, and he would not let them take a bath.

Once in a store he chanced to see Some gloves marked, "Undressed kid." "This shoe will kill me, sure," said he.

And sure enough, it did. —NEWMAN LEVY in Life.

WE WONDER

We've sold a lot of those Ever Ready and Gem Safety Razors at the special price of 69c, but honestly we thought they'd all be gone long ago.

True, 864 razors in two weeks would have been some business, yet the value is so unusual that we wonder if they have been displayed to the best advantage. So yesterday we made a complete change in our window display and are looking forward to pleasant results.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The bootleggers have been making so much money that they now can afford to employ agents whose sole duty is to keep track of the federal prohibition agents, to hang around the courts where liquor cases are being tried and to keep close watch on the federal office in Boston. Their duty is to get descriptions of the agents, and to keep a sharp lookout for any new agents. Last Monday when several liquor cases were brought before U. S. Commissioner Walsh at the Gorham street court house a stranger who entered the building was overheard to remark that he came "just to get a peek" at the Sullivan. And when someone told Federal Agent Sullivan of this, he merely smiled, and said: "Why they're doing that all the time, sending spotters into the courts to get a line on us. But still we fool them. Why, Agent Hall and myself have hung out and purchased liquor from men who purport to come into a courtroom one day to get a line on us. In the courtroom they see us all dolled up with white collars, but if we make a change in clothing they're lost. Only the other day Agent Hall and myself went into a saloon in Lawrence and asked for a drink of liquor, and it was served us. I engaged the clerk in conversation and asked him if the officers ever bothered him, and he replied in the negative. Then when I asked him if Sullivan, the federal agent, ever visited the place, his reply was something like this: 'No, I know, Sully well. He couldn't come here and get away with anything. Why I met him at one of the beaches and he's a regular guy. Sully's wise enough not to come in here and ask for liquor because he knows I know him too well, and he couldn't get away with it.' This line of talk went along for several minutes, then when I told the fellow that I was a federal officer, that he was under arrest for violation of the liquor law, his face dropped. And when I convinced him that I was the Sullivan, he knew so well, the fellow was dumfounded."

The local branch of the Disabled Veterans of the World War has received the following, to be used in connection with the annual Forget-A-Minute day, which is to be annually observed on Nov. 10. The objects of the organization: To assist all wounded or disabled American veterans of the world war, regardless of their affiliation or non-affiliation with veterans' organizations. To help national legislation, better hospitalization facilities, equitable rehabilitation, definite employment programs upon completion of vocational training, and handling of claims for all disabled men. Through maintenance of national headquarters at Cincinnati, Ohio; national legislative committee at Washington, D. C. and functioning agencies in every district in which they are distributed throughout the United States. The Disabled American Veterans of the World War serves many hundreds of thousands of disabled and wounded veterans in every possible manner, protects their interests and secures legislative and administrative action for them. The national organization, through its information and investigation service, endeavors to protect the public from fraudulent solicitation for money in the name of the disabled veteran and soundly saves the American people many thousands of dollars that would otherwise be obtained by swindlers, who would use the name of the disabled man for private exploitation. The Disabled American Veterans of the World War assist the disabled men to establish clubhouses, quarters, summer camps and such other recreational and welfare projects as they are rightfully entitled, through their willing sacrifice of health in the loyal service of their country.

Harry Cole of Cole's Inn was called upon by the management of the Stetson Hotel to furnish that organization with its meals while in this city. Harry was glad to get the contract and immediately hired the dining room of the Richardson hotel, which is not being used at the present time, as it is located near the railroad station and handy for the choristers. Among the specifications in the contract were the following: Apples must be served at two meals at least; an Italian chef must supervise the cooking; and four meals must be served, one in the morning, lunch at noon, light luncheon at 4 o'clock, and a course dinner shortly after 10 o'clock. Harry secured an Italian chef from Boston and everything is ready as required.

Chief Atkinson has issued his annual warning concerning Halloween rowdiness and youngsters will do well to take things easy tonight. Parents, too, can aid in decreasing law violations by cautioning their children against misdemeanors.

It is stated on good authority that President John J. Mahoney of the C.Y.M.L. is one of the most energetic members of this popular organization to occupy the chief executive's chair in years. This is saying a great deal when one takes into consideration the long list of efficient officers that have brought honor to the Lyceum in the past. Since assuming his official duties, President Mahoney has been constantly on the jump and doing everything in his power to make the organization bigger and better than ever before. With such a man at the helm, it is safe to predict that the future of the well-known Acre institution is assured.

The other day one of our big advertisers was anxious to get in a special announcement for a Saturday sale. He was late in getting in his copy and our columns were already filled. But when told that it was a physical impossibility to handle his advertising at that late hour, he said he realized he was late, but he begged to get it in, saying it meant so much to him. "I know," he said, "it doesn't amount to much to you in dollars and cents, but to our store it would mean the loss of several hundred dollars if you leave it out." Advertisers who use The Sun regularly appreciate its value as an advertising medium.

John Quigley, the former newsboy, says that no attraction at the Auditorium should cost three dollars. The managers will make more if the prices are scaled down within reach of the people, say from 50 cents to a dollar and up to two dollars. That, I believe, is high enough for Lowell. John Steel, who sings here next Sunday, sings every night of the week in the Music Box Theatre, New York city, where the prices are four dollars, but here in Lowell he would not think of asking even two dollars, feeling that it is better to have a large audience at a moderate price than a small audience at a high price.

A BOOST

It's quite the proper thing of late To knock, belabor and berate Our country for its backward state In ways artistic. To say that dollars are our goal And all we think of is "a roll," And that our people have a soul Commercialistic.

I'm fed up on that sort of stuff. We like the sheekles well enough; And so, in spite of all their bluff, No other nations. But for the poet's singing line, For music, painting and design We, too, possess some very fine Appreciations.

Commercial? That we can't deny. And that, undoubtedly, is why These uncommercial peoples vie To lap our coffee; And artists, singers, actors, come From everywhere in Christendom Because we'll pay the largest sum For what they offer!

I'm sick of supercilious cliques, Who with the masses never mix, And yet who will presume to fix Our state artistic. (Get down beneath the surface, find The soul of us, the heart and mind, You've got a bunch, fair, generous, kind, Idealistic!

So though to knock is quite the style, I choose to wave the flag awhile! (Copyright, 1923, The Lowell Sun)

Green Representatives Have Had Wide Experience in Dedicating Stadium—First Venture Came in 1903 When it Sent Mighty Eleven to Cambridge and Came Away With an 11 to 0 Victory

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A Dartmouth football eleven will act as a new part on Saturday afternoon when the Green and Red eleven meet in the annual grid battle at Hanover, N. H. The game is to dedicate the new Memorial Stadium at Hanover, N. H., and Dartmouth, after an unusually wide experience in dedicating stadiums, finds itself for the first time as the defending college.

The Green's first venture in stadium dedicating, came in 1903, when it sent a mighty eleven to Cambridge to play the opening game at the Harvard stadium and came away with it a victory.

Dartmouth served in the same capacity when the Palmer Memorial stadium was dedicated at Princeton and just before the war, Dartmouth was called to Haverhill, Mass., where it met Georgetown in the dedicatory game at Herhill's municipal stadium.

The Green's most recent venture in opening cement-walled football fields took place out on the Pacific coast, and established a record that never before has been approached. On the last Saturday in November 1922, Dartmouth played and defeated Brown University at Braves Field, Boston, and exactly one week later, the self-same Dartmouth eleven soundly trounced University of Washington in a game which dedicated the University of Washington stadium, thereby winning a game on either coast in the space of eight days.

Whether Dartmouth will be so successful in dedicating its own stadium remains for the future to disclose.

The tactical schemes to be employed by Dartmouth and Cornell is of much concern to football students. Heretofore, Coach Dobbie of Cornell has relied much upon his celebrated offensive sweep in which he swings line-men into a hostile rank of interference for the runner. This season, Dobbie has employed that play but has added to the Cornell attack some excellent forward passing and Dartmouth's problem of checking the line-man has become somewhat more complicated than was generally expected.

JOE WAGNER IN TOWN BIG FOOTBALL BATTLE

Boxing Manager Here With His Wife Who is Playing at Local Theatre

Joe Wagner, manager of Jack Sharkey, Harry Gordon and other prominent boxers, and himself a great fighter in days gone by, is in Lowell this week, and while here hopes to land some matches.

Wagner came to Lowell with his wife, Marie, and a young son, who is playing at the local theatre every afternoon and evening.

Wagner when in the ring was one of the greatest fighters of his class. He fought at Delmont a half dozen or more times. He also met Jimmy Coulton, and in fact all the other notable pugilists of his time. He was the champion of the world in 1910, and was the middleweight champion and often worked out with that famous battler. Being a remarkably clever fellow, and a terrific hitter for his weight, he was a popular wherever he performed and had little difficulty in keeping busy.

When he retired from the ring he was sought by many boxers and he took Jack Sharkey from obscurity and piloted him up the ladder of fame until he fought his way into a match with Jimmy Wilde, when the latter, by a terrific knock-out, sent him to the hospital. After this, Sharkey met Wilde shortly after the latter landed here and created a pugilistic sensation when he won the decision in a slashing 15-round battle. The fight made Sharkey and from that time on until the present he has been adding to his fame and fortune. Wagner brought Sharkey to Lowell a few years ago and the conqueror of Wilde had little difficulty in disposing of his opponent in one round.

In Harry Gordon Wagner believes he has the coming heavyweight champion. Only recently Gordon fished into fame when he easily defeated the widely heralded Carl Tremeau in a ten-round fight.

Gordon is a born and bred Philadelphian, winning the amateur bantam-weight championship there in 1918 after which he fought a few preliminary bouts around only to become disgusted at his failure to climb higher.

He enlisted in the U. S. navy and served three years. During his service he won the bantam-weight championship of his division several times, rapping it with winning the fleet championship in New York in 1922.

Following his discharge from the navy, Gordon took up his residence in New York and after placing himself under the management of Wagner, rapidly developed into a star bantam-weight.

His duty at first was playing the substitute role when other fighters failed to appear or were ill. His first chance came when he entered for "Tough Jimmy" Thorne against Frankie Johnson, one of the best bantam-weight fighters in the game. Jerome won the decision, but Gordon was "made." He next went on for Sammy Nibbel and easily won, and then he defeated the latter.

A short while later Gordon went on against Danny Edwards, the heavy-weight bantam-weight champion, and took the place of Jack Sharkey, and Gordon landed the first by knocking Edwards out in the first round.

Since then, Gordon has had several good fights. He is after fame, but if he can't get the champion, wants to take on Bobby Wolgas at 116 pounds.

FRISCH, BASEBALL'S GREATEST STAR

MR. FRISCH, HIMSELF, BATTING, FIELDING AND "LOOKING PRETTY"

BY BILLY EVANS
With Ty Cobb having passed the peak of his career and the future of George Sisler uncertain, Frankie Frisch of the New York Giants looms up as baseball's greatest all-round star. For years Ty Cobb has reigned supreme in baseball. Experts named him as the greatest player of all time. A few years back Father Time started to get in his work and Ty's great leg began to slip a little. That was to be expected. Cobb, despite his greatness, is only human and couldn't go on forever.

Enter George Sisler as the logical successor for Cobb's crown. The great first sacker of the St. Louis Browns had earned the right to the title of the game's greatest star, when an affliction of the eye cut short his career. Sisler did not play a single game last season. His career as a player is still shrouded in uncertainty.

Frisk is a Marvel
With the veteran Cobb out of the running, and Sisler in doubt, the honor of being rated the game's greatest all-round player must be passed to Frisch.

The work of Frankie Frisch in the 1923 series between the Yankees and the Giants was nothing short of remarkable. He started in the field and at the bat. He made a dozen seemingly impossible plays in the field, and at the bat was a constant source of annoyance to the Yankee pitchers.

Frisk is a natural batsman. He is a shift hitter. In terms of baseball, he means his bats either from the right or left side of the plate. Frisk prefers to bat left handed and always does so when a right handed pitcher opposes the Giants. Against southpaws he shifts to the right side of the plate.

Real Speed Merchant
It is impossible for the opposition to play for Frisk. He is a place hitter, driving the balls to all fields according to the style of the pitch and the position of the opposing outfield. His style is far more graceful, as a left hander than right. Batting right-handed he assumes a rather peculiar crouch position.

unquestionably Frisch is the fastest man in the National League. It is not his speed alone that makes him so valuable. He is a mighty fast ball to elude his grasp.

Since the very first time I saw Frisk in action I marveled at his all-round ability. After watching him for six games in the recent world series, I am convinced that he is the greatest all-round performer in the game. He doesn't seem to have a single weakness.

Players of the Cobb, Sisler and Frisk type are a decided rarity.

A Trio of Navy Stalwarts

MATHEWS

THIS is a Navy year. You judge so by reports, optimistic and encouraging, which emanate from the Annapolis campus. Last year the Navy lost a heart-breaking game to its traditional rival, the Army, when Smythe, quarterback, in the closing moments, punted a punt to the favored line.

McKEE

and followed with a forward pass that ended the game. This year the Navy is said to be stronger in several important respects and in Mathews, center; McKee, quarterback; and Barchet, full-back, Coach Rob Folwell has three bright gridiron stars.

BARCHET

Infielder Bottomley of St. Louis, first baseman Hornsby of St. Louis, second baseman of New York, shortstop, and Treasurer of Pittsburgh, third base.

Some of the umpires figured Frisk to be a better player than the other two. The umpires for 11 games saw the athletes labor under all kinds of conditions, thereby getting a different angle than the series who were only a limited number of games by each team.

During a recent training bee in New York, in which a number of the National League staff took part, it was agreed that the following all star team from the National League would be sent to bat:

THE HUNTING SEASON OPENS—FOR MOTHER

INTERESTING STORY OF TRIP TO CANADA

The Educational club listened to an interesting talk at the Y.W.C.A. building yesterday, by Mrs. Wallace Butterfield of Tyngsboro, who described a recent trip taken to the province of Alberta, in Canada.

Preceding the meeting a short business session was held at which routine business was transacted. Mrs. Elizabeth Logan presided, and the secretary's report was read by Mrs. Walter Jes-

In her talk, Mrs. Butterfield, described at some length the natural beauties which abound in Canada. With the serene lakes, rugged mountains and unlimited stretches of virgin forest. Some of the cities are very young and yet in point of the convenience of modern life, they are up-to-date in all respects with light, water, etc. In one of the Canadian cities she visited, the approach to the town had been beautified by the planting of popples alongside the railroad tracks for a mile on either side of the station. The roads are still in a rather precarious condition in the more mountainous sections of the country and it is with difficulty that an automobile can negotiate them.

The industrial and mining sections of the country were vividly described by Mrs. Butterfield in the course of her talk, and also the remnants of Indian life which still appears once a year in the region of Regina. Formerly headquarters of the Royal Northwest Mounted police, where there is a sundance ceremonial held more for the edification of tourists than any other reason, by what remains of the first inhabitants.

In conclusion she stated that although she saw many beautiful spots in her trip she saw none that could excel Lowell and vicinity.

REAR ADMIRAL U. S. N. THANKS THE SUN

The following letter of appreciation from Rear Admiral De Ristgier, U.S.N., Navy Yard, Boston, is self explanatory: District Staff Headquarters, First Naval District, Navy Yard, Boston.

October 30, 1923.

Editor Sun, Dear Sir:

Allow me to express my interest in and appreciation of the editorials and news articles and pictures published in the Lowell Sun on Navy day activities, which appear to have been particularly successful in Lowell.

It is greatly encouraging to Navy personnel to know that the press is so generally favorable to the Treaty Navy and to the maintenance of an efficient Navy.

Lowell is to be congratulated on her observance of Navy Day.

Sincerely yours,
L. R. DE RISTGIER,
Rear Admiral, U.S.N.

PARISH SUPPER AT ALL SOULS' CHURCH

The monthly parish supper of All Souls' church was held last evening in the parish house adjoining the church, followed by an entertainment program of music and games arranged by the entertainment committee, Miss Edith Erskine, chairman. The singing was led by Edward H. Brigham, who is the possessor of an unusually charming tenor voice, and at the conclusion Halloween stunts and games were taken part in by the whole parish. The program was concluded with dancing, with the church orchestra furnishing the music for the various steps.

The supper committee, headed by Mrs. Harry Boardman, provided a meal for about 200 parishioners in the banquet hall, and then all repaired to the assembly hall upstairs for the rest of the program.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 20

"Oh," shouted Jack, "I think it is terrible for the king to shoot all those animals." "Well," replied Jingo, "if you feel so bad about it, just play a little tune on this magic flute." And he handed Jack a long black flute. The little adventurer immediately started to play.

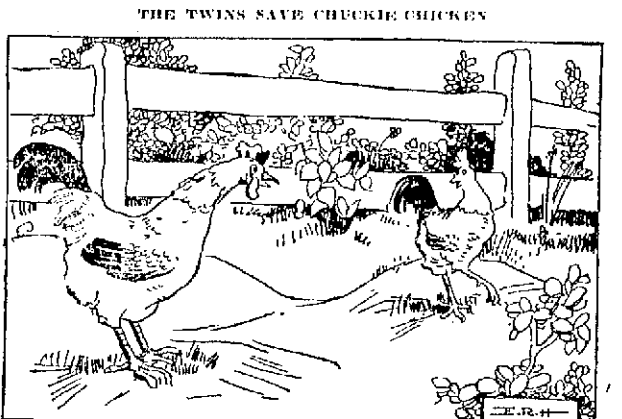

You can imagine his surprise when Jack had played but a few moments and then saw that there was a great scramble on the flat cart on which all the king's animals and birds had been brought in. All of the bears, deer, rabbits and birds were coming to life.

Jack was so startled that he stopped playing. "That's all right," shouted Jingo. "You have played just long enough. That flute makes everything come back to life." And sure enough, by this time, the deer and bears were racing to get out of the gates. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"JUST LIKES TO PREACH SO HE DOES," HE SNIFFED. Chuckie Chicken had grown up—in his own estimation! That means that he thought, like many other young people, that he knew more than his elders.

When Mr. Cockadoodle Rooster told him that the big brown bird circling around so gracefully in the sky right over Squeaky-Moo Land was a chicken-hawk, waiting for a chance to pounce down and carry off a nice fat young chicken for his dinner—Chuckie just went on picking up bugs with his beak as though he didn't hear him at all.

"Just likes to preach so he does!" he sniffed when Mister Rooster had gone. "As though I didn't know how to take care of myself!"

"What's that you're muttering about?" asked a voice right beside him.

Chuckie jumped as though he'd heard a gun. "Wh—who is it?" he gasped.

Mister Dodger, the good fairy of Squeaky-Moo Land, laughed.

"Just telling my friends, Mister and Nick here, that you weren't really as brave as you pretended to be," said he. "And you aren't either, or you wouldn't have jumped so just now. I heard what Mister Rooster said to you and if you're a wise fellow you'll take his advice and not wander away so far all by yourself."

AMENDMENTS TO RULES ADOPTED BY SCHOOL BOARD—THREE MEMBERS OPPOSED

Despite the opposition of three members of the school committee, the mayor, Mr. Riley and Mrs. Pearson, the school committee at its regular meeting last night adopted the three remaining amendments to the rules that were laid on the table at a previous meeting. As one of the three amendments acted upon was the one headed, "Selection and Duties of the Secretary," Supt. Hugh J. Molloy of the school department asked permission to address the meeting and, after receiving permission from the chair and regardless of numberless calls of "question" from members, gave a short talk in which he stated that the reason for this amendment was well known to him and that it was due to the fact that at one time he was out of his hands and had never been able to recover them, although he had made many requests for their return. Mr. Molloy was interrupted several times by Mr. Delaney, but was allowed to continue by the mayor.

The committee also voted to grant kindergarten principals an increase of $100 per year over their present pay, the same to go into effect next January.

The meeting was called to order at 8:35 o'clock with all members present. The committee voted to place the name of Patrick Wynn on the regular list of high school teachers as he has completed the probationary term. It also voted to put the name of Theodore Towner, janitor of the Morrill school, on the six month schedule of pay because of an increase in his duties.

The committee instructed Headmaster Henry H. Harris to provide transportation for the football squad to and from Alameda field by regular electric car at a cost of 15 cents per fare. On the question of medical attendance at the field, Mr. Molloy stated that two school doctors had said such attendance was not necessary.

The girl scouts were granted permission to use a room in the Butler school for meeting purposes.

It was voted to close the schools on Dec. 12 so that the Teachers' organization might hold their annual institute at the State Normal school on that day.

On recommendation of Dr. Finnegan, director of school hygiene, it was voted unanimously to give permission for 35 students to attend open-air classes at the Pawtucket school.

Dana Palmer was granted a first grade certificate by unanimous vote.

Election of Miss Ryan
The resignation of Mrs. Bertha C. Huse, piano player for the physical education classes at the high school, was read and accepted. Mr. Molloy then recommended that Miss Marion Ryan be named a teacher as assistant in both physical and music education.

Mr. Delaney was on his feet before the superintendent had completed his recommendation and said he would vote for Miss Ryan as a music teacher, but that was not a political stunt. He further added that it seemed strange that one week the committee was told that there were enough physical education teachers and the next week the superintendent brought forth another recommendation for this work.

Mr. Molloy stated that he had made the recommendation after talking with the approval of the position. A motion to elect a teacher as assistant in the music and physical education departments was carried. Dr. Slaughter and Mr. Delaney voting no. On roll call Miss Ryan was unanimously elected to this position.

New High School
Mr. Molloy reported that the chairman of the high school commission had told him that the commission was not ready to turn the school over to the department as yet and could not say when it would be turning over of the school is holding up some telephone and wood work, the committee instructed the business agent to get permission from the commission to go ahead with this work.

Mr. Molloy read a report by William Thornton of the number of boys and girls of school age. He also reported that of 15 found of age to attend school and not attending, 17 had since been registered and two were unfit to attend school.

An offer from Mr. Luttringer, manager of the Lowell Opera House, that his theatre conduct a benefit night for the high school athletic fund, was declined with thanks.

It was voted on recommendation of Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school that the public service board be asked to complete the smooth paving of Kirk street.

Miss Julia M. Sullivan was elected clerk in the Evening Vocational school. Miss Mary E. Dine receiving the votes of Mr. Mullin and Mrs. Pearson, and Miss Sullivan all others.

Amendments to Rules
Mr. Bruin moved that the committee consider the proposed amendments to the rules.

The mayor objected and said if he had expected to stay all night he would have made preparations.

The motion was carried. Mr. Riley, Mrs. Pearson and the mayor voted against it.

The mayor then said, "Why don't we three go home? Why should we stay here? The thing's all out and dried."

Mr. Bruin then moved the adoption of section 4, chapter 1, "Four members shall constitute a quorum to transact business and a majority of those present and voting shall be sufficient to pass any vote, order or resolution; motions need not be seconded."

Mr. Riley moved that he be amended to read that five members constitute a quorum.

Mr. Bruin then moved the adoption of the amended chapter 2, the amendment reading as follows: "The committee shall elect a secretary by a majority vote of the entire committee, who shall serve at the discretion of the committee, and who shall give notice of all meetings in writing to each member of the committee, such notice to be given so as to be received at the residence or place of business of such member 24 hours, at least, before the time of the meeting. Section 2—The secretary transmit the orders and rulings of the committee to the persons affected thereby and furnish the members with a typewritten copy of the proceedings of every meeting within ten days after it is held. Section 3—The secretary as such shall confine himself to the keeping of the records and minutes during each meeting and such further duties as the committee shall direct and shall upon request furnish any member of the committee with any information pertaining to the department which such member may desire, and shall read at the meeting following its receipt all correspondence pertaining to the school department."

Mr. Riley moved that the matter be laid on the table as in his mind there was a question of legal difficulty if it be passed, and requested that the city solicitor be asked for an opinion.

Supt. Molloy then asked for and was granted permission to speak. Before he started Mr. Bruin stated that the superintendent was entitled to the custody of the records, but not necessarily his possession at all times.

Supt. Molloy then asked for and was granted permission to speak. Before he started Mr. Bruin stated that the superintendent was entitled to the custody of the records, but not necessarily his possession at all times.

Mr. Molloy's Statement
Mr. Molloy said: "I don't think that the superintendent should be forced to spend money to provide protection for himself in the courts. I don't know the difference between custody and possession of the records. The superintendent knows and is confident that he knows why this movement has been entered into to change his duties as secretary of the school committee. (Mr. Delaney strenuously objected, but was overruled by the mayor.) The superintendent of schools allowed to go out of his custody certain papers which belong to the school department and which the school committee gave him custody of, and that they have never been returned, although the superintendent has returned, and they have returned on several occasions. The superintendent has good reasons for believing that someone else will have charge of the records. (Mr. Delaney again objected and was again overruled.) The superintendent has simply said that the rules of the department give him custody of the records, which he never had returned, and he has tried repeatedly to regain possession of them. I think that the school committee should go on record that there is no question of the probability of the superintendent in keeping the records. I also say that I am able to prove and prove positively that the superintendent of schools lost from his possession of school records and that these records have been kept in the possession of the person who took them from his possession."

Mr. Bruin's Statement
Mr. Bruin stated that he did not know what the superintendent was talking about. The superintendent told him to inquire and he would be told.

Mr. Bruin stated that his reasons for favoring this amendment was that the superintendent had continually butted in to meetings and had caused endless wranglings, and favored the amendment to the rules that the superintendent should be removed from the school committee. He wanted the amendment to stand as a warning to the superintendent or whoever might be elected secretary that the committee could, at any time, elect another secretary.

The amendment was accepted with the same vote as on the first amendment. Mr. Bruin then moved the adoption of the amended chapter 2, the amendment reading as follows: "The committee shall elect a secretary by a majority vote of the entire committee, who shall serve at the discretion of the committee, and who shall give notice of all meetings in writing to each member of the committee, such notice to be given so as to be received at the residence or place of business of such member 24 hours, at least, before the time of the meeting. THE OLD HOME TOWN teacher and does not desire substitute work. The motion was lost. Mr. Mullin, Mrs. Pearson, Mr. Riley and Mayor Donohue voting no.

Miss Harrigan was then elected a permanent substitute.

Mr. Delaney moved that Miss Margaret Enright be named a permanent substitute also but after Mr. Molloy objected to the committee taking from his hands the naming of such teacher, he changed his motion to read that the superintendent compile a list of emergency substitutes that may be called upon. The superintendent agreed to do this without a vote.

Other Business
Mr. Pearson moved that the track season of the high school be extended from Jan. 15 to March 1 to Jan. 1 to March 1, and that outdoor track practice be continued until the close of the school with the present coach, Mr. Haggerty, in charge. This was unanimously accepted.

Mr. Mullin moved that as Mr. Haggerty would be employed next year that his pay be decided upon by next year's committee. Later, learning that Mr. Haggerty would have to work during the month of December, he moved that he be paid $500 for his entire duties. This was also unanimously accepted.

Dr. Slaughter then moved the matter of an increase of pay for primary principals. After a discussion he substituted a motion granting an increase of $100 and this was accepted to go into effect Jan. 1.

Mr. Delaney then brought up the matter of a no-school signal, money for which was appropriated long ago. Mr. Molloy stated that he approved of the no school rule, but he was beginning to lose faith in it because he is expected by many to ring the no-school signal whenever it suits him. He suggested that the committee either abolish the no-school signal or have a signal that can be heard all over the city so that the fire department and he would not have to answer calls for information concerning the ringing of the bells.

Mr. Delaney then moved that the business agent investigate the price of an electric whistle. This was accepted by the committee.

Several other minor matters were talked over but no action was taken. The meeting adjourned at midnight.

BITTEN BY DOG
It has been reported to the board of health that Fred Lawton, 131 Fletcher street, was bitten by a dog owned by a Mr. Fitzgerald, 12 Willie street. Dr. Sherman will investigate.

At 5 o'clock Monday afternoon at the rectory of St. Patrick's church, Mr. John P. Quinn, popular employer of the Lowell sun, and Miss Hazel McQuade, well known employee of the C. F. Hatch Co., were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. Thomas J. McDonough. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin trimmed with sequins. Her veil, which was of tulle, was caught up with a band of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Miss Mary Corby, the bridesmaid, wore a gown of blue and green tulle with picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses. Mr. Joseph Quinn, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 30 Phillips street. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a string of pearls, while the best man received a pair of green cuff links from the bridegroom. Music at the reception was furnished by the Puntney's orchestra. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary and Mrs. Charles Wood of Brockton and Mr. Charles Wood of New York City. Charles Wood, of New York City, was present at the reception as guests from Providence, R. I., New York City, Lawrence, Haverhill and Brockton. Mr. and Mrs. Quinn will be at home to friends at 26 Phillips street after Nov. 15.
